CERTAIN CURE. CERTAIN CURE.
—FOR—
RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.
GARDINER'S
RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA
COMPOUND
Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.
TESTIMONIALS.
Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." DAVID BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.
I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl st. House, Boston, Mass.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. RODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., treated me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex Member of Congress from Maine.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1861.

THE REBELLION.—The reported battle in Western Virginia is now stated to have been a mere skirmish, in which only one wing of an Ohio regiment was engaged on on our side, suffering a loss of not more than a dozen or fifteen men.

In Missouri the Confederates are reported to have fallen back from some of the positions heretofore held, but no change of much importance has taken place. The specie belonging to the State Bank at Fayette, amounting to $100,000, which the cashier attempted to send to St. Louis for safe keeping, was seized by a band of secessionists.

Official dispatches from the East Indies, state, orders have been received for the immediate return of our squadron. One ship will be left there, and one also on the coast of Africa and of Brazil.

Flag officer Inman has communicated from the African squadron that the rebels have been sending circulars to Naval officers of Southern birth, holding out inducements to leave the Federal service and join that of the rebels with equal rank.

Private parties have been exhibiting to prominent officials and offering to supply the army with Prussian needle guns.

The brave Capt. Meagher made a thrilling speech to the patriotic Irish people who congregated in Jones's Woods, New York, on Thursday.

The Commissioners from Gov. Magoffin have returned from Washington and have delivered sealed packages to the Governor. It is understood that the President is willing to act in acco dance with the wishes of the Legislature just chosen from the people.

Ex Minister Preston, addressing a picnic at Lexington, Ky., said he wanted peace and neutrality for Kentucky, but he did not believe she would preserve either, and if not, the sooner she went with the South the better.

The Charleston Courier calls earnest attention to the necessity of obtaining supplies of sulphur; otherwise the powder mills of the South will be without the article.

No passes will be issued by the State De partment to pass into the rebel States.

☞ A great wholesale paint store, in State street, Boston, kept by Banker & Carpenter, was destroyed by fire on Friday afternoon; loss $100,000. Insurance about $85,000.

The theory of those who were in the building is that a piece of paper was blown through a gas-light and into spirits or some other combustible material, there being quite a strong draft of air through at the time.

The flames instantly spread to all parts of the cellar, and communicated to the other stores so rapidly that the inmates had barely time to escape with their lives. Some of them run without hats or coats. The engineer, who was in the basement, was enabled to get out only by removing the grating from the sidewalk in Doane street, his exit by the stairs being cut off. Mr. Carpenter had his hands cut slightly by broken glass, while escaping.

The oils, gums and varnishes, made a fire so intense that the engines seemed powerless to quench it.

The proprietors opened a new store Saturday morning, and advertised the same.

☞ Soon after daylight, Friday morning, a hat and cane were discovered on Arch Wharf, Boston. A paper in the hat showed that the articles belonged to Capt. Thomas Brewer, an old ship master of Robbinston, Me. In his hat was a touching letter addressed to his family, in which he stated that he had been unsuccessful in procuring business in Boston, and that he thought he had lived long enough. He said all his old friends there were dead or removed to other sections of the country, and there was nobody to assist him to business. Capt. Brewer was a man of good standing and respectable connections.

☞ 50,000 pounds of tobacco, valued at from $12,000 to $15,000, were seized in several different commission houses in Boston, on Wednesday, as the property of James Thomas, Jr., of Richmond, Va.—Thomas has sent large quantities of tobacco, since the blockade, by way of Nashville and Louisville, which fact was ascertained from papers found on the person of a prisoner now at Fort Lafayette.

There is no such thing as peace until rebellion is crushed out by government, or government is crushed out by rebellion!—Nashua Telegraph.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The day of departure of the Third regiment for the war has been finally fixed for Tuesday, Sept. 3, when they will depart via Nashua, Worcester and New York. The Statesman says, the reason for postponement of departure is the fact that Gen. Sherman was expected to visit Concord Saturday, and inspect the regiment.

—— The Fifth N. H. Regiment is to be Light Infantry, armed, uniformed and equipped precisely like the Regular Army. The equipment is to be of the most appropriate character and quality. The drill will be chiefly by bugle call. Captains will recruit their own companies, in order that men may know with whom they are to serve. At the same time officers may enlist a man for any company he desires, which is not full. It is intended to get a company from each county. The Lieut. Colonel and Major have not yet been selected. It is intended to appoint men of military experience to these positions, and for company officers. The regiment will encamp in Concord.

—— Hon. E. H. Rollins and C. E. Twombly, Esq., of Concord, were at the Massachusetts State House, Friday, and called on the Governor, Adjutant General, Master of Ordnance, Quartermaster General, &c., with a view to acquiring such information in regard to the method of conducting the business there, as will assist the New Hampshire officers in the establishment of a better system of management in those important departments in their State. They were sent by the Governor and Council.

—— A son of Lafayette Sleeper, of Hooksett, about 8 or 10 years of age, while riding upon the cars at that station, on Wednesday, was thrown off by the train suddenly starting. The station agent succeeded in pulling him from under the cars in season to prevent any further harm than the crushing of his foot, which was passed over by two cars.

On Sunday Aug. 25, President Lincoln, accompanied by Secretaries Seward and Welles, attended Divine service at the camp of the New Hampshire Second Regiment.

Freeman Conner, of Exeter, is captain of a company of Albany, (N. Y.) volunteers.

——The Canterbury Society of Shakers are building machinery for a laundry in Havanna.

——The Lieut. Colonel, commanding the Second New Hampshire Regiment, states that application for the discharge of minors from the regiment should not be made to him, but to the Adjutant General of the United States or the Secretary of War.

——They put too much chiccory into the coffee at Camp Berry, Concord, the other day, and this "with other adulterations" produced sickness and occasioned a general alarm among the men that sixty of the volunteers were poisoned.

THE GUNBOAT R. B. FORBES, which left Boston on Monday last week, bound for the Potomac, ran aground on a shoal off Monomony Point on Monday night, the weather being clear and pleasant. A correspondent of the Yarmouth Register says:

"Reliable men who boarded the gunboat were not surprised to find her ashore, when they ascertained the state of things on board. The captain and most of the officers, except the chief engineer, seemed to be so much under the influence of liquor as to be unfit for duty. The captain supposed himself aground on the South Shoals, and that a hillock on the beach was a ship. He was off Highland Light about noon, and intended to pass out by the South Shoals, bound for the Potomac. According to his own statement, he gave the officer of the deck a course to steer, which any sane man would know would put him ashore. He gave the course as he went below for the night, and left orders to be called at ten o'clock the next day. He accepted the services of the crew of the first boat which reached him, and wanted no more help, although he kept up his firing. The magazine was open while lights were all about and the ship striking heavily on the sand. A slight accident might have caused the ship to be blown to atoms. Such things are disgraceful."

Indeed they are disgraceful,—and if this account of drunken officers be true, every one of them should be at once dismissed in disgrace.

BEES BOILED FOR THEIR SUGAR.—Certain sugar refiners on the banks of the Oder, being troubled by bees, who sought their capital for honey making in the refineries, hit upon a plan for ridding themselves of the nuisance, which proved quite profitable. The visitors were decoyed into one apartment, where they were subjected to a hot bath, by which means thousands were killed at once, and their bodies being afterwards thrown into a boiler the stolen property was extracted from them. It is estimated that as many as eleven millions were destroyed within a year, and about twelve hundred francs worth of sugar extracted from them.

☞ The clearance of vessels for Matamoras has been inhibited, for the shipment of cargoes to that port was virtually giving aid and comfort to the rebels, by putting within their reach articles of which they are in need. The order of Secretary Chase stops all such supplies.

PROCLAMATION BY FREMONT

DECLARING MARTIAL LAW IN MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31.—The following proclamation was issued this morning:

Headquarters Western Department,
St. Louis, August 30, 1861.

Circumstances in my judgment are of sufficient urgency to render it necessary that the commanding general of this department should assume the administrative powers of the State.

Its disorganized condition, helplessness of civil authority and the total insecurity of life and devastation of property by bands of murderers and marauders who infest nearly every county in the State, and avail themselves of public misfortunes, and in the vicinity of a hostile force, to gratify private and neighborhood vengeance, and who find an enemy wherever they find plunder, finally demand the severest measures to repress the daily increasing crimes and outrages, which are driving off the inhabitants and ruining the State.

In this condition the public safety and success of our arms require unity of purpose without let or hindrance to the prompt administration of affairs. In order, therefore, to suppress disorders, maintain the public security to the persons and property of loyal citizens, I do hereby establish and declare established martial law throughout the State of Missouri.

The lines of the army occupation in this State are for the present declared to extend from Leavenworth by way of parts of Jefferson City, Rolla and Ironton to Cape Girardeau on the Mississippi river.

All persons who shall be taken with arms in bands within these lines shall be tried by court martial, and if found guilty, will be shot.

The real and personal property of those who shall take up arms against the United States, or who shall be directly proven to have taken an active part with their enemies in the field, is declared confiscated to public use, and their slaves, if any they have, are hereby declared free men.

All persons who shall be proven to have destroyed, after the publication of this order, railroad racks, bridges, or telegraphic lines, shall suffer the extreme penalty of the law.

All persons engaged in treasonable correspondence, in giving or procuring aid to the enemy, in fermenting turmoil and disturbing public tranquility by creating or circulating false reports or incendiary documents, are warned that they are exposing themselves.

Special Washington dispatches say the a number of leading financiers are urging the government to force the rebels to abandon their threatened attack on Washington by making counter attacks on various points in the South.

Advices at the War Department confirm the report that the Comanches and Kiowa Indians have joined the rebels and are rendezvousing near Fort Bent.

It is estimated that there are 75,000 rebels between Edwards' Ferry and Harper's Ferry, waiting for an opportunity to cross into Maryland, there to be assisted by the Maryland secessionists, and it is reported that a hundred of the latter are congregating on the eastern shore.

☞ The subscribers or depositors for the Government loan in New York on Wednesday numbered over one hundred and twenty, and the aggregate of their subscriptions amounted to over $170,000. This was made up of sums ranging from $50 to $15,000, the largest number of subscribers being for sums below $500.

On Thursday, a sympathizer with secession took occasion to curse the national flag in the presence of some fishermen at Wells, Me., when one of the number knocked him down, and handled him roughly. His companions looked on, approving of what was being done. The secessionist went to North Berwick, where he resides, and procured a warrant for the fisherman, who has been arrested for the assault.—Trav.

EASTPORT, Me., Aug 31.—The Orizimba, of New Orleans, from Liverpool in ballast, has just been seized by the United States schooner Arago and is now lying under her guns.

The Orozimbo, a ship of 777 tons, was built in this city by Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield in 1854, and is owned mostly by parties residing in this city and in Boston, though she hails from New Orleans.

The Woodstock (N. B) Journal says:—"On Tuesday morning about 11 o'clock, a singular phenomenon was visible in the heavens. A large colored circle like a rainbow, surrounded the sun, while arcs of three other white circles intersected one another near to the colored circle. After remaining visible about an hour, they gradually faded away. The same appearance was noticed at Sidney, C. B. It was also seen at Pictou on Tuesday.

☞ No vacancies exist in the regular army except Second Lieutenants, and these are to be filled by promotions from the ranks.

☞ It is asserted that the commander of the U. S. troops at Fort Fillmore, New Mexico, betrayed his men into a surrender, without any good cause.

☞ The Portsmouth Steam Factory, which has suspended operations for some weeks past, starts up again this, (Monday) morning.

☞ Most of the great iron works in Pennsylvania are making great guns, shot, &c.

☞ Ex-President Pierce is at Louisville, Ky.

Juvenile Singing Class,

FOR MISSES.

The Second Term of MR. TILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms.—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

"Combination and a form indeed"

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston,—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Boonsboro', Md., Mch. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. For seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and most undoubtedly can pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,
(Editor of the Odd Fellow.)

☞ A few days ago the friends of Lieut. Col. Jackson, residing in this city, determined to present to him some testimonial, which should be not only an expression of their regard for him, and their appreciation of his value as an officer in the Volunteer service, but also be useful to him in the discharge of his duties. They accordingly procured and presented to him a Horse and equipments. The following letter accompanied the valuable gift:

To John H. Jackson, Lieut. Colonel of the Third Regiment, N. H. Volunteers:—Your fellow citizens of Portsmouth present you with a Horse and equipments. Accept this mark of appreciation from those who have known you long and well. It is a matter of gratification and pride to us, that a native townsman, an experienced and able officer, is to represent Portsmouth in the field; and may the same Providence which in so remarkable a manner, on a former occasion, interposed between you and the greatest danger, now go forth with you, and bring you safely home from glorious conflicts, to receive the reward due to those who save their country from ruin.

ALBERT BLAISDELL,
for himself and others.

Portsmouth, Aug. 28, 1861.

To this, Col. Jackson replied as follows:

CAMP BERRY, CONCORD, N. H., August 30th, 1861.

Mr. Albert Blaisdell and others—Gentlemen:—Your handsome present of a Horse and equipments was received by me yesterday, and be assured that I shall always remember the donors with feelings of gratitude.

Believing that, in the hour of our country's need, it was the duty of every citizen to do his utmost to maintain her integrity, I have taken up arms in her defence, to do what little lies in my power; and the thought that I shall have with me the prayers and good wishes of my fellow citizens of Portsmouth will, strengthen my arm in this conflict of right with wrong—of patriotism with treason.

Hoping that I shall never do aught to forfeit the good opinion of my fellow citizens, I am, with great respect,

Your obedient servant,
JOHN H. JACKSON,
Lieut. Col., Third Regt., N. H. V.

☞ We have already stated that a Sword has been presented to Adjutant Hill, of the 3d Regiment, N. H. V., by friends in this city. The following is the letter which accompanied the beautiful testimonial, together with the reply of Adj. Hill:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 24.

Adjutant Alfred J. Hill—Dear Sir:—The undersigned, who, in common with you, have been citizens of Portsmouth for many years past, have learned with feelings of sorrow, as well as feelings of joy, that you are about leaving us to engage in the service of your country—a service at once arduous and glorious;—feelings of sorrow that you are separated from us, and we may see you no more; feelings of joy that you are accounted worthy to enter the ranks of our army and battle for the common cause. May the glad assurance that, whether victorious or otherwise, you have done your duty, take possession of our hearts. At this time we present, as an expression of our feelings towards you this Sword; and say to you, if it is accepted, that while you use it, many true and loyal hearts here in Portsmouth will send up their morning and evening petitions to the God of Battles, for your safety and your speedy return to your own fireside. And we know, with all confidence, that we entrust it to a strong arm and steadfast heart—to one who will give a good account of himself in the hour of need, away, or in time of peace at home. Very truly yours,

A. J. HOUGH,
MOSES R. HALL.

HEADQUARTERS, CAMP BERRY, August 27, 1861.

Gentlemen:—It is with feelings of respect and gratitude, that I attempt to answer your note of the 24th, and the receipt of your present in the shape of a Sword.—As for my being worthy, that is to be manifested by the future course of my conduct. But whatever may be my duty, or wherever my duty calls me, there I shall be, if my life and strength permit.

Your present I accept with pleasure and gratitude, and never will I disgrace the donors or the gift.

You will accept my hearty thanks and good wishes for your prosperity and happiness. Your friend and servant,

ALFRED J. HILL.

To Messrs. Andrew J. Hough and Moses R. Hall.

COMMON COURTESY.

Messrs. Editors of Journal:—A person who uses the signature "A. T." in an article published in the Chronicle last Saturday, makes a grossly offensive attack upon the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock of the Episcopal Church, and upon the whole Universalist Society of this City, because they hesitated as to the propriety of taking up contributions for the Ladies' Volunteer Aid Society in their respective churches. In regard to the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock the facts are, that he, being applied to by two gentlemen, who are also Wardens of his Church, to direct such a contribution, "if consistent with his views of propriety," at first replied that though he sympathized in the noble cause in which the Ladies are engaged, he did not think it expedient to take up a collection for them in the Church, because contributions for secular objects, as a general rule, are not taken in Episcopal Churches, and because he understood that the Ladies had already adopted the better plan of waiting upon the members of his parish at their houses. In this view the Minister was supported, as now appears, by a large majority of his Parish. But the Wardens with three of the Vestry repeated the request, and thereupon the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock, in a letter written the day before the publication of the scandalous article in the Chronicle, consented to order the contribution—not because he had changed his opinion as to the propriety of that mode of obtaining it, but because he regarded the matter of too little importance to be suffered to become the cause of any dissension in his Church. It is understood that the action of the Universalist Society was founded upon considerations similar to those which influenced the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock, namely, that there is a more appropriate manner of obtaining the contribution than by taking it in the Church. Neither the Society nor Mr. Hitchcock ever manifested any opposition to the charity, or any objections to contributions in aid of it, being taken at the proper time and place.

It might not have been necessary to make this explanation, had not Mr. A. T. in Tuesday's Chronicle managed to make himself still more offensive to two large and respectable congregations in this city. To show of what metal he is made, we call attention to the falsehoods contained in his first article. He begins with the words "Clerical Rebellion." This is falsehood number one. The minister has the right, according to the usages of his Church, to direct or refuse to direct a contribution, at his discretion. But if the writer means, as the whole tenor of his article indicates, that the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock, or the Universalist Society were actuated by any sympathy with Southern "Rebellion," the charge is infamous as well as false. Cannot a Reverend Clergyman or a Christian Society be allowed to determine what are the fittest times and places for taking contributions for benevolent or patriotic objects, without being accused of want of Christian Charity by a foreign importation whom we suspect to be of Milesian descent, from the idea he evidently entertains that "coal" rhymes with "soul?"

Next he says that "the Rector of the Episcopal Church has positively refused to allow a contribution to be taken up for the benefit of the returned sick and wounded of the New Hampshire Regiments." Here are two more falsehoods. No such contribution was asked for, the request being for a contribution "for the benefit of the sick and wounded volunteer soldiers at the Washington Hospitals"—and this request had been acceded to before A. T.'s slanderous article was printed.

He says that the Rector was "waited on by the Wardens of his Church, with the sanction of the Vestry." Two more falsehoods. He was not waited on by the Wardens at all, and their action was not sanctioned by a quorum of the Vestry.

He says that "the Universalist Society has also concluded not to assist the loyal souls who have come back to us."

This is false, and no more represents the action of the Universalist Society, than the writing of A. T. in the Chronicle represents common honesty or intelligent patriotism.—A writer of such spirit and such capacity is hardly worth pursuing further.

In his second article, A. T. publishes a fancied letter, evidently written by himself to himself (as his real name and address were unknown) for the witty purpose of calling himself a FOOL. As it is to himself that he applies the epithet, we shall not dispute its propriety, but simply suggest that he has fairly entitled himself to another and not less offensive appellation.

A second effort brought but new disgrace, the vile incender washed the artist's face.

Barnum lays it down as a rule, in his work on "The Art of Making Money," that the "proper time to advertise judiciously, is when other folks don't."

"COMMON COURTESY."

To the Editors of the Portsmouth Journal:

Gentlemen:—The article entitled "Common Courtesy," and signed "E. & U.," which was published in your Journal of last week, demands an answer at my hands. But I must confess my inability to answer the small impertinences of that article. It was a successful specimen of a style of writing in which gentlemen do not usually excel. If the signature were not so ingenuous, I should suppose the composition to be the joint production of a pair of vituperative fishwomen. Should the writer again favor me, I trust he will accommodate to crowd all his "common courtesy" into the caption of his article.

Notwithstanding the cheap acerbity of that tirade, I shall do Mr. E. & U. the honor to examine the imputation, and beg him, in the mean while, to try to keep his temper by remembering that whom the gods wish to destroy they first make very mad.

First, a word with regard to the Universalist Society of this city:

In my paragraph in the Chronicle of Aug. 17, I did injustice to a large majority of the members of this society. That this Universalist Society concluded not to take up a contribution in church for the benefit of our disabled soldiers, was a fact.—But the inferences which I drew from this fact were erroneous. I cheerfully and candidly acknowledge my regret at having hastily listened to information which, in this case, proved to be unreliable. I do not consider it immorally to confess my mistake and throw myself upon the charity that I doubted.

But here my retraction ends. It is against my will that I again allude to the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock. He discovered the popular disapproval which threatened to follow the step he had taken: he saw his error, and corrected it. He endorsed my position by changing his. I carry no weapons for a disarmed man. Still I cannot, with justice to myself, allow certain of Mr. E. & U.'s misstatements to pass as facts. Ignoring his personalities as too insignificant for notice, I beg leave to direct the reader's attention to the following indictment in his communication.

(1) "The minister has the right, according to the usages of his Church, to direct or refuse to direct a contribution, at his discretion."

Has he? I have the highest ecclesiastical authority for saying that in such a case the Rector has no right, by the canons of the Church, to resist the action of the Vestry.

Mr. E. & U. asserts that the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock never

(2) "Manifested any opposition to the charity or any objections to contributions in aid of it, being taken at the proper time and place."

This is just precisely what he did do.

(3) "If the writer means, as the whole tenor of his article indicates, that the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock, or the Universalist society were actuated by any sympathy with Southern "Rebellion," the charge is infamous as well as false."

Had not Mr. E. & U. better lay aside the inexpensive trumpet of his indignation until the charge is manifest?

(4) "It might not have been necessary to make this explanation, had not Mr. A. T. in Tuesday's Chronicle managed to make himself still more offensive to two large and respectable congregations in this city."

This is highly imaginative. My second paragraph contained no allusion whatever to the Universalist Society; and the congregation of St. John's Church will, I know, forgive me for agreeing with it.

(5) "He says that the Rector was "waited on by the Wardens of his Church, with the sanction of the Vestry." Two more falsehoods. He was not waited on by the Wardens at all, and their action was not sanctioned by a quorum of the Vestry."

The Rev. Mr. Hitchcock was waited upon by a formal letter from his Wardens, requesting him to announce, "if consistent with his views of propriety," (a polite phrase used to gild a request which they had a right to make,) that a collection would be taken up in St. John's Church for the benefit of the Ladies' Volunteer Aid Society. This letter was not written by two gentlemen who merely happened to be Wardens, but was written by two Wardens who happened to be gentlemen. Before this letter was sent to the Rector, the Wardens conferred personally with five of the six Vestrymen. Four of these gentlemen instantly endorsed the document, and one remained neutral. (A quorum.) I may have stated that the official letter was not prepared until after the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock had expressed his intention not to order the contribution, having previously informed a lady member of his Parish, who had applied to him, that he had no objection to that mode of obtaining the donations. The truth is, he had become the victim of infidelity in counsel.

The Rector in his reply to the Wardens refused to grant their request. He had abruptly found out that it was not expedient to open the doors of the Church to outside charities? It seems to me that the wounds of our soldiers are eloquent lips, speaking to the hearts of men and churches.

At this point of the correspondence, I published a paragraph in the Chronicle, in which I charged the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock with having displayed a lack of Christian charity. This was my "grossly offensive attack." In the mean time, at a meeting composed of five of the eight officers of the Church, (another quorum,) a set of resolutions, protesting against the Rector's course, was passed, and a copy of the same laid before him.

(6) "But the Wardens with three of the Vestry repeated the request, and thereupon the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock, in a letter written the day before the publication of the scandalous article in the Chronicle, consented to order the contribution."

I should not like it if this letter had been "written" a century before, for then the Rector might have had time to send it to the Wardens, and my article, if it had appeared "a day after the wedding," would have been unfortunate. But it did not happen so. Farther on, Mr. E. & U. informs us that the Wardens' "request had been acceded to before A. T.'s slanderous article was printed." Now, here Mr. E. & U. deceives (the only person I shall allow him to deceive) himself. My "slanderous article" appeared Saturday morning, and the Rector's decision was not placed in the Wardens' hands until the afternoon of that same day.

But here comes the denouement.

It affords me unalloyed pleasure to state that a collection was taken up in St. John's Church last Sunday, and that the net proceeds amounted to one hundred and sixty-two dollars and twenty-one cents. What the proceeds would have amounted to under happier circumstances, there is no telling! But the munificent sum contributed—nearly twice the amount furnished by any one of the other larger congregations,—is a significant fact that needs no comment. It does not "now appear" that a large majority of the Parish was utterly opposed to the taking up this particular act of charity a matter of the Church.

I have take leave of Mr. E. & U. with his childish irritability, his eccentric ideas of truth, his pointless quibbles—holding myself in readiness, however, to give him a lesson in "Common Courtesy" when he shall have mastered the useful and pleasing science of politeness.

I am, Messrs. Editors, your obd't serv't,

Portsmouth, Aug. 26. A. T.

In the introduction to his morning sermon at the North Church last Sabbath, Dr. Burroughs made an appropriate reference to its early history. Two hundred years have now elapsed since the Rev. Mr. Moody commenced his labors at the church below the South Bridge, in 1660. Tracing the various pastors up to the settlement of Rev. Dr. Buckminster, in 1779, Dr. Burroughs gave an interesting account of his personal acquaintance with him when fifty years ago they both were colaborers here in their Master's vineyard. "Here the audience had before them the connecting link in the chain of years which carried them back to the days of the Revolution. The Doctor is yet in freshness of early life, and his extemporo sermons on Sunday showed that his mental vigor is nowise abated.

AYER'S

CATHARTIC PILLS.

All who know by trial the virtues of these Pills, and understand the wonderful influence they exert over the entire system when assailed by disease, know from experience that they are the most effectual purgative of all the medicines which contain mercury or calomel, and should be resorted to by a family on the first appearance of sickness, instead of waiting until the disease has fastened upon the system, and then trying to cure it after it has become deep-rooted and difficult to eradicate. Such a course would be as wise as for a man to wait until he is in the middle of a bog before he tries to find a path out. Ayer's Pills, when taken at the commencement of a cold or fever, will carry off the disease in a few hours, instead of the weeks it would hang upon the system if not so treated. CERTAIN CURE, CERTAIN CURE,
CERTAIN CURE, CERTAIN CURE,
CERTAIN CURE, CERTAIN CURE,
—FOR—
RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

GARDINER'S
RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA
COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1855, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—W. K. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt. Dec. 1st, 1860.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1861.

GRUMBLING AND WHINING.

Of all poor trades or occupations these are the poorest. Here is a writer whining away because a trance of treacherous rebel newspapers are shut out of the mail by request of the War Department of the United States.

But do we not all know that twenty years ago, the slave power at Charleston seized the post office, and burnt such papers as they disliked, in a bonfire on the public square? Some people may remember, that about the same time, indignation meetings were got up in many northern cities, in which vials of wrath were poured out, not against the men who burnt the anti-slavery papers, but against those who printed and mailed them. And from that day to this, all over the slave States, the slave power has thrown out of the mail just what it chose to condemn,—and its supple tools at the North never grumbled, but only grunted an approval now and then.

Now the tables are turned a little, and a doleful whine is wheezed out of the old rickety organs, that can only be compared to the strains of a third rate grinder as he plays "the Last Rose of Summer" on a fifth rate hand organ,—music, to be sure, but dismally doleful.

Some presses, and thousands of people, grumbled, two months ago, because our great army did not move forward. When a move was made, and disaster ensued, grumbles and curses were heard, because they moved wrong,—traitors and tories at the North were emboldened to grumble and talk mischief to government and to the soldiers,—to do what they could to prevent enlistments, and by a continual growl at all things here to aid and comfort their brother rebels and robbers at the South.

It may be supposed they have had some influence for evil;—yet it seems they cannot have had much; for a member of the second N. H. Regiment wrote home a few days ago, that he had kept account of sixty new regiments passing by a certain point, since the battle of Bull Run.

One good thing comes out of this evil:—the traitors and tories of the North having been emboldened, have shown the cloven foot,—and when peace comes again, as it will come, they will be powerless for evil.

Some of the grumbling that seems to be for good cause, turns out to be groundless,—for example, that against Gen. McDowell,—while Gen. Patterson deserved growling or something worse.

The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle and Sentinel, of the 18th of August, has a leader on McDowell's report, from which we quote:

"McDowell makes no display in his report, but it is a plain detail of his movements, and shows that he arranged and fought the battle as well as any of Lincoln's Generals, with troops, could have done, not excepting Gen. Scott. He managed it admirably in every respect, and was very nearly successful.

There are, strange to say, Grumbler's at the South, in spite of the paternal government of Davis and Wigfall, Wise and Toombs. They ask, "why don't the southern army move forward?" that is, why don't they burn Washington, free Maryland, and then burn Philadelphia, &c.

The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle and Sentinel of the 18th has an article on the question, "Why don't our army move forward?" The editor says:—

"We claim to be the superiors of the Northern men in every respect, and we are; but we have got to prove it to their satisfaction before we can expect peace.

It is the policy and fixed determination of our Government to advance, and if possible to bring the war to an end before the cool weather, the recruiting of the enemy, and his preparation of sufficient transportation shall enable him to make an invasion of the Carolina and Georgia coast. * * * It is not the want of men that has prevented an advance, but the lack of means of transportation, and the lack of food, coupled with sickness.

The editor complains, exactly as men do here, of favoritism, politics and red tape, and winds up thus:

"The sick, as from wounds and otherwise, in our Virginia army is absolutely frightful, and the insufficiency and inefficiency of the medical department more frightful still. Only think of our noble boys suffering twenty-four hours after battle without being seen, and then attended perhaps by men unfit for their office, and four days elapsing before the department at Richmond sent any lint or bandages to Manassas, when an abundance ought to have been there a month before the battle.

These are causes, friends, why our great Generals, Beauregard and Johnston, have not now possession of Washington. They have done all they could, but have wanted food, transportation, and medical supplies, and a properly regulated medical staff. It is a shame that our men have been compelled to suffer so much by the inefficiency and incapacity of others. The killed at Manassas are far better off than the wounded, and even than many who were not wounded."

The Montgomery, (Ala.) Mail shows up the sad fact, that the South is rather scant of shoes, and says the hides must be saved and tanned.

The Memphis (Tenn.) Appeal says the rebel army are almost out of flour and meal,—and planters must give it in, for Confederate Bonds.

The West Tennessee Whig says there are no blankets for the army—but families must give up them, and make cotton spreads for themselves.

An officer of the rebel army in Richmond, writes home to Charleston for blankets, as none can be bought in Richmond at any price,—nor got from their Army Department,—they can't get tin plates nor cups.

Let Northern grumblers understand from all this, that the very large rebel force in Virginia must either attack and conquer something, or else commit suicide;—and that the U. S. army on the Potomac, being entrenched on ground which they know, can fight to better advantage there, when the rebels attack, then they could if they went out, as at Bull Run, against an army that had chosen and fortified its own position.

ANOTHER OFFICE DISTURBED.—A dispatch from Manck Chunk, dated Sunday, says that on Saturday night the Carson Democrat office was entered, the type destroyed, and stands and cases upset, &c.

Manch Chunk is in Carbon Co. Pennsylvania,—and we suppose the Carson Democrat must be printed somewhere near by. But as we find no town or County of Carson in the Census or Gazetteer, we think it is the Carbon Democrat which was troubled.

☞ Jem Mace, who recently whipped the Staleybridge Infant, has replied to Heenan's challenge, and signifies his readiness to fight. He is ready to make a match for £200 to £500 per side. The matter, as far as the "American Champion" is concerned is in the hands of his friend, George Wilkes. Heenan challenged any man in Eng and for £2000 (or $10,000). The match is in a fair way of being made up, and it is believed by sporting gentlemen that, before the winter is over, Heenan and Mace will have fought for and decided the ownership of the "belt."

☞ By the Pony Express we have San Francisco dates to the 21st ult. The steamer Uncle Sam had sailed for Panama with $1,000,000 in treasure. Business is assuming a more favorable aspect. In Nevada territory the feeling of opposition to the Government is strong. In Oregon, fears of an Indian invasion were left.

☞ A letter from Rome in the London Daily News says Miss Harriet Hosmer has completed her fine colossal statue of Col. Benton, to be erected in bronze at St. Louis. Miss Hosmer will be represented at the Great Exhibition in London by her Captive Queen Zenobia.

☞ The arrangements for the formation of a National Detective Police force are now nearly completed. A celebrated Western detective, whose reputation is well established all over the country, will be made the head of the new organization, and its operations will extend to every city and town in the country.

☞ The report that Palmyra, Mo., was occupied a few days ago by the rebels under Martin Green, is untrue.

The money belonging to the Fayette Bank, seized by the rebels on Wednesday, has been returned.

☞ The Boston Courier doesn't seem to fancy the "Hallelujah Chorus,"—as was to be expected. It says,—"in point of piety it is profane enough to delight the devils, and in point of taste it is vulgar enough to disgust a gorilla."

☞ Richard S. Freeman was arrested in New York, on Saturday, on his way to Keene, N. H., to purchase shoe-pegging machines for parties in Georgia. He was sent to Fort Lafayette by order of the Secretary of State.

☞ The shock of an earthquake was felt at Louisville, Ky., on Saturday, persons being aroused by its violence from sleep. The shock lasted fully three minutes. A shock was also felt in Cincinnati about 5 o'clock Saturday morning.

☞ The late general order is intended to prohibit the publication of all movements connected with the raising of troops, preparing of munitions of war, transportation of men, or fitting out vessels, both at Washington and the North.

☞ The N. Y. Commercial says there is a much better feeling concerning the general aspects of the Fall trade than there was a month ago; but as regards credits, "feeling" improves very slowly.

☞ Steamer Minnesota arrived at New York on Monday, with the North Carolina prisoners.

UNION VICTORY.—The expedition to Cape Hatteras Inlet has resulted in a signal victory over the rebels—the capture of 2 forts, 1000 stand of arms, and 715 prisoners. The amount of loss on their side is not exactly known—five are ascertained to have been buried, and 11 wounded are on board the Adelaide, and many were carried away. We met with no casualty of any consequence whatever. The surrender was unconditional.

Two forts had been erected by the rebels to guard the mouth of Hatteras Inlet, which commands the entrance to the Pamlico and Albemarle Sounds, which afford connection thus to Virginia and the sea. The bombardment was commenced at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, by the Minnesota, the whole fleet soon joining. The landing of troops also immediately commenced, but owing to the surf only 300 were enabled to land. The forts replied to the incessant cannonade without much damage, and after three hours the flag on Fort Clark was hauled down and the rebels retreated to Fort Hatteras, a large work below. Our land forces soon occupied the abandoned fort and hoisted the stars and stripes. At night the fleet anchored, several gun boats remaining as near as possible to protect the land force. At 3 o'clock on Thursday morning the fleet again opened a concentrated fire on Fort Hatteras, the shots from the latter falling far short. At 11 1-2 o'clock our shots beginning to play on the magazine, the rebels hoisted a white flag, when our troops started at double quick from Fort Clark, and were met on the beach by a flag of truce.

Com. Barron, late of the Federal Navy, who was in command, proposed a capitulation by allowing the garrison to stack arms, and the officers to retain their side arms. Gen. Butler demanded an unconditional surrender, which was subsequently acceded to. Four hundred men had reinforced the forts the night previous to the attack.

On Thursday forenoon a steamer with 1000 rebels approached, but was kept away by our force in Fort Clark.

After the capture our troops were all landed, and Gen. Butler had the stars and stripes hoisted, amid the wildest cheering, the band playing Yankee Doodle. The prisoners and wounded were put on board the Minnesota, which will take them to New York.

The Harriet Lane got ashore, and was obliged to throw over coal and guns, but will get off if the weather is favorable.

Many of the prisoners are Baltimoreans. Among the prizes is a ship loaded with cotton, all ready to run the blockade. It is rumored that a member of the Southern Cabinet is a prisoner.

Among the papers captured was a press copy from the late American Consul at Rio Janeiro, Robert R. Scott, giving a list of all the vessels to leave that port, during a month, with a full description of their cargoes and destination. By this the privateers know just when and where to look for the vessels, and six named in the list were captured.

The report of their Engineer-in-Chief was also among the papers. It states that all the good guns at Norfolk are expended, also the whole amount of fuses.

Some hand-made percussion caps were found, and it was ascertained that the copper had been stripped from one of their prizes, the bark Linwood, to furnish material for caps.

☞ The gunboat R. B. Forbes is creating a sensation. After running well out to sea from Boston, she went ashore on Monomoy, to the wonder of all navigators; and now the bargue Scio, which has arrived at New York, reports that she was fired into by the Forbes, "under peculiar circumstances." The gunboat has been in "peculiar circumstances" ever since she left Boston, and an investigation should be made as soon as possible.

☞ An observing chaplain in the U. S. army writes:—

In regard to the temperance of the army I am encouraged by what is lately doing, especially by the course of General Butler, who has signed the pledge with all his officers, for the sake of the soldiers. I feel that this course must be adopted by all officers, and then and not till then can strict prohibitory law be intorced throughout the camps.

☞ Patrick Gilroy in Exeter last week, caught a turtle in the fresh river, near the ox bow, weighing 26 pounds. It was dressed by Charles Tash, and was eaten by several families, who pronounced it excellent. The meat weighed 14 pounds.

☞ A boy 4 or 5 years of age, undertook one day last week, to get a ride on the cars from Exeter depot, and in jumping off when the train was moving, turned a few somersets and broke his arm.

☞ Reports are current in Western Virginia, of an advance of the rebels upon Fairmount, to burn the town. The movement seems to be in concert with those of Gen. Lee's brigade.

☞ Fifty thousand dollars, belonging to the rebels, were seized, on Saturday, in Park Bank, New York, by Marshal Murray.

LATEST.—The Harriet Lane was got off on Saturday P. M. Her guns will be recovered.

The gunboat R. B. Forbes went ashore again Sunday morning on Smith Island, near Cape Charles. Three propellers had been sent to get her off.

All the privateers had left Hatteras prior to the attack on the forts.

Gen. Butler was to leave Washington for Boston Monday P. M.

☞ The pilot boat America, of Newburyport, was run into and sunk on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, off Cape Ann, by schooner Leander of Augusta, Me., bound to Boston with a cargo of hay. The boat was manned by five pilots and another man, who were rescued and carried into Boston by the schooner. The America sunk in less than ten minutes after she was struck, and nothing was saved from her but some spy glasses on deck. She was valued at some $2000; only $300 insurance, and half of that was put on last week. There was but one man on the deck of the coaster at the time and his view was cut off by the deck load of hay.

☞ Gen. Butler was serenaded at Washington on Sunday night and made a stirring speech in response.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well.—D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

Juvenile Singing Class,
FOR MISSES.

The Second Term of MR TILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M., And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms, $1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is unstimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston,—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief that ever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ. WHEELER.

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Boonsboro', Md., Mch. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Sir:—On a visiting occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach; we had, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first morning it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most efficacious preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,

☞ Two young ladies were thrown from a wagon, near the Custom House in this city, about 11 o'clock, on Monday forenoon. They were riding alone, and the horse manifested a decided inclination to go in a direction different from that desired by his fair drivers; when at length convinced that his preferences must yield to theirs, he compromised the matter by making too short a turn, and consequently upset the wagon and threw the ladies out. Fortunately they escaped with but a few slight bruises.

But the horse started off at a 2 40 gait, and brought up suddenly against an awning post, where he plunged, trembled and panted until seized by the bystanders—He was lamed somewhat, and a spring of the wagon was broken.

☞ One of our reporters, in hastily copying from the Portsmouth Directory, gave a pretty good description of the ship Ocean Rover, but the ear marks would hardly apply to the Orozimbo.

The Orozimbo is a ship of 890 tons, and was built in this city in 1858, by Marcy & Petigrew. She is owned by Messrs. Daniel Marcy, William Petigrew, T. M. Ball, and Peter Jenness, of this city; S. C. Thwing and J. J. Nickerson, of Boston; and Peter Marcy, of New Orleans.

"THE MYSTERIOUS WOMAN."

SAXONVILLE, Aug. 30, 1861.

To the Editor of the Boston Journal.

The Journal of Tuesday copies an abstract of "A Touch of Romance," from the Lynn Reporter, relating to a woman calling herself Mrs. Mary Helen Allen, whose touching story of the murder of her stepfather by the rebels in Boonville, Mo., and her own perils and hair-breadth escape and journey to the North with her two children, appealed so strongly to the benevolence of Jonathan Buffum of Lynn, by whom she and her children were hospitably entertained. The Reporter asks, "Who is she?" and furnishes facts which clearly answer the question. Her true name is no doubt Mary Ann Ordway, wife of Joseph Ordway, a farmer in this place, to whom she was married in 1850. In 1856, while living at Hooksett, N. H., she forsook her family—including three little children, one not then four weeks old, and which soon died—and eloped with a married man in the neighborhood, whose name we suppress, as he has since returned to his family, now residing in Lowell, a wiser if not a better man.

They moved to Connecticut, where her paramour suffered two years' imprisonment at Wethersfield for forgery. Mrs. Ordway next appears as a "young widow" in Wisconsin, and is soon married. Here an unlucky fever so far softens her heart, or her head, that in a moment of relenting or alienation, she reveals the fact of having a husband and children living in Hooksett, N. H. As soon as the telegraph can test this strange statement, the new husband abandons her.

She then resided for some years in Boonville, Mo., from whence she came to Saxonville, on the 22 of April, 1861. So that her descriptions of "the fierce conflict between the federal troops under Gen. Lyon and the rebels, on the 17th of June," so graphically recounted in the Reporter, was purely imaginary, she having then been in Saxonville nearly two months. Here her confessions seemed so penitent and sincere, and her professions of conversion and piety so genuine, that her husband and friends freely forgave the past, and rejoiced over "the wanderer restored." But her roving propensity soon returned. On the 25th of June, when her husband was absent for the day packing one of his feather beds and other articles in a chest, she departed by stage for Lowell with her two children whom she abandoned in their infancy—one, Emma Augusta, now eight years of age, and the other, William H., ten years.

The relatives here took a deep interest in their welfare, received them into their own families, where their moral and intellectual education was duly cared for, and now greatly regret to have them come under the influence of an impostor who trains them to deception to facilitate her frauds on the public. The relatives would be glad to welcome them back to their households. Any information which might lead to recovery would be gratefully received by their father, Joseph Ordway, or by Charles Blake, Esq., Saxonville. From the details in the Reporter, no doubt is here entertained that Mrs. Ordway is the person described as the "fugitive widow" from the South, and she is believed to be still travelling, imposing upon the benevolent and patriotic by her well told stories of "secession wrongs." In further proof or identication it may be added that Mrs. Ordway has lost the left incisor tooth on the upper jaw. She is naturally a very capable and plausible woman, prepossessing in personal appearance, and agreeable in manners. N.

☞ In Exeter, on Sunday morning last, as we learn from the News Letter, the house occupied by John Marsh, on the Epping Road, about two miles from the village, was destroyed by fire. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh were both burnt to death. The neighbors assembled as soon as the flames were seen, but too late to save anything.—Circumstances indicate foul play, and suspicion rests upon James M. Bowley, brother of Mrs. Marsh, who has been boarding there. They were all of intemperate habits. Bowley was arrested.

☞ Dr. William B. Fletcher, a brother of Rev. J. C. Fletcher, of Newburyport, has at last, after all hope had been given up, been found a prisoner at Richmond.

Every Republican paper in Northern Ohio has declared in favor of a union of parties at the fall elections.

☞ See what the People, Press and Dealers say:—

HENRY R. COSTAR:—All the summer I have been troubled with Roaches and Mice. I was actually ashamed of the house, for the Roaches were everywhere. I purchased a box of your Exterminator and tried it, and in one week there was not a Roach or Mouse in the house.
JOHN B. GIVENS, No. 94 Elm Street.

HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin need be so no longer, if they use "Costar's" Exterminators. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they effected nothing; but Costar's article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Medina (O.) Gazette.

MORE GRAIN and provisions are annually destroyed in Grant County, by vermin, than would pay for you of this Rat and Insect Killer.—Lancaster (Wis.) Herald.

HENRY R. COSTAR:—Your Exterminator is received, used, and pronounced a decided success. We used a box of it, and the way the Rats and Mice "raised Next" that night, was a caution to sleepers. Since then, not a Rat or Mouse has been heard in kitchen or cellar.—Magnolia (Iowa) Tribune.

I HAVE BEEN SELLING your Exterminator for the last year, and have found it a sure shot every time. I have not known it to fail in a single instance.
GEO. ROSS, Druggist, Cardington, O.

WE ARE SELLING your preparations rapidly. Wherever they are used, Rats, Mice, Roaches, and Vermin disappear instantly.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feable, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system disarranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some sort of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a dose or two of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed to health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After one child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ABA MONGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR BRO. AYER: I cannot answer you other complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily control will disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the medical profession.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, combining with them as an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I only choose to extend my use of the best agents I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. W. Hance, Pastor of Second Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in charities. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

Yours, A. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Madrid, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills effect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural action of the system, when sluggish or partially suspended, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hewitson, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has bestowed on me, if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my kidneys and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Sir, I cheerfully say, that I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease which had troubled me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Price, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

The great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much of any other, and sold at much less price. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

"EVERYBODY"

WHO USES

HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE

HAIR RESTORATIVE

Is convinced of the fact that

It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,

Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.

"ANYBODY"

Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. It can be used as freely as water for the scalp, and with as much safety—is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.,—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bit bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects are entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

GARDINER'S

RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well.—D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entire ly cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful case of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 4, 1861.

THE JOURNAL OF COMMERCE.

This old paper, published in New York, has just changed owners in part, and its editor Gerard Hallock, has left his post to new hands. In doing so, he publishes a Valedictory, in keeping with his whole course, hard, cold, and dry.

Knowing him as an editor before he went to New York, and knowing his deceased partner Hale, personally, we are moved to bestow a few lines on the history of the Journal of Commerce.

It was started as a commercial and general newspaper, to be edited by a religious man, or men: and Messrs. Hale and Hallock were both members of trinitarian congregational churches. It was to be printed every morning, i. e. in the early dark hours; except on Monday;—and Monday's paper was later, so as to have no work done in the office on Sunday.

Theatres were not advertised;—and some other matters also were shut out.

Great pains were taken to get early news: and the Journal for some time was at the head of the fast press: and it has always been, in many respects, a valuable newspaper. It has also, always been independent, never neutral; always able, and therefore influential, in no small degree.

But its grand defect, from the beginning to the present time, has been, that it lacked soul. Expediency, interest, policy, have shaped its course, with only a secondary reference to the immutable right. Will it pay? will it please England? will it please or offend the slave power? These and such as these, are the questions which have been regarded in the Journal of Commerce for many years past; and in its tone toward England it echoed the sweet voices of the British shippers of Dry Goods to this country.

At home it has long truckled to the slave power, with no little amount of pretended piety and cant: and since the same power has made war upon us, it has pursued such a course as to induce a late grand jury to call it out and condemn it, as traitorous and mischievous.

Under this ban, and under the mail restriction, the Journal of Commerce wilts, and the editor dries up, apparently in great astonishment to find himself counted in among the rebels—though most of his neighbors think it is quite natural, and some say, it serves him right.

The new proprietors and editors, we presume, will so change their course, as to see some other good things in the world besides calico, and cotton wool, and a southern aristocracy or monarchy founded on a basis of negro slavery.

LIBERAL AND PATRIOTIC.—Rev. Daniel Tenney, Pastor of the Central Congregational Church in Lawrence, Mass., has very liberally proffered a reduction of $400 per annum of his salary, in consideration of the present times, and in view of the strenuous exertions of the Government and all loyal citizens, towards putting down the rebellion and providing for the families of volunteers.

Two things here are worthy of notice, viz: that his parish must have given him a large salary, otherwise he could not deduct $400 from it: and that his parish must also have been devising and doing liberal things for the volunteers and the Government, otherwise the pastor would not have given in anything on that account. It looks well all round.

☞ George Wilson and his wife were arrested in Boston on Saturday on a charge of passing counterfeit money. A third party, Dan'l Hadley, has also been arrested, and the case has assumed considerable importance. A house, in Medford, Mass., occupied by Wilson, has been searched, and in the cellar were found $175 in counterfeit half and quarter dollars, together with metals, plaster moulds, crucibles, acids, &c. The sum of $3855 in photographed counterfeit fives on the Orange County Bank, of Chelsea, Vt., a lot of altered bills, and a lot of figures 5 and 10, for altering bills, were also discovered.

☞ The entire Catholic clergy of Chicago, by concerted action, have advised all unemployed men in their congregations to enlist in Gen. Fremont's army.

☞ During the great storm of Aug. 16th and 17th, ten vessels of different nations, were wrecked off the Coast of Florida, and 28 lives lost.

GEN. NATHANIEL LYON.

FORT RILEY, KANSAS, 22d Aug.

Sadness has been brought upon every patriotic heart among us, by the untimely death of the heroic Lyon. All who knew him knew that death had no terrors for his dauntless soul. All knew well that he aspired to no higher honor than to die for his country. But we mourn not for him; we mourn for ourselves. His name was becoming a rock and a bulwark, behind which the irresistible column of patriot soldiers was forming to sweep the enemy out of the valley of the Missouri.

The hero had crushed the first buds of treason at the commercial capital of Missouri. He had scattered its first array in arms at Boonville. He had penetrated, with resolute energy, to that distant south-west border where the hordes of Arkansas, the dregs of Missouri, and their amiable savage allies were collecting.

There it is evident he gave battle against fearful odds. It was impossible to retreat without disaster or disgrace. The alternative was chosen, and the traitors had such trial of the mettle of our little army as they will not soon forget. But at what a cost to us!

Compelled by inferiority of force to extraordinary exertions, our brave general threw himself at the head of his waiting soldiers, and fell—doing his utmost duty to those institutions which he loved. This is the highest encomium man can win from man. He sprang like Curtius into the yawning gulf—his only thought, of his duty and his country.

Are we continually to see our armies defeated, and our best soldiers slain by this wretched policy of sending out insufficient forces against a desperate enemy? If we have the troops we had better send them; if not, we had better make peace.

And now, as we cast with drooping heads the flowers of memory upon the hero's grave, let us pay him our parting tribute. He was a loyal son and a true type of New England. He loved her free institutions—her free thought and her free speech. This affection never grew less by distance or time. That inquisitive search after truth, that contempt of merely traditionary knowledge, that quick and leaping sympathy with a good and just cause, to characteristic of the true New England mind, were marked traits in that noble soul that has just passed away from us. Unseduced by that dark infatuation which has led so many in official and military station, to deny and despise their native New England, he loved and honored her with all the simple and elevated ardor of his nature.

He had an unalterable love of justice. It was his wont to strip off with an unsparing hand all the disguises in which a bad cause might be hid, and regardless of the prestige he might have gained, or the powerful names it might array in its support, trample it under his feet with utter scorn. This was done with such a perfect chivalrous enthusiasm, that he seemed to ennoble every cause he touched till it began to appear invincible.

He was a perfectly fearless man; he had the highest measure of moral and physical courage. Whether on the social circle, or on the desperate field, he was the same daring champion of whatever course he thought was right.

With him the doing good, the helping men onward was a pleasure, a generous instinct of his noble nature, which forbade him to be less, or to do less. And so, like the sun, he scattered the mellow light of kindness wherever he went. He illustrated by his life that grand saying of the Roman philosopher—"I am a man: and nothing that pertains to man is a matter of indifference to me."

Like all the highest souls, he was tender as well as strong. The flowers of gentlest, sweetest sentiment twined beautifully round the gnarled and knotty oak of his rugged will. His voice could flow out in the softest ripples of music or flash with the electric energy of a tornado. It was this blended tenderness and strength that gave such richness to his nature, so that every chord in his being could be seen to vibrate to the touch of a true or deep sentiment, as the twig bends to the breeze.

There is a void left in the hearts of those who loved him. There is a niche in the temple of his country's fame which he will fill. Reluctantly we raise him to his place among the immortal dead, whom we loved so much among the living. Fragrant and green be the memory of Nathaniel Lyon.

☞ Commodore Samuel Barron, who was the senior officer in command of the forts at Hatteras, holds the position of Assistant Sec. of the Navy under Jeff. Davis. He is a nephew of Commodore Barron, of the war of 1812, and brother-in-law of Commodore Pendergast, of the U. S. ship Roanoke, one of the attacking squadron.

☞ The directors of the Stonington Railroad have passed a vote directing the President, Mr. Jas. E. Day, either to resign his office or retract the permission he gave for the sale of the N. York News, in the Stonington depot.

THE REBELLION.—The Post's Washington dispatch says that the pickets of both armies are very close to each other on the other side of the Potomac. Some Michiganders took the enemy's camp kettles Monday night, and the enemy's pickets took several chickens from our pickets.

Minister Adams writes that he does not think the British Government contemplate any change of position so long as the blockade is continued.

Senator Johnson of Tennessee, has left Washington for Kentucky, at the earnest invitation of leading men of that State, and will probably deliver an address at Lexington on the issues of the day.

Reports have been repeatedly received from the South within a few days, to the effect that Gen. Rosecrans (whose name the telegraph persists in misspelling Rosencrans) had been defeated by Gen. Lee in Western Virginia. No information of this nature has been received in Washington, and the rumor is undoubtedly false.

Lexington, Mo., it is rumored, was in possession of the Federal troops last Friday. Reinforcements have reached there before this, and no apprehension is felt for its safety. In an attack on Thursday several Union troops were wounded, but none killed. Gen. Pope will immediately take the field in person in North Missouri.

An immense amount of freight and a great rush of people was going South by the Nashville route, last week. It is thought that it was caused by the edict that after Sept. 1st non-intercourse would be rigidly enforced, and the rush North owing to Davis's edict.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Crescent suggests the seizure of all the blankets in the steamboat lying at that port, for the army.

The Mobile Tribune says there is every reason to believe that the enemy at Fort Pickens are removing their valuables prior to the evacuation of that place! We fear the Tribune lies under a mistake.

There was a fight on Sunday, at Boone Court House, Va., resulting in the total rout of the rebels. Their loss was 30 killed and a large number of wounded.—Forty prisoners were also taken. None were killed on our side, and but six wounded. Our men burned the town.

The N. Y. Commercial states that the Minnesota spoke a pilot boat, which reports having spoken an unknown vessel, the master of which stated that Col. Brown of Fort Pickens had recaptured the Pensacola Navy Yard, but gave no particulars.

A rebel account of the capture of the forts at Hatteras Inlet says their loss is reported at 40, and wounded at 20. Another rebel report says 80 were killed.

The N. Y. Herald publishes a list of Northern secession papers. New York State has twenty-four; Pennsylvania, thirteen; New Jersey, seven; Connecticut five; Iowa, Ohio and Illinois, four each; Maine, New Hampshire and Indiana three each: Wisconsin, two; Minnesota, Rhode Island, Vermont, California and Kansas, one each.

Gen. Fremont's proclamation has occasioned some excitement in Kentucky. The Louisville Journal disapproves its terms, and urges the Legislature to adopt measures to avoid the necessity of similar measures in that State. The Legislature assembled at Frankfort on Monday. It is thought that a desperate attempt will be made to overawe the Legislature by the "peace" leaders, under the marshalship of Breckinridge and Magoffin.

The success of the expedition from Fortress Monroe and the grand proclamation of Fremont, defining so clearly and tersely the only proper policy to be pursued, are to be rejoiced over with the joy that arises of the hope of better things to come. Let sanguine patriots be glad; but, in the midst of their gladness, let them remember that more remains to be done, and that the hour of partial victory is the hour for renewed efforts to follow up and increase the gains already made. The army should be increased as rapidly as possible, that the exhibitions of strength may render the use of it in sanguinary contests less necessary.

The Second Term of MR. TILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms,—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term, the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

STRONG TESTIMONY

From BENJAMIN WEBSTER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston,—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the adjoining towns in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WEBSTER.

WAR,—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Boonsboro', Md., Mch. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation; and, without hesitation, announce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,
(Editor of the Odd Fellow.)

☞ The Sabine, now ready for sea, has undergone extensive repairs. The crew are a fine looking body of men, and will uphold the honor of our flag with a right good will. They number four hundred, and compose the largest draft ever brought from Boston to this city. They reached their destination without accident, and enjoyed the trip highly.

The following incident occurred on entering the harbor: As the boat neared Fort Constitution, but a solitary sentinel was to be seen on the parapet. He hailed the steamer to know her name, and was answered, "The Nelly Baker, from Boston." "All right, go ahead!" Scarcely had the colloquy ended when bang came a discharge from one of the heaviest guns of the fort, and simultaneously with the report appeared above the parapet a party of some two hundred ladies and gentlemen and children, who greeted the seamen with cheers, waving of handkerchiefs and other demonstrations of applause. Soon followed a gun from the other side of the river, and the two forts then honored the steamer's freight with several discharges of heavy artillery. So sudden and unexpected was the salute that all hands were for the moment nonplussed, but Captain Moore, who had the sailors in charge, sang out in stentorian tones, "Cheers to starboard, boys!" "Cheers to port!" and the hearty return of the tars gave back with interest the welcome they had received.

☞ We have often expressed our appreciation of the beautiful location and surroundings of the Sagamore House, at Frost's Point, three miles or so only from this city,—the walk, or ride, or sail, to which, is delightful. Under Mr. Merrill, the new landlord, the house is kept in the very best manner; and we recommend all who wish to make a pleasant excursion, to visit the Sagamore at least once. All things there are unexceptionably neat, the furniture is new, including a fine piano; and the cooking would do no discredit to "Parker's" itself. If a party can't find sufficient enjoyment, of an afternoon, in roving about the rocky shores, sailing in the boats, rolling ten-pins on the alleys, and spying out the beauties of the most diversified sea and land views of any public house we know of—to cause them to enjoy the broiled chickens which were never served up anywhere better than there, and the fried cunners, which come up to the rocks to be caught and cooked for supper—then there is no use in trying to have a good time. The Sagamore House, as now conducted, is certainly eminently worthy of patronage; and we are sure that very many of our readers are as yet unaware of the beauties and attractions of Frost's Point.

☞ The large three-story brick building on Church Hill, occupied by Mr. Joseph Henderson, ship and ornamental carver, caught fire about three o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Henderson had gone upon the roof for a few minutes, leaving a kettle of tar upon the stove; hearing the crackling of flames he hastened down, and found that the tar (of which there was but a small quantity,) had boiled over and taken fire. Papers had been nailed to the beams over head, to prevent the fall of dust, and the flames spread rapidly over them, but the fire was extinguished before the arrival of the engines. It was a narrow escape, as the room was filled with combustible material.

☞ On a dinner-visit to that ever-popular rural marine summer resort, the Atlantic House, Rye Beach, a day or two since, we were surprised to find the long tables entirely filled; and not less astonished, to learn from mine host J. C. Philbrick, that rarely if ever has the house entertained more company than during the past season—or rather, the present season, for there is yet left a few weeks of the most delightful of all weather for pleasure travelling, even to the Beaches. Let all who can, improve it; their health will be the stronger, and their lives the longer—while their purses need not be shortened much, at the present reduced rates of all the hotels.

☞ The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Steam Factory was held in this city on Tuesday. The meeting was called to order by Ex-Gov. Goodwin, President of the Corporation. The Report of the Treasurer showed a very satisfactory state of affairs considering the general prostration in this kind of business. The goods on hand and cotton are thought to be worth more to the Co. than if they had been sold and the notes of merchants received for them, which could not now be collected. After statements by the President and Mr. Wm. S. Eaton, the Treasurer, relative to the condition of the property, &c., the corporation unanimously re-elected A. R. H. Fernald, Esq., Proprietors' Clerk, and the old Board of Directors, consisting of Messrs. Ichabod Goodwin, Wm. P. Jones, John Knowlton, of this city, and William Sheafe, John A. Blanchard, Calvin W. Clark, Nathaniel Goddard of Boston.

☞ Mr. Andrew J. Hough of this city has received the appointment of Acting Carpenter in the Navy, and has been ordered to the U. S. steam sloop-of-war Lancaster, at Panama.

☞ Hon. Jos. B. Adams, of this city, who was Dep. U. S. Marshal under Ex-Marshal Gilman, has been appointed Deputy Marshal by U. S. Marshal Ela.

A dispatch to the N. Y. Herald states that two fires were set in Washington on Sunday morning, near the house where the female spies are imprisoned, and a body of men endeavored to enter the house under pretence of rescuing them from the flames, but the bayonets of the guards were in the way.

The rebels are concentrating a large force south of Alexandria, and erecting batteries near the mouth of the Occoquan river. Heavy firing was heard Tuesday morning from the direction of our lines on the other side of the Potomac, but the reports concerning it were contradictory.

What are called reliable reports state that the rebel forces in Virginia are 55,000.

The death of Jeff. Davis was reported at Washington on Tuesday, but the reporter of the Associated Press was unable to obtain reliable confirmation.

QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, pre-eminently good in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after wasting diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "that it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—they purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangement, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. When the system is surcharged in this manner, and common complaints, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Cleansing the internal passages of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons:

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her neck and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR DOC. AYER: I cannot answer you one complaint. I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever trust with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contact with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to fulfil your pose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are valuable in the treatment of a great number of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I add them to esteem as one of the best purgatives I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with signal efficiency among my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WERNER, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

J. MCMANAHAN, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

You much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the generator of others that are worse. I believe sufferers to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Sweet, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural throes in those wholly or partially supported, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkins, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PLEASANT HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on severe caking neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Boston Common, Jan. 5, 1856.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has kept me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its improper use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

☞ 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

HUTCHINS' HAIR DYE,
THE VERY BEST NOW IN USE, as many thousands who have tried it will testify.
The great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the richest natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring, it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

"EVERYBODY"
WHO USES
HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE
HAIR RESTORATIVE
Is convinced of the fact that
It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,
Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.
"ANYBODY"
Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and with as much safety—is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

MESSRS. W. E. Hagan & Co.—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four ist bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. DOSTERALL.

COMPOUND
Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.
TESTIMONIALS.
Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.
I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entire by cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex Member of Congress from Maine.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 5, 1861.

A REMARKABLE PAPER.—We have before us the Saco Democrat of Sept. 3, on the inside form of which are ten columns of reading matter, in small type. Under the head of War News, is a very brief notice of Butler and Stringham's victory at Hatteras Inlet; and there are two or three other news items. But all the remainder consists of articles calculated, and apparently designed, to give aid and comfort to Jeff. Davis and his crowd of rebels, traitors and robbers,—to discourage enlistments in the U. S. service,—to make our soldiers discontented and mutinous,—and in every possible way to strengthen the rebellion, to weaken the hands of our government, distress the loyal people, and promote anarchy and ruin.

It resembles our deceased Democratic Standard in its tone, and goes beyond it in bitterness.

If any of our traitors here are suffering for lack of the comfort they used to take in reading the Standard, New York Day Book and News,—they would do well to take the Saco Democrat, which would abundantly supply the loss of all three.

☞ The State election in Maine is to come off next Monday. No State issues are mentioned, that we see. National policy, and the War, are discussed. The Republican papers advocate the re election of Gov. Washburn.

The loyal Union Democratic papers support Col. Jameson, and they are said to be nine in number, including two dailies, viz, the Bath Times and Bangor Times. For Mr. Dana, the candidate of the "copperhead" or rebellion party, we are surprised to see only three papers named, viz., the Argus, which carries Dana's name, but talks mostly on the other side; the Saco Democrat, bitterly "secesh;" and the Machias Union, of which we know nothing.

Gov. Washburn's re-election is expected by every intelligent person, and by a large majority. The real contest is between those Democrats who wish to sustain the government by crushing the rebellion, and those who wish to see the rebels crush the government and rule the country.

A similar contest took place in the same party at Charleston,—and this conflict in Maine grows out of it. The rebel peace party in Maine is led by the dismissed Buchanan office-holders and the defeated Breckinridge men.

Since writing the above, the Bath Times has furnished us with a more accurate item, as follows:

The papers in Maine which support Jameson and Union are the Augusta Age, Bellast Journal, Rockland Free Press, Bangor Times, Bath Times, and Lewiston Advocate. The Dana papers are the Saco Democrat, Anson Advocate, and Machias Union. The Argus supports Dana, but kicks the platform and spits at the convention. The Farmington Patriot is in a quandary, but will doubtless support Dana.

VERMONT ELECTION took place on Tuesday. For Governor, Frederick Holbrook of Brattleboro' was voted for by the straight Republicans, and a portion of the Liberal Democrats. B. H. Smalley, of Swanton, was supported by the straight Democrats, and Andrew Tracey, of Woodstock, by the Union party.

Returns from 37 towns give Holbrook 6597, Smalley 1050, Tracey 841. The same towns last year gave Fairbanks (Republican) 6595, Saxe (Douglas Democrat) 2512, and Harvey (Breckinridge Democrat) 369.

If this proportion holds good through the State, Holbrook will have a larger majority now, than Gov. Fairbanks or President Lincoln did last year, though the vote is smaller. Lincoln had about 25,000 plurality, and Gov. Fairbanks about 22,000.

The rebellion has not many friends in Vermont.

Of 47 Representatives chosen, 39 are Republicans, 8 Union and 1 Democrat. Of the Union men several are known to be strong Republicans.

☞ It is a common practice for mothers and servants to push before them the little carriage in which they are giving infants an airing on pleasant days. It is believed by medical writers, that infants have died from disease produced by this unnatural exercise of riding backwards.

☞ The relations between the European and Japanese governments are likely to be disturbed. Foreign merchants are being robbed in open day, and the Japanese government is believed to sanction these proceedings.

THE REBELLION.—The Naval Retiring Board has been appointed, with Com. Paulding as chairman.

Hon. C. H. Foster, Union member of Congress from North Carolina, has reached Philadelphia on his way to Washington, to consult with the administration.

The rebels are unquestionably establishing batteries upon the Potomac, to annoy our commerce, and are acting with great secrecy, that when everything is ready, they may strike a blow all the more effective.

The government has telegraphic advices from Gen. Rosecrans, intimating that al. is right with his command, which were forwarded since the publication of the Richmond papers announcing his alleged surrender to Lee.

A highly complimentary letter has been addressed to Com. Stringham by the Secretary of the Navy.

The sword of Com. Barron has been presented to the President. The rebel Commodore was captured in full regimentals, and wearing the eagles and stars of the government he so basely deserted.

It is thought that in the skirmishes between our troops and the rebels on Saturday, near Munson's Hill, the rebels suffered a loss of one of their commanding officers. A general officer was seen on the slope of the hill, taking observations. Major Minturn, of the 2d Irish Volunteers, fired at him with a rifled musket, and the ball took effect. Sunday and Monday the rebel flags at Munson's Hill and at Falls Church were at half mast, indicating the death of a prominent man.

It is said that Gen. McClellan is so well assured of the entire safety of the Capital, that other regiments under way will undoubtedly be sent in expeditions to all the Southern coast. The Hatteras expedition is but the commencement of operations for which the Navy Department has made ample preparations, and which will be rapidly developed.

A Washington letter says that $700,000 in Treasury notes, mostly of small denominations, were sent to Gen. Fremont last Friday.

The steamer Powhattan has re captured a prize to the Sumter, with the latter's mail bag on board, which indicated the position she would occupy for some time, and so the Powhattan went in pursuit. If the latter falls in with the pirate craft, she will take her or sink in the attempt, for Com'r D. D. Porter does not do things by halves.

The rebels in southern Missouri are retreating towards Arkansas. Gen. Price, however, is moving towards Jefferson City.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 28th ult. publishes a letter from Pensacola, Fla., received at Savannah, stating that the crew of the pirate Jeff. Davis had arrived there, that vessel having been wrecked on the bar while trying to get into St. Augustine.

Letters from rebel soldiers at Richmond state that the troops are in a sad state of destitution, being barefooted and in want of clothing. The skins in a tannery were taken dripping from the vats to convert into shoes. All the horses of Union and Secession farmers were seized, creating the greatest dissatisfaction. Want of confidence is increasing daily, the hopes of the rebels being kept up by reports that the federal government had only 30,000 troops around Washington, and found it impossible to recruit any more.

There is said to be much dissatisfaction in Ben McCulloch's army.

The New York Day Book has been suspended. Cause, the refusal of the government to convey it through the mails.

The Attorney General has decided that the U. S. loan is not taxable, either by State or local authorities.

A gentleman from Richmond informs the Louisville Journal that he was captured at Mathias Point, on his way North, and returned to Richmond for trial. He reports that the number of rebels in Virginia is greatly exaggerated at the North and at Richmond. The actual number does not exceed 70,000 in the State, many of whom are down with sickness, thus corroborating the statement of Southern papers that fully fifty per cent. of their fighting men are in the hospital. He further says that on Saturday Davis was very ill, with little hope of his recovery. The Journal's informant on his trial at Richmond proved himself an Englishman, and was released.

John C. Batwing has been arrested in New York for endeavoring to induce the captain of a schooner to go to Nassau to take a cargo of cannon to Wilmington, N. C. He was sent to Fort Lafayette.

The prisoners taken from the Hatteras forts are to be transferred from the Minnesota to the bulk of the Brandywine.

IS THERE AN INTERMEDIATE STATE?—On Sunday, Aug. 25th, Professor Hitchcock of Union College, New York, preached an able discourse in State street Church in Portland, asserting the doctrine of an intermediate state after death, until the final judgment. Last Sabbath Dr. Carruthers, pastor of the 2d Parish in this city, preached full as ably against the doctrine. "Who shall decide when Doctors disagree?" Portland Argus.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

Mr. T. M. Shattuck, of Nashua, was considerably injured Tuesday, by the premature discharge of a cannon, while firing a salute during the passage of the Third New Hampshire regiment through that city.

—— The Third New Hampshire Regiment, and five regiments being raised by Massachusetts, it is said, are to compose a part of a division of 10,000 men, to be obtained entirely in New England, and to be employed on special service. Brigadier General Sherman, whose reputation as an artillery officer is confined to no section of the country, will command this fine body of troops. The N. H. Fourth and Fifth Regiments will probably be connected with it.

—— Miss Adams, the daughter of Wm. Adams of Manchester, took prussic acid on Monday morning, in consequence of her brother enlisting, and came very near dying. She is now considered out of danger.

—— The Governor has received orders from headquarters to get the Fourth Regiment ready to start by the 17th inst., without fail, cost what it may. The contracts now made for it, close on the 14th. Some of the tents will be ready Thursday, and the balance next Monday, when all the soldiers will be put into Camp Sullivan.—There are about 200 now in camp at Manchester.

—— The Manchester Mirror tells the following story of the hasty marriage of one of the Lieutenants of the Third Regiment, now on its way to New York. It appears that he was visited at the camp by a lady from Manchester, about a week ago, and as the regiment was supposed to be about to start, she expressed a desire to go with them. He told her she could go, and the same evening they were married at the Eagle Hotel. The Lieutenant's name is Robert H. Allen, of Capt. Donohoe's Company, and the lady is well known in Manchester.

—— The whole number which left Concord in the Third Regiment must have reached nearly 1300. There was a detachment of new recruits for the Second Regiment which accompanied the Third.

☞ The U. S. steamer Harriet Lane, which got ashore in Hatteras Inlet, having been floated, now appears to be entirely uninjured from the accident, her only loss being the four guns and a quantity of shell thrown overboard.

It is believed that her guns may be fished up, as their precise locality may be easily found. Most of the U. S. land forces remain in the forts at Hatteras Inlet, and the Pawnee has gone through the inlet, and lays, inside the bay, prepared to give the enemy a warm greeting, should any attempt at capture be made from the landward side. Everything had been put in good condition to repel any attack either from land or water.

LOST CHILD.—The Portland Advertiser states that, on Tuesday of last week, a little girl two years and ten months old, daughter of Mrs. Heath, residing on Wetmore Island, near Bucksport, Me., strayed from home. The little creature was but very scantily clad, and had no protection for her head. Search was made for her that night without success. The next day the citizens to the number of 300 assembled and, as they supposed, swept the island without finding the girl. The search was, however, kept up all day Thursday, but nothing could be found of her, and on Friday the child was given up by most of them as being drowned. Some of the party, however, still kept up the search, and on Friday afternoon discovered the girl among some tall brakes picking blackberries. She had been exposed three days and three nights, and through a heavy rain storm, and had sustained herself by eating berries.—She did not complain of hunger when restored to her mother, or of having suffered anything. It was a remarkable escape.

ITALY.—A terrible affair has occurred at Potelandolfo A company of Italian soldiers arriving there were received by the National Guards; but the people were treacherous. While partaking of the refreshments offered them, the people massacred 39 of them. Next day the troops surrounded, bombarded and totally destroyed the town by fire. One hundred and fifty people were burnt or bayonetted.

Two supposed assassins had attemped to enter Garibaldi's house by night. They escaped, although one was wounded.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Charles Goddard, of Maine, Consul General to Constantinople, sails to-day.

A dispatch from Washington says the Government has assurances of unusual briskness in the recruiting business throughout the country. Recruits average five thousand daily.

A schooner filled with powder was seized yesterday near the Croton Aqueduct, and the captain arrested on suspicion of an intent to blow up the works.

The Northern Light, from Aspinwall, brought 30,000 stand of arms for the Government.

Joshua Ward won the four miles scull race yesterday. Time, twenty-four minutes.

There was an enthusiastic demonstration last night at Irving Hall, complimentary to Joseph Holt, who made a patriotic address to the Chamber of Commerce.

☞ The R. B. Forbes got off Cape Charles Sunday night with three feet of water in her hold, and proceeded to Washington Tuesday morning for repairs. She would have gone to pieces had not the weather been unusually mild.

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is cleansed of every impurity, and so arranged and combined that all unhealthy and injurious properties are stricken out, while Carbonic acid, the only active property remaining, is held in check until set free, thus evolving a gas by means of which Bread is raised, and each acid thus destroyed, which makes it suitable for the most delicate or dyspeptic stomach. Try one paper, and you never will have any other. Grocers and Druggists keep it.

The Oxygenated Bitters, aside from their being the best remedy which medical science and research have discovered for the cure of Dyspepsia, are an irresistible cure for scurvy. No vessel should go to sea without a supply of this boon to the sea-faring man.

MARRIED,

In Union Village, Wakefield, N. H., Sept. 1st, by Elder Joseph Spinney, Mr. J. FRANKLIN ATTRS of Portsmouth to MISS HATTIE S DOWNS of Union.

DIED,

In Newington, on Tuesday evening, September 3d, JOHN MILLER FURBER, Esq., aged 57 years and 7 months,—a man of most exemplary industry, honesty and kindness; faultless in the relations of husband, father, friend and citizen. He had represented his town in the General Court of New Hampshire; but was otherwise little known out of his native place, though he enjoyed the respect, esteem, and confidence of every person who knew him there or elsewhere.

His death was sudden. Being in the field at work on Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock, he was taken ill, probably with an affection of the heart, and died at an early hour in the evening.

Funeral this (Thursday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from his late residence.

At Washington, D. C., on Monday Eve., 2d inst., MRS. MARIA T. LADD, aged 74 years, widow of the late Alexander Ladd.

Funeral on Friday afternoon, at a quarter to four o'clock, from her late residence in this city.

Juvenile Singing Class,

FOR MISSES.

The Second Term of MR TILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms,—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote. This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented as complete success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a portable class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston.—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering my health, though wishing for this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ. WHEELER.

References can now be given to some of the principal Physicians and numerous individuals in this vicinity, who have used the above remedy with the fullest success in various cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Sore Throat, Influenza, Irritation of the Uvula, &c., &c. The success of this remedy has been fully tested in various parts, where the moisture of the climate induces great prevalence of Colds, &c., and a certainty of the efficiency of a remedy is required to avoid Consumption and ultimate death. This remedy, although only recently introduced in this vicinity, has met with a great demand, and every confidence is placed in its merits by those who have given it a fair and impartial trial.

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Boonboro', Md., Feb. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar:—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested, undoubtedly, with nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. Never seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, procure your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. I care truly, yours, H. H. SWIN.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—modernting excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

☞ A member of the Second N. H. Regiment, who is himself a prisoner at Richmond, communicates to the Manchester Mirror, a list of the names of forty-two members of the regiment who are now prisoners there. The list differs quite essentially from that previously published, which contained but twenty-eight names, and we therefore publish it, although we have no means of determining which is the more accurate. It is as follows:

Heman Allen, John A Barker, A. B. Bailey, John H. Harry, Joseph Burleigh, John Davis, Thurlow A. Emerson, Geo. C. Emerson, Moses L. Eastman, John L. Fitts, Galen A. Grout, A. L. Hall, Albert B. Robinson, Frank F. Wetherby, wounded in the leg, Frank K. Tucker, Samuel M. Joy, William H. Walker, wounded in side, W. Lord, wounded in leg, Alden T. Kidder, Reuben F. Stevens, Charles H. Perry, Christy Jones, George E. Dow, Thomas E. Barker, Henry West, Henry Emerson, W. C. Haynes, Clark Stevens, wounded in thigh, Alonzo D. Leathers, Jacob Hall, 1st Sergeant, Charles Rich, Daniel Martin, Geo. H. Clay, Andrew L. Allen, Wyman W. Holden, Henry Moore, Levi W. Colbath, Joseph B. Morse, Musician, John F. Wheeler, Charles Chase, Henry Tibbetts, John Rice.

The above list does not include the names of at least two members of Co. K, who it is quite certain have been prisoners at Richmond, and who probably are there now.

☞ Col. Marston, of Exeter, has so far recovered from the wound he received at Bull Run that he will leave for the seat of war in a few days.

LATEST.—The Petersburg, Va., Express of Monday, says a portion of the wounded at Fort Hatteras escaped on a steamboat. It gives the rebel killed and wounded at about 80. It states that at 8 o'clock Sunday night it was known at Goldsboro' that a formidable Yankee fleet was in sight of Fort Mason, which commands the entrance to Beaufort Harbor. This is spoken of as the most formidable fortification on the N. C. coast. An attack was expected on Monday morning. The excitement throughout N. C. and Eastern Virginia is intense. It is rumored that Washington, N. C., has been destroyed by the Yankees.

The Richmond papers are in ecstacies at the occupation of Munson Hill and declare that a forward movement will soon be made. It is reported that Congressman Ely will soon be released. No mention is made of the illness of Jeff. Davis.

It is stated that Gov. Magoffin, of Kentucky, refuses to play into the hands of the rabid secessionists, and that he has had a quarrel with Breckinridge. He refuses to demand the breaking up of the Federal camp in Garrard County, and declares that he will submit to the will of the majority of the people, as expressed through the Legislature.

The gunboat Wyandotte from Fort Pickens, Aug. 23, has arrived at New York. The health of our troops was good. Bragg's troops had made a general stampede, having deserted in large numbers and gone home.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's Washington correspondent reiterates the report of the death of Jeff. Davis, and says it is generally believed in Washington.

The Tribunes correspondent says that Jeff. Davis has long had a disease of the optic nerve, threatening a cancerous result, and that his physician apprised him that death would speedily follow the extension of the disease to the brain.

☞ Jos. H. Safford, of Lawrence, Mass., lately in the employ of Lieut. Cate of the Capitol Bakery at Washington, is now confined in the Insane Hospital in that city.—His insanity was brought on by an over amount of care for his work, and it is hoped will be but temporary.

☞ It is thought a dangerous thing to board a man of war; but we have known fifty soldiers, each a man of war, boarded by a single landlord—but he was a host.—Louisville Journal.

☞ The Minister of Public Instruction has acknowledged the right of Protestants to open schools in France.

☞ Four tons of cotton seed are being shipped monthly to India from Suez. The prospects are very favorable.

☞ Holland has officially recognized the Kingdom of Italy. Prussia will do the same.

☞ A flag of truce has arrived at Fortress Monroe from Norfolk with the crews of the barques Rowena and Glen, schooner Mary Alice, and brig Joseph, all captured by the pirates. The captain of the Mary Alice is almost direct from Charleston, and reports that the force there does not exceed 4000, and that they apprehended an attack from the recent naval expedition. Congressman Ely is still at Richmond, and has to take his turn at cooking and carrying water for the prisoners. Col. Corcoran was lately put in irons several hours for refusing to answer to his name at roll call. Butter at Richmond was worth 50 cents, hams 30, and coffee 45.

☞ A young girl, who was a passenger on the Wheeling and Pittsburgh packet, on her downward trip on Wednesday, accidentally fell from the steamer into the river at Wellsville. A Methodist minister, who witnessed the accident, threw off his coat and plunged in to the rescue. The girl caught the minister by the neck as soon as he approached her, and for a time it was thought both would be lost, but after a brave struggle the preacher brought her out safe.

ATWOOD'S QUININE TONIC BITTERS,

The Best Aromatic Tonic ever offered to the Public.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and undeviating support of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a reliable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and aromatic herbs, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, possessing a delicate aroma, well adapted to dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhea, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may feel assured, there is not one be any better general remedy.

One of the very best physicians in Boston has said, "and it is the general opinion of Bitters that he has offered to the public."

Put up in half-pint as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and languishing? Are you troubled with your system disordered, your spirits depressed, your blood impure, or corrupted? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness, and if neglected, disease is creeping upon you, and should be arrested by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors, purify the blood, and let the fresh current of health again flow through your veins. Let the health of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the slight ailments which make thousands miserable, and from other well known public properties.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1859.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her mouth. Mine and our child were cured, also, by your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the judest of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR SIR, AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say of them in our great work on a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course raise them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache when my body has been by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose of an aperient, but I find their peculiar influence upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficient for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I am acquainted with. I rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., Feb. 18, 1854.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease to eradicate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhea, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhoea. Their mild operation renders them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Hines, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I visit in sickness. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HINES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1854.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills in the cure of costiveness. I believe I could cure more cases of it with them than I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, after all, is the cause of much of the prevalence of others that are worse. I believe we should be obliged to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that system and cure the disease.

From Mr. E. Sweet, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretions, when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to expel the gloomy and morbid humors. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other in my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawks, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains which defied the skill of the ablest physicians. Nevertheless, I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Mr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SYMPTOMS CHANGING, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Mo. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SIDDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These Pills are entirely free from Mercury, and all other injurious ingredients.

☞ 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

HUTCHINS' HAIR DYE,

THE VERY BEST NOW IN USE, as many thousands who have tried it will testify.

The great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application—leaving but one application. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

"EVERYBODY"

WHO USES
HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE
HAIR RESTORATIVE
Is convinced of the fact that
It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,
Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.
"ANYBODY"
Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and with as much safety—is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.,—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bill bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. BOSWYNALL.

COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. Its an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well.—D. B. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Boylston Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entire ly cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 18, 1860.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 89 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1861.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2d.

Dear Chronicle:—The City Hall has been a point of sad interest for the two days past, and with others we wandered through its marble halls, glanced into the aldermanic sanctum, where stand the chairs in which, were oft seated the forms of the first Congressmen of the United States, and the one in which Washington was inaugurated; and thought how elated George would feel, to see it to-day upholding the form of our honored Mayor, Fernando. Then, leaving these relics of an olden time, we passed on to the Governor's Room, with its walls decorated with valuable paintings, where thro' the holy hours of this Autumn's first sabbath, lay all that on earth remained of the gallant General Lyon. Members detailed from the 7th Regiment guarded the casket, which was placed but a few feet from the writing desk of Washington, and from the smile-wreathed lips of the almost speaking canvass on the walls, praises seemed to fall in honor of the dead.

It was a most impressive scene. On the casket were wreaths of immortelles, and the General's hat and sword, and over it in wavy folds flowed the Star Spangled Banner, while on all sides were the life-like forms of Presidents, statesmen, and generals, whose names illumine the glorious galaxy of patriots to which God has seen fit to add another star.

Not less imposing is the military cortege which is now escorting his remains to the depot, headed by a troop of cavalry, followed by the Seventh Regiment, and the brigade and regimental officers stationed in the city and vicinage. After these, follows the hearse drawn by six white-plumed, jet black horses, guided by snow-white silken reins, while the members of the city government in carriages bring up the rear.

Onward with spotless uniforms and solid tread the escort marches, passing before the eyes of the thousands waiting to witness the solemn pageant, while

"Our hearts, like muffled drums are beating
Funeral marches to the grave."

And so closes the grand display in honor of the brave general; but the officer ushered to the grave by regiment on regiment, and the private, dying alone on the battle-field, or in prison, appear alike before the throne on High, bearing on their foreheads in letters of fire the talismanic words, "I died for my country," and live in bliss forever more, knowing that God has said "He who loseth his life for my sake shall save it."

On dit, that the Committee of Safety, for the Regulation of the Universe, headquarters at the extreme end of Sandy Hook, are about to offer the following premiums: $50, for the name of any prominent politician not qualified to serve as Colonel of a regiment; and $500, to the owners of any vessel recently arrived, which has not been chased by at least "three long, low, rakish looking craft, one supposed to be the Jeff. Davis!"

Privateers seem to be getting as numerous as children in Utah. NEWINGTON.

☞ A special dispatch from Eastport, Me., gives an account of the capture of the ship Alice Ball by the revenue cutter Arago. She had no register or other papers, except a Liverpool clearance, and when overhauled, she was sailing under the secession flag. This is the third prize of the Arago. The Alice Ball is an A 1 ship of 892 tons, and was built in 1857, by Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, in this city.—Three-quarters of the vessel belongs to different parties in Portsmouth, and the other quarter to Mr. Peter Marcy of New Orleans.

TRAITOR ARRESTED IN NORWICH.—Henry L. Reynolds of Mobile, a native and former resident of Norwich, Conn., was arrested in Norwich on the 30th ult., by direction from Washington. He has been in the hardware business in Mobile for several years, in partnership with one Jack Henderson, a secessionist of considerable notoriety. His wife, a niece of Mr. Corcoran, of the firm of Corcoran & Riggs, bankers, has been spending the summer in Washington, and is known there as one of the most violent of the female secessionists. Reynolds spent most of the summer in Washington, claiming to be a sound Union man, and having free access to our camps. In the meantime he was carrying on an extensive correspondence of a highly treasonable character with the rebels. He was conveyed, Saturday evening, to the traitors' castle.—Fort Lafayette.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Col. John H. Gage of Nashua, has consented to accept the position of Quartermaster General, and has entered upon the duties of his office.

—— As Dea. Frederick Eaton and wife of Warner, were going to church Sunday, the 18th ult., their horse, while drinking at a trough, became frightened and dashing down a descending road with great speed, upset the wagon and threw Mrs. Eaton, a lady seventy years of age, with such violence upon the ground as to cause her death ten days after. Dea. Eaton was severely injured, and the carriage completely demolished. About the same time, an old gentleman in Bradford, by the name of Knight, was thrown from a carriage and killed.

—— The Ballot states that James M. Bowley has been arrested on suspicion of having murdered Mr. John Marsh and wife, at Exeter, and burning their dwelling house on Sunday morning, to conceal his crime. Mr. Marsh is represented as having been an honest and harmless, but very intemperate man, and his wife shared his infirmity, if not his virtues; but Bowley is reputed a miserable sot, without any redeeming qualities.

—— At 12 o'clock Tuesday night, B. W. Cram and James Jack escaped from their cell in Exeter jail by removing a plate of iron, having sawed the rivets. They passed into the attic and thence, through a window, upon the roof of the L. The noise of their operations awakened Mr. Chas. Brown, a son of the jailor, who immediately sprang upon the roof, seized them both, and called for help. In the struggle that ensued Jack broke away, jumped from the roof of the L, and escaped. Cram was held until help came, and was secured. Jack belonged in Derry, and was imprisoned for theft.

—— John S. Brown Esq. has resigned his office as jailor in Exeter, being about to remove to Chelsea, Mass. Sheriff Adams has appointed N. K. Leavitt, Esq., to the post thus vacated.

—— One of the celebrated Towle oxen of mamoth proportions breathed his last in Hampton on Saturday.

—— The Dover Enquirer states that Whittier, the Quaker poet, in company with another Friend, passed over the Cocheco Railroad, on Monday, returning from the Lake. During their conversation the Friend told Whittier that he was on his way to contract to furnish a lot of oak timber at Dover, which he knew would be used in building the Gun Boats at Portsmouth, and asking whether it was exactly consistent with the doctrines of the Friends.—Without settling the question Whittier took his hand, and as he turned to leave, said, "Moses, if thee does furnish any of that oak timber, be sure it is all sound."

☞ The Congregational Journal informs us that Rev. Nathaniel S. Folsom was licensed to preach the Gospel, at a late meeting of the Essex North Association, Mass. The Association passed the following vote:

Whereas, Prof. Nathaniel S. Folsom, late of Meadville Theological School, has appeared before us to be examined and recommended to the Orthodox churches in New England as a sound theologian and a worthy preacher of the Gospel, having passed a satisfactory examination, he is hereby recommended to the confidence of our churches, as well qualified for the important work, in scholarship, piety and correctness in the faith

Mr. Folsom is a native of Portsmouth, graduated at Dartmouth College in 1828, and at Andover in 1831. After spending a few years as a Professor in Lane Seminary, he was settled as pastor of the orthodox Congregational church in Francestown, and afterwards in Providence, R. I., where he became a Unitarian. He has since been pastor of a Unitarian Society, minister at large in Charlestown, Mass., editor of the Christian Register, and more recently a Professor in the Unitarian Seminary at Meadville. The Congregational Journal recommends him to the fellowship and patronage of the orthodox churches.

TO WHOM THE CREDIT BELONGS.—The New York Tribune's Washington correspondent says:—

"Whatever credit attaches to the Hatteras expedition belongs to the Naval Department, which planned, and the fleet under Commodore Stringham, which accomplished it. It was not until after repeated and urgent appeals that the small land force, which was absolutely necessary, was reluctantly granted by the Commander-in-Chief.

We don't quite believe this story to be true. If it is, it ought not to be.

The N. Y. Times thinks the success at Hatteras, with its magnificent fruits, leaves no room for questioning the wisdom of attacking the enemy by sea. Let us be assured from Washington that "this sort of thing" is not to stop with one victory, but that it is to be followed up quickly and with redoubled forces. This news will give the people pluck, and Mr. Chase as much money as he wants.

☞ The Treasurer of the Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society acknowledges the receipt of $18.26, from the sale of remainder of Linen, used for Havelocks for 3d Regt.

Sept. 5, 1861.

—THE NEW TREASURY NOTES.—The Boston Post's money article of Thursday remarks:—

The new small notes of the United States are as handsome as they are good. If we are to have paper money at all, these Government issues, payable on demand, in specie, at either of the four great points of the loyal States, are the best that can be made. They will be a blessing to the West, which is temporarily suffering from the lack of a decent circulating medium, and even at the East they will do no harm if their tendency is to repress merely local circulations. If the country is to be afflicted with paper money of small denominations (and it appears that the people will have it) the Government can furnish the best kind. On this ground we advocate the permanent issue of one hundred millions of dollars, payable in specie on demand, to serve as a general circulation, at par at all points. Twenty millions of specie, distributed at four or five places, would be ample as a redeeming fund, beyond all question.

The New York banks have actually paid in $10,500,000 of the thirty-five millions taken by them, of the 8.40 loan. Where is the London Times, which has so much to say about our financial embarrassments?

KENTUCKY ALL RIGHT.—A dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune, dated Frankfort, Ky., 2d, states that Governor Magoffin has privately declared that he will sustain the action of the Legislature, whatever it may be, to the extent of his power. The Senate is occupied on contested seat cases. The Legislature will abandon the neutrality position, and vote to raise Kentucky's quota of troops and assume her portion of the military tax levy, without putting the government to the trouble of collecting it.

☞ The New York Democratic State Convention, which convened at Syracuse Wednesday afternoon, organized by the choice of Mr. Heman Redfield, as President. After long debate, the report of the minority of the Committee on Elections, admitting both the Tammany Hall and Mozart Hall delegations, was adopted. Thereupon the Tammany delegates with drew for consultation. It was expected that they would bolt, and unite with the Republicans.

☞ The Austrian government opposes the marriage of the junior officers of its army, and after one-sixth of the officers of a regiment are married, others must apply for permission to wed. No pensions are granted to the widows of officers; on the contrary, an army officer desiring to marry must deposit government securities to the amount of $3000 with the regimental paymaster, for the support of his widow in case of his death.

☞ The editor of the Lake Superior (Marquette, Mich.) Journal has seen four "huck cherries," which, in the aggregate, weighed half an ounce, (128 to the pound.) They were almost the size of ordinary grapes, and they are often so thickly set upon the bushes that they very much resemble long clusters of grapes.

☞ Apropos of the "hot corn" trade, it is estimated that not less than one thousand colored people are employed in selling boiled corn in the streets of Philadelphia. They may be found in almost every street down town, with their cleanly scoured wooden tubs, a snow white towel, fork and cup of salt.

A VENERABLE DRUM.—They have a drum in the Ohio 5th Regiment, now on duty in Missouri, which is carried by a boy named Banks. His grandfather beat it in the old revolutionary time—his father carried it in the Mexican war, and it is now a third time made available during one of our great historical epochs.

☞ The color of the new three-cent postage stamps has faded since they were printed, owing to a defect in the ink. In a very short time the stamps will be issued in a brighter tint.

☞ The English royal salute is henceforth to consist of the first six bars of "God save the Queen," played twice over for her Majesty, and once only for any other member of the royal family.

A NEW COMEDY, entitled "Uncle Robert; or, Love's Labor Saved," written by a member of the Suffolk Bar, was produced at the Boston Museum, on Monday evening.

☞ The small pox has made its appearance at North Berwick, causing a general stampede out of town. The disease had become pretty well inoculated before the real truth was ascertained.

It turns out that the recent opposition to the contribution at St. John's Church, for the aid of wounded volunteers, came from three parishioners, one of whom married a wife at the South, and the other two are office holders under the general government under appointments made some time since.—Ballot.

The annual cost of working the railways of Great Britain and Ireland, exclusive of rates and Government duties, is sixty millions of dollars.

☞ The rebel occupation of Munson Hill has, in some respect been overvalued. It does not command a single one of our positions.

THE REBELLION.—A dispatch from Gen. Rosencrans speaks very encouragingly of affairs in Western Virginia.

It is reported that the rebels are concentrating near Chain Bridge.

A dispatch from Columbus, Ky., says three federal gunboats and one transport had arrived opposite there with a large number of men. It is thought their purpose was to seize Columbus and attack Gen. Pillow.

The gunboats Taylor and Lexington had an engagement off Hickman, Ky., with the rebel gunboat Yankee, Wednesday afternoon. Two batteries on shore, supported by 1500 rebels, also fired upon our boats, but none of their shots took effect. The Taylor and Lexington fired about twenty shots, but with what effect is not known.

In one town of Martin county, Indiana, with only 1375 inhabitants, seven companies have been raised for the war. In another a gentleman worth only $40,000, has expended $10,000 in cash for the families of volunteers, and is willing to give all to the cause.

The two vacancies in the Kentucky Senate were filled on Wednesday by the choice of Union men. It is understood that the Union members of the Legislature have telegraphed to the President that they do not sustain the policy of Gen. Fremont in respect to slaves.

Cyrus F. Sargent and Octavius F. Hill, of Yarmouth, Me., who have been doing business at the South, were arrested on Wednesday by the U. S. Marshal, by order of the Secretary of War.

The U. S. Marshal on Tuesday seized the interest of the rebels in merchandise now for sale in Cincinnati, amounting to $50,000.

The pirate Sumter is on the track of the California steamers.

Hon. D. S. Dickinson addressed a mass meeting at Oswego, N. Y., severely handling all sympathizers with treason.

There are hints of discussion in the rebel cabinet at Richmond, which must mean something, or they would not be exposed as they are in the Southern papers.

The Charleston papers are violent in their denunciations of the arrogance and inofficiency of the Virginians, and hint very plainly that Davis is not the leader for the emergency.

The Charleston Courier says the chivalry of the South positively refuse to recognize their privateersmen as gentlemen.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce learns, from undoubted authority, that the rebel officers captured at Hatteras admit that they received information from Fortress Monroe of the intended expedition.

A correspondent of a Charleston paper complains of the currency of "five to fifty cents" used in South Carolina as a substitute for specie. The writer sent a 20-cent bill, which was tattered and torn, to the bank to be redeemed, and the answer was that they had no new bills.

The officer in charge of the loyal prisoners at Richmond is Major Todd, a brother-in-law of President Lincoln.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Times asserts in the most explicit manner that the Emperor Napoleon sympathizes most heartily and thoroughly with our government, and that he will do nothing whatever to afford the rebels the slightest encouragement for the prosecution of their schemes.

Paris letters say the bankers in that city would take the whole of the American loan, if necessary—just to spite the London Stock Exchange.

The news from Richmond indicates an onward movement of the rebels. They could not come at a better time; Gen. McClellan is all ready for them, and they express their readiness to die for their country,—so both parties will be suited.

A MASS UNION MEETING is to be held at Raymond Centre on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 10th. It is got up without regard to political parties. Its object is to create and cherish a healthy public sentiment in support of the National Government in the present crisis, and to wake up the people in that section of the State to their rights, dangers and duties.

Hon. Walter Harriman of Warner, (Dem.,) Hon. Wm. C. Clark of Manchester, (Dem.,) and Col. Gilman H. Tucker of Raymond, (Repub.,) will address the meeting. His Excellency Gov. Berry will also be present. Several military companies from Raymond and vicinity will parade, and the Raymond Cornet Band will furnish music. All are invited, and it is hoped there will be—as there should be—a very large and enthusiastic meeting.

CACTUS ROPE.—A number of machines have recently been made in Hartford for the separation of the fibres from the pulp of the leaves of a species of cactus which grows in Central America and Mexico, and which is used for the manufacture of a very desirable rope. A company with a large capital has been formed in New York, for the manufacture of this substance into twine and rope for ships' rigging, and other purposes where tenacity and durability are required.

The Captain, first and second mates, boatswain and carpenter of the steamer R. B. Forbes, have all been arrested and double ironed. The vessel lies at the Washington Navy Yard.

The crew testify that these officers had been drunk and unfit for duty for most of the time since leaving Boston.

There was more skirmishing on Wednesday morning, near Bailey's Cross Roads.—The Federal loss was two killed; rebel loss 20 wounded and 5 prisoners. The Federals were driven once from the Point, but recaptured it.

Prof. Lowe on Wednesday made another ascension, accompanied by Gens. McDowell and Porter and Dr. Magruder.

A detachment of a Mass. regiment, captured, on Monday, twenty-two Charleston Home Guards at Harper's Ferry.

A flag of truce from Norfolk was bro't to Fortress Monroe on Wednesday, with the baggage of the released seaman, who arrived Tuesday. They report the North Carolina rebels terribly exasperated over our recent victory.

The floating battery, said to have been towed from Norfolk to Sewall's Point, exists only in the imagination.

Prince Napoleon and suite arrived at St. Louis, Wednesday evening, and took rooms at the Planters' House. A military escort was provided by General Fremont to attend the Prince from the depot to his quarters on the arrival of the train at 8:30. The escort waited on the Levee till 9 P. M., when it was ascertained that the Prince and his suite had entered the city two hours before.

It was reported that J. W. Reed, member of Congress from Missouri, is raising a regiment in his district for the rebel army.

It is estimated that twenty thousand persons participated in serenade to Commodore Stringham at Brooklyn, Wednesday night.

☞ The N. Y. Democratic Convention at Syracuse, on Thursday, by a vote of 114 to 87, reconsidered the vote admitting both the N. Y. city delegations. The Tammany delegation alone was admitted, thus excluding the Mozarters or peace wing. A scene of great excitement followed.

☞ A despatch from Philadelphia states that two armorers at the Frankfort Arsenal were arrested on Thursday, on a charge of supplying cannon primers to the rebels.

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is cleansed of every impurity, and so arranged and combined that all unhealthy and injurious properties are stricken out, while Carbonic acid, the only active property remaining, is held in check until set free, thus envolving a gas by means of which Bread is raised, and each acid thus destroyed, which makes it suitable for the most delicate or dyspeptic stomach. Try one paper, and you never will have any other. Grocers and Druggists keep it.

The Oxygenated Bitters, aside from their being the best remedy which medical science and research have discovered for the cure of Dyspepsia, are an irresistible cure for scurvy. No vessel should go to sea without a supply of this boon to the sea-faring man.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, in power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston.—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At a stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the slight sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

☞ Rev. Henry Budge, who has been on trial at Rome, N. Y., for the murder of his wife, has been acquitted. He was a clergyman in Lewis county, and a controversy had sprung up between rival societies for the possession of his house of worship.—While it was at the hottest, Mrs. Budge, who had been for some time insane, was found in bed with her throat cut. The party adverse to him got control of a coroner's jury, and laid the crime at his door, but he was acquitted without calling a witness.

Juvenile Singing Class,

FOR MISSES.

The Second Term of MR. TILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms,—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Boonsboro', Md., Feb. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after witnessing your preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I felt so well satisfied with your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,
(Editor of the Odd Fellow.)

JOHN B. GAYESS, No. 94 Elm Street.

HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin, need be so no longer, if they use "Costar's" Exterminators. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they effected nothing; but Costar's article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Medina (O.) Gazette.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system disarranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and drive out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous action, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. Then, if not relieved, reset upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, epidemics prevail. The derangements take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. When this is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. Those who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statement from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons:

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her face and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

LSA SHELDON.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Carterright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild and very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever truthfully a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing so I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1858.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been completely cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PIERLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirable adapted to the purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Extensively yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I could them in esteem as one of the best specimens of medicine I ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their superior excellence makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Hiner, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston

DR. AYER: I need your Pills with satisfactory success in my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best medicine I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HINES.

WILKIN, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

Yours, JOHN G. MCADAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the public. I have cured a case that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural action when wholly or partially prostrate, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are as much the best physic we have that I recommend to other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Buxton, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 9, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in confirmed rheumatism. Nowithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were quick, sure, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SIDDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. They contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Price, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

For when the face is covered with unsightly pimples or blotches, the sufferer cares only to be directed to use some safe and reliable remedy.
THE MAGNOLIA BALM WILL CURE
THE WORST CASE OF PIMPLES
IN A SINGLE WEEK.
It is so safe a remedy, that the contents of a bottle might be drank without harm. Physicians look with wonder upon its speedy cures, for it has heretofore been thought absolutely necessary to use preparations of lead or mercury to cure immediately; but the MAGNOLIA BALM contains neither. It is the most elegant and neatly put up article for sale anywhere, and may be obtained of all our Apothecaries and Fancy Goods dealers.

HUTCHINS' HAIR DYE,
THE VERY BEST NOW IN USE, as many thousands who have tried it will testify.
The great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation, it also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring, it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the world, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

"EVERYBODY"
WHO USES
HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE
HAIR RESTORATIVE
Is convinced of the fact that
It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,
Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.
"ANYBODY"
Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and will be found much safer—is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1, 1859.
Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.,—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bit bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. BOSWYNALL.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.
GARDINER'S
RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA COMPOUND
Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.
TESTIMONIALS.
Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgic Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well. D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.
I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entire ly cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old Colony Avenue, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1859, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—LEWIS SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.
The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1861.

THE BATTLE AT SPRINGFIELD.

A Portsmouth Boy is a Sergeant in a company attached to the 1st Kansas Regiment, and has written home the following account of the late battle at Springfield, Mo.:

ROLLA, MO., August 20.

Dear Parents and Sister:—I suppose you think I am killed, not having received a letter from me. I received your last on the day of our first fight with the enemy, and have had so much to attend to since then, that I have had no time to write. I received two buck shot in the skin of the right leg, another cut off a small piece of my ear, and a grape passed lengthwise through my cartridge box. I have attended to duty—having been not even a day on the sick list.

August 1st, our regiment was stationed at Rock Prairie, 18 miles from Springfield, (120 miles from here, and 222 miles from St. Louis,) to guard some flour mills. For some weeks previous we had been short of provisions, and at Rock Prairie we were reduced to half rations of bread, and double of meat; three-fourths of the regiment were bare-footed, and their clothes were worn out.

On the evening of the 1st, we received marching orders for McCulloch's Springs, 45 miles, and to make a forced march, in order to arrive there on the morning of the 3d. We started in an hour, singing patriotic songs, interspersed once in a while by a smothered curse, when some unfortunate struck his toes against a stone; and I may safely say that you could not find a worse road in New England than we travelled that night. By daylight we made Pawn Springs, 17 miles; there we took breakfast, rested an hour, and started on.

The heat was like the heat of a furnace. Our route lay over a rolling prairie for ten miles, without shade or water; and, for the first time, the Kansas 1st dropped like sheep along the road. A portion of us reached Rock Spring about 2 o'clock. The teams were unloaded and sent back to bring in the men. We remained there till midnight, when, having become rested, we started again, and joined Lyon's force at daybreak of the 3d—making 45 miles in 42 hours.

There we learned that a large body of secessionists were encamped at McCulloch's Springs, and that one company of regular cavalry had a fight the evening before with a large force of confederate cavalry, and completely routed them, killing 40 and wounding 60. Our loss was 4 killed and 7 wounded.

As soon as we got breakfast, line of battle was formed, and we marched forward. In about twenty minutes, the roar of Lyon's battery told us that the battle had begun; but after a few rounds, the cavalry and artillery, in front, and the Iowa 1st and Kansas 2d, on the left flank, charged upon them, when the confeds made tracks southward. Gen. Lyon, finding they would not fight, fell back to Springfield, where we lay one day.

August 6, Co. G, 1st Kansas, was ordered out as pickets, four miles and a half west of Springfield. An hour before dark I was ordered out a mile on the main road, with 15 men; another sergeant, with 4 men, north; and another, south-east,—the balance remaining. They were eating supper, when they were surrounded by about 500 confederate cavalry, who came in through the timber, no pickets having been sent out in that direction. Our men, by a heavy fire, cut their way through to a corn field. There were some twenty Home Guards with our men, and on the first fire they ran on their horses, leaving our men to fight. Two came in my direction, chased by confeds. As soon as my men could see them, I ordered them to fire, four at a time. We blazed away, killing three and wounding one, besides wounding both Home Guards. The pickets on the south-east commenced a fire on them as they were driving our main body, and the rebels, thinking they were surrounded, turned and fled. About 3 A. M., three companies of our regiment came to our assistance. Our pickets remained at their posts, and all of us were highly complimented for doing so. It was near 10 A. M. before the balance of our Co. came in, when we were ordered to Springfield.

On the 9th we received marching orders,—to take one day's rations. None of us knew where we were to go, but we conjectured that we should have a chance, before the next day, to see whether the Kansas 1st were cowards or not. We marched till near midnight, when we halted, lay down by the side of the road, and slept on our arms till 3 A. M. of the 10th—a day never to be forgotten in the history of this rebellion. After marching at a double quick for three miles, we arrived at the battle ground.—The enemy's pickets were cut off, and we began the attack against some of the best men in the Southern army. Sigel attacked them in the rear, almost simultaneously with us. The 4th Co., 1st Infantry, was ordered to the left, to turn their flank, but were met by the rebel cavalry; here for an hour the brave fellows fought, till the retreat had been sounded three times. Our regt., with two others, advanced to the attack in front on a double quick, with three cheers ringing, when an ambuscade opened a cross fire, not more than thirty yards from us. Well and gallantly did we fight, till we completely routed them. Our regiment suffered severely. It was an awful slaughter. The Missouri 1st and Iowa 1st fell back, and could not be rallied in time to help give the finishing stroke, and Gen. Lyon said to our Co.,—"As long as this regiment is in front, I have no fear of the end."

After driving them from the ground, we fell back and rested about half an hour, when the enemy, advancing, commenced firing. We were ordered to fix bayonets. Charge! was rung out clear and distinct by brave Lyon, and on we went through the thick brush. Lyon, leading the 1st Kansas, fell dead and was caught in their arms. We continued advancing, but were suddenly ordered to halt and lie down.—And it was well for us that we did so. For McCulloch had skillfully drawn up six regiments of his men not twenty-five yards from us. Three regiments of them fired, and the balance immediately after. Then it was our turn; up we came, and with such a shower of bullets,—"all minie,"—that before twenty minutes we put the enemy to flight; 700 against 6000 is not much odds.

We retired to Totten's battery, with orders to support it. Here we learned of Gen. Lyon's death. Not a gun was fired—not a word was spoken. This pause was worse than the fiercest fight. Major Sturgis came to us and said 3000 of the enemy, with three pieces of cannon, were advancing on the right. "For God's sake, stand firm to the battery!" was his appeal. In a few minutes the fight became general. Cheers were sent up once in a while, high above the din of battle; not a groan escaped the wounded; not a drum sounded to inspire our brave boys. But the enemy at length retired.

The artillery was then ordered to fall back to the open prairie. But men, after fasting 24 hours, without sleep, fighting six and a half hours without water, could not be rallied, but continued to retreat for six miles, for water. It was the hottest day during the month; the men's mouths were white with thirst, but no complaints were made, for every one felt the loss of Gen. Lyon, of friends, and of mess mates. Our provisions had been thrown out of the wagons at the commencement of the fight, to make room for the wounded; so until we arrived in Springfield we had nothing to eat.

Aug. 11th, we commenced our retreat to this place, where we arrived safe and sound. There were some 4000 Cherokee Indians in the fight on the rebel side; those that were left after the fight, have returned home. A.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Enthusiastic Union meetings are being held in many towns in the State.

—— Mr. E. R. Gilmore, of Keene, was shot by an unseen and unknown person, as he was stopping to water his horse at a spring, late last Sunday afternoon. The gun was loaded with shot, some twenty of which pierced Mr. Gilmore's great coat and entered his body. These have been extracted and Mr. G. will not suffer very severely. There is no certain clue as to the author of this affair.

—— The Annual Fair of the Merrimack County Agricultural Society will be held at Concord, on the new Fair Ground, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24th and 25th.

—— The town of Hooksett alleges that the building of the dam of the Amoskeag Company at Manchester has caused the obstruction of the river at the former place, thereby producing a greater accumulation of ice, and consequently causing the destruction of a bridge at the breaking up of the river in the spring. A suit has been brought by the town of Hooksett, which is now pending at Concord.

—— The Lebanon Free Press, conducted for several years past by Hon. Geo. S. Towle, has passed into the hands of Mr. E. N. Cheney, by whom it will be continued with its well known spirit and vigor.

—— The mills in Dover, except one which is undergoing repairs, started up on Monday.

——An ingenious contrivance for a knife, fork and spoon, is manufactured in Dover. All three are combined in two pieces of cast steel, each with an appropriate handle, without a rivet about them. When not in use they can be shut up together, by a simple but ingenious arrangement. An order for 20,000 for Fremont's army in the West, has just been filled.

THE REBELLION.—Z. K. Pangborn, of Mass., has been commissioned a Major in the regular army, and for the present is assigned duty as paymaster. The appointment was unsolicited.

The gunboat R. B. Forbes, it is thought, is bilged, but the machinery is uninjured.

Gen. Burnside has been assigned the command of the regiments not brigaded and of all the troops arriving.

Gen. Grant, Thursday morning, telegraphed to the Kentucky Legislature that the rebels, in considerable numbers, had invaded Kentucky, and were occupying and fortifying strong positions at Hickman and Chalk Bluffs. This message, together with one from Gov. Harris, of Tennessee, to Gov. Magoffin, has been referred to a Special Committee. Harris says that the rebels that landed at Hickman did so without his knowledge or consent, and, he is confident, also, without the consent of Jeff. Davis. He has telegraphed to Jeff. Davis, requesting their immediate withdrawal.

Accounts from the rebels in Southeast Missouri are conflicting. Their numbers are variously estimated at from 9,000 to 30,000.

The acting Governor of North Carolina is said to be a reliable Union man. Leagues have been made and extended arrangements for electng members to the National Congress. Four are known to have been elected on the 21st of August. The latest news is that the entire eight are elected, each receiving a large vote.

Since the engagement at Hatteras Inlet the N. C. troops have withdrawn from Virginia. Many of them, it is said, are disatisfied with the war.

Beauregard's report of the battle at Bull Run is published. He calls the engagement a remarkable artillery duel.

The Wilmington Journal says that "Hatteras fell into the hands of the enemy because the works were not sufficiently tenable to resist the heavy force brought against them." Probably, that was the reason.

The London Times publishes Gen. McDowell's official report of the battle of Bull Run.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce, under its new proprietorship, has come out frankly and fully in support of the Government.

Maj. Gen. Butler reached Lowell Thursday afternoon and was cordially welcomed home. He is now styled the "Hero of Hatteras;" but he insists upon dividing the glory with Commodore Stringham.

We have news now, that Jefferson Davis was in "fine health the day after his demise."

The N. Y. Democratic Convention on Thursday adopted a series of resolutions declaring that the Union must be preserved, denouncing secession and urging a vigorous prosecution of the war, while they protest against some of the recent measures of the General Government.

☞ Gov. Magoffin, of Kentucky, has sent his Message to the Legislature. He denounces the President's war proclamation of April as illegal, and says he therefore refused the demand for Kentucky troops. Citing subsequent acts of the administration, he says he cannot give them any sort of a sanction. He protests against the further prosecution of the war, and against Kentucky being made the camping ground or pathway for the forces of either of the belligerents. His respect for State rights and State sovereignty, however, will make him bow in respectful submission to the majority of her people, so long as he is a citizen of Kentucky.

☞ It is reported that the administration has tendered Col. B. F. Watson, of the Mass. Sixth, (whose removal from the post office at Lawrence occasioned some talk,) a Paymastership in the army, with rank of Major of Cavalry. It is uncertain whether he will accept the paymastership, but in any event the offer is creditable to the administration.

☞ The funeral of Gen. Lyon took place at Eastport, Conn., his native place, on Thursday. It is estimated that twenty thousand persons were in attendance. A eulogy was delivered by Hon. Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania, who is a native of the same town. Addresses were made by Gov. Buckingham, Ex-Gov. Cleaveland, Gov. Sprague, Judge Carpenter, Judge Colt, and others. In spite of the peculiarly impressive character of the occasion, a burst of applause greeted the appearance of Gov. Sprague, of Rhode Island.

☞ Ex-President Pierce was serenaded last week, at Lafayette, Indiana. He concluded a brief speech by saying:—

I give you my sympathy in this hour of our country's severe trial. I give you my sympathy in your love for the glorious Union which our fathers delivered to us, and in your reverence for and fidelity to all the provisions of the Constitution upon which that Union has reposed.

☞ The Union State Convention of Ohio met at Columbus, Thursday, and nominated David Todd (Dem.) for Governor, and Benj. Stanton (Rep.) for Lieutenant Governor. The Convention was large and enthusiastic.

BUTLER'S BOMBSHELL.

Major Gen. Benj. F. Butler not only fires shot and and other missiles at the rebels in the South, but he also bombards the traitors at the North and elsewhere.

Gen. Butler, as is well known, took an active part in the Democratic convention at Charleston, and was the Breckinridge candidate for Governor of Massachusetts last year.

F. A. Hildreth, Esq., had written to Gen. Butler on political subjects,—and the General in reply sends him a very plain letter, dated "off Cape Hatteras, Aug. 27,"—in which he alludes to his former political course, and says: "I have received your note, as well as those of many others of my true friends, in Massachusetts, asking my opinion about political questions, and some kindly suggesting my name as a candidate for Governor, at the ensuing election. I reply to you as representing them all, because our intimacy will permit more frankness than would seem meet towards those less closely connected.

As I have stated to you, and as I have publicly repeated, when I left home, I left all politics, in a party sense of the term, behind me, and I now know no politics in any sense, save as represented by the question How best to preserve the Union and restore the country in its integrity. Peace is desirable to all, and to none more so than to the soldier who has left his friends and his home to do his duty to his country.

But however desirable, it is not to be purchased upon any terms save the recognition of the authority of the Federal government over every inch of territory which ever belonged to it. Upon no condition whatever, other than this, would I consent to peace. A peace involving the disintegration of the Union, or until the supremacy of the government is forever established, would be simply a declaration of perpetual war of sections.

Were the Southern Confederacy to-day acknowledged in the fulness of good faith, two months would not elapse before causes of war would arise, sufficient not only to justify, but to demand a renewal of the conflict. No two months have passed, in the last ten years at least, in which outrages have not been committed upon Northern men in the South, which, had they been perpetrated by a foreign nation, would have demanded a redress of grievances, under pain of a suspension of diplomatic relations.

But we have borne these outrages because there was no tribunal to the arbitrament of which we could submit them, and it was against the genius of our people to appeal to arms. Therefore I see with pain upon the part of some of those with whom I have acted in political organizations, a disposition to advocate peaceful settlements, where in there can be no peace. Therefore this war must go on, not for the purpose of subjugation,—but if those who have commenced it bring upon themselves that condition as an incident, it will only be another illustration of the fruit of sowing the wind. Besides these there are no other politics.

On the matter of the nomination—I cannot consent that my name shall be used by any party. While on some things, as you are aware, I do not agree with the principles upon which both the state and the national administrations were inaugurated, yet we are a long way past that. The republican party, having won a political victory, both in the state and in the nation, is entitled to the patriotic endeavor of every man to give it a fair trial in the administration of the government, and in that, it should, as it does, take the lead in official positions.

And now there is left nothing for us to contend against, save any corruption, inefficiency or impropriety of administration, which I doubt not would at once be rebuked as well by republicans as by democrats. But as regards the personnel of the administration in the State, I believe Gov. Andrew has endeavored faithfully, zealously and efficiently to put our commonwealth on the side of the nation, and to sustain the Union. I therefore, for one, would not desire to see a change in the Executive, although I doubt not the people will demand changes in some of the minor officers.

I do not say that I would vote for Gov. Andrew, but were I at home I would not vote against him. Let it be understood that without distinction of party, and without raising party issues, all men who love the Union are determined to stand by it and the country until this rebellion shall be quelled, and then we may hereafter divide as we please upon the minor differences of administration of government."

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,
And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.
Terms,—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.
The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote—This is in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston.—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.
In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.
Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.
Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.
One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my26daw3m

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.
Boonsboro', Md., Feb. 21, '61.
Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.
The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After witnessing such a destruction of those horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,
(Editor of the Odd Fellow.)

LAWS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Public and private acts passed at the session of the Legislature, June, 1861. For sale by JOSEPH H. FOSTER.

Local.

☞ The publisher of the N. H. Gazette notifies its friends and patrons that its subscription list has not paid the expenses of printing, for a number of years; that the stagnation of business and other causes have so diminished its advertising and other resources, that it is now a losing concern; and that unless some aid is afforded, it must stop after next week.

Some of the loss occurred by the sudden change from Douglas to Breckinridge; some more by the change of administration, and the loss of an office in the customs, and of the U. S. laws, treaties and advertisements.

☞ Rev. A. M. Bridge, of Hampton Falls, will preach at the Unitarian church to-morrow.

Elder Himes will preach in the Advent Chapel, Hanover street, next Monday evening, at half past seven o'clock. Subject;—The Signs of the Times.

PROPOSED NEW ROAD.—Mr. S. H. Tarlton and others, citizens of Newington and Portsmouth, have petitioned for a County road across the farm of the late Hon. James Pickering, as the lane now runs, to pass near the residence of Reuben L. Lane, Esq., to Sherburne's road, a little to the north of the Robinson farm.

The town of Newington and the city of Portsmouth have been notified;—and it is said the former will object to the road.

☞ Lieut. J. Whipple Harris, son of the late Capt. Theodore Harris, of this city, died a short time since on board the U. S. steamer Lancaster, at Panama. He was a graduate of the Naval School at Annapolis, and during the present cruise of the Lancaster has held the commission of Master, his promotion having taken place only a few months ago. Although but twenty-four years of age at the time of his death, he had already given high promise for his future career as a loyal and efficient officer of the Government, and his death will be a loss to the service. He leaves a large circle of warm friends in this city.

☞ Mr. Oliver M. Knight was Sergeant of a company of the 1st Minnesota Regiment, which was engaged in the battle at Bull Run. The County Press, published at Pepin, W., of which place he has been a resident, speaks of him as "a man true to his principles and willing to devote all his energies in defence of the Government;" and a member of the company, whose name is given, states that Sergeant Knight received the praise of the whole Regiment; that he stood during all the piercing fire, waiving that glorious Banner which was entrusted to him, and continually encouraging the men with his voice.

Mr. Knight was for a time a resident of this city, and will be remembered by many of our citizens.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—At the trot yesterday, Ethan Allen beat Flora Temple in three straight heats. Ethan Allen's time was 2.23; 2.19 3-4; 2.21. Subsequently, Flora Temple was seized as the property of a Baltimore secessionist.

A GIGANTIC BEACH PARTY.—The sons and daughters of old Salisbury, Mass., from all parts of the United States, are to meet in a social picnic, at Salisbury Beach, on the 17th of September. They will be accompanied by hundreds who go "there to see."

☞ A mutiny on board the ship William, at Greenock, is said to have been caused by a fear on the part of the crew, which was composed of negroes and mulattoes, that they were to be sold into slavery on arriving in Boston.

A German, of the Second Michigan Regiment, in hospital at Washington, had his arm amputated. His description of the sensations from his fingers which lately belonged to his left arm, causes frequent bursts of merriment from the other patients. He says: "I veels der tings mit mine vingers ven I knows ise got no vingers dare, and it makes me mad ven I veels der tings all der time mit my vingers ven mine vingers aint dare any more shtill!"

LATEST.

The Philadelphia Inquirer has a dispatch stating that reliable information of the death of Jeff. Davis has been received by the government. He died on Tuesday.

We have most gratifying intelligence from North Carolina, by steamers from Hatteras to Fortress Monroe. The rebels have abandoned their strongly fortified forts at Ocracoke Inlet. Multitudes of North Carolinians have demonstrated their loyalty by going to Hatteras Inlet and taking the oath of allegiance. Col. Hawkins sends word that he has administered the oath to between 200 and 300 persons in a single day. The Susquehanna ran down to Ocracoke, and found the fortifications there deserted. The rebels had carried away the guns, and a white flag was everywhere exhibited.

A Washington dispatch says heavy firing was heard Friday forenoon, apparently in the vicinity of Munson's Hill and the Chain Bridge.

A diabolical rebel outrage was committed on the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, Mo., on Wednesday. A train bound West was thrown into the Platte river, the timbers of the east end of the bridge having been burned. The entire train went down; the two passenger cars were completely smashed. The baggage master, who brings the account, says he was the only one unhurt. He went to St. Joseph for an engine, physicians, and articles for the wounded.—Many were killed.

The news of the Hatteras victory was received with great enthusiasm by Gen. Banks' division. The latest advices from Leesburg state that there are about 7000 rebel troops there. Entrenchments are being thrown up. Nearly all the negroes in the northern part of Fairfax county are engaged on the works. There are no large bodies of rebels above Leesburg, but their pickets line the river and guard the fords and ferries.

The camp measles are raging frightfully in the rebel army.

Since the capture of Hatteras, regiments from North and South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, have been stopped on their way to Virginia, and sent to Newbern.

Mr. Hamilton, a Canadian, some time ago, promised to raise a brigade of 5000 negroes in Canada.

The British consul at Charleston writes to friends in Washington that the effect of the blockade increases in severity every week, and that the Southern people bitterly lament their destitute condition.

☞ It is rumored that two business men of Boston, of heretofore unspotted reputation, have recently been detected in the crime of forgery.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room: price 3 cents $1 per year, in advance.

THE WAR TAX.

There is an effort made by some to impress the idea that the expenses of the war will be felt most ruinously by the community—that for every million of dollars expended, it is to correspond in amount must be made directly on the people, and thus empty their purses at once.

The share New-Hampshire is required to pay of the twenty millions direct tax voted by Congress, is $218,406. The direct-tax law offers "to any State that will assume and pay into the Treasury of the United States, before the 30th of June, 1862, the taxes or duties by the act imposed upon it, a deduction of fifteen per cent. on the quota of direct tax duly apportioned, will be granted."

Now New-Hampshire having already raised over a quarter million dollars, and paid it over to the National Government, will of course receive her 15 per cent. or over $30,000 deduction.—Thus we have already paid in advance the tax for a year and a third from next July. All that the citizens of New-Hampshire need pay so long as the war lasts, is the interest on the sum raised, which at present is only about $15,000 a year—making the proportion of this sum to be borne by Portsmouth less than a thousand dollars—or about a dime each to every inhabitant.

We are not in favor of public debts—but in a war of this kind, on which the prosperity of future generations so vitally depends, there is no impropriety in leaving a share of the burden for those who come after us.

MISSTATEMENT ABOUT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH IN THIS CITY.—The Boston Journal of last week, in reference to St. John's Church, Portsmouth, N. H., says:—

"We are informed that the parish has a rule which cuts off all contributions not strictly connected with the church from being taken up in the church. This rule is derived from a canon of the P. E. Church, and is the rule that prevails in the Episcopal Churches generally, if not universally. The Rector and most if not all the members of his parish, are not only loyal men, but heartily sympathize with the object had in view."

We learn from satisfactory authority, that St. John's Church in this city has not, never had, and never proposed or imagined, such a rule, as above stated. Nor do we think, if such an exclusive, intolerant, bigoted, and uncharitable rule had ever been proposed at any parish meeting of the Society, that it could have met only with indignant rejection. We also learn from those, versed in canonical law, that there is not any Canon of the General Convention, nor of any Diocese, that "cuts off all contributions, not strictly connected with the church." Whatever may be the views of the Rector or of any member of St. John's Church, one thing is triumphantly clear, that most of the members of the Parish gave such proof of loyalty, as to deposit in the contribution box, about a fortnight since, the sum of one hundred and sixty-two dollars, for sick and wounded soldiers.

CORRECTOR.

"THE ONE MAN POWER."—It is full time this arbitrary one man power in relation to appointments by our Representatives in Congress, was broken up. The instances of gross injustice accumulate. One of the very best men for the office on the Post route between Boston and Burlington, was appointed in April last, and is now turned out at the instance of the New Hampshire Representative, who happened not to be consulted, and who must have had an axe to grind. The principle of action with those consulted by the appointing power being established, that no dependence ought to be placed upon petitions, or public demonstrations, leaves the appointment by the State delegation, almost necessarily with one individual, in the case above referred to, we trust a power will be found behind this new throne. If not, the people will be very apt to dethrone the power. FIAT JUSTITIA.

GEN. FREMONT'S PROCLAMATION.—This bold document will take many by surprise, but the more carefully it is read and the more attentively the condition of Missouri—which has evoked it—is considered, the less disposition there will be to find fault with it. In fact, the public will be content to let Gen. Fremont abide the responsibility he has assumed, and will wish him every success.

The whole number of clerks and Government employees, whose dismissal because of their disloyalty the Potter Committee recommended last week, is 227. Secretaries Cameron, Welles, and Smith, and Postmaster General Blair, the only heads of departments whom Mr. Potter has seen personally, have promised promptly to remove all against whom he has reported.

CITY COUNCIL.—In the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, Sept. 5, Stephen D. Scriggins and Joseph B. Adams, were appointed Assistant Engineers.

It was voted that the city put the aqueduct into the Engine Houses, if the Aqueduct company will furnish the water free.

The subject of the Portsmouth and Newington road was referred to City Solicitor.

A large number of bills were approved. Adjourned to 7 o'clock, next Thursday evening.

OCEAN HOUSE, RYE.—Although the watering places generally have not been so well attended as in former years, yet Messrs. Jenness have had as large, if not a larger proportion of visitors than any other place in this neighborhood. On a recent visit there they seated sixty-five to dinner—a larger number by nine than they had on the corresponding day last year.

DANCING.—Mr. Lamprey commences a term for young ladies and juveniles, on Saturday, Sept. 14. See advertisement.

THE LADIES' SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY have expended of their fund $152.27, from which they have made and forwarded to Washington Hospital through the politeness of the Concord Society the following articles:

82 mattresses, 42 pillow-ticks, 22 pairs sheets, 29 pillow-cases, 43 brown and 49 white towels, 6 comforters, 78 white and 36 colored handkerchiefs, 59 flannel bandages, 29 pairs drawers, 52 shirts. Sept. 5, 1861.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE BOSTON CUSTOM HOUSE.—In consequence of the decrease of business at Boston, Mr. Collector Goodrich has determined to relieve one quarter of the inspectors under him, of duty and pay each month, until the close of the war, or till a resumption of business will require their services. This apportions the loss on all, and saves to the Government $18,000 per annum.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FACULTY

For Its Superior Medicinal Qualities.

This elegant compound, which has secured the confidence and endorsement of most of the leading Physicians of New England, is a palatable and efficient form of Quinine, containing all the peculiar virtues of PERUVIAN BARK, carefully combined with various tonic and stomachic roots, and cannot fail to meet the wants of the debilitated.

It is a mild tonic to the stomach, increasing the appetite, assisting digestion, producing healthy food in dyspepsia, strengthening and invigorating to the digestive and nervous systems after prostrating diseases; and in fever and ague, or kindred complaints, its aid is invaluable.

For diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus, the public may rest assured there is nor can be any better general remedy.

One of the very best Physicians in Boston has said "but it is the best preparation of Bitters that has ever been offered to the public."

Put up in half-pints as well as quart bottles, in order that all may convince themselves of its superior merits.

For further particulars reference is made to the printed circulars.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system disrupted, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a ready use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the functions move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves, and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, if you feel the derangement, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true in this case is apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None need now suffer from these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1858.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ABA MONBRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR SIR, DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaint I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contact with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 3, 1858.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, }
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856. }

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease to obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I sold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. To regulate the stomach, digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountain of life.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Brantford, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they must join with me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the propertor of others that are worse. I believe constipation to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent preventives of the natural accession when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PLEASE HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease which I have afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These Pills are mercury or mineral substance whatever.

☞ 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

MAGNOLIA BALM.

For when the face is covered with unsightly pimples or blotches, the sufferer cares only to be directed to use some safe and reliable remedy.

THE MAGNOLIA BALM WILL CURE THE WORST CASE OF PIMPLES IN A SINGLE WEEK.

It is so safe a remedy, that the contents of a bottle might be drank without harm. Physicians look with wonder upon its speedy cures, for it has heretofore been thought absolutely necessary to use preparations of lead or mercury to cure immediately; but the MAGNOLIA BALM contains neither. It is the most elegant and neatly put up article for sale anywhere, and may be obtained of all our Apothecaries and Fancy Goods dealers.

HUTCHINS' HAIR DYE,

THE VERY BEST NOW IN USE, as many thousands who have tried it will testify.

The great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring, it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye has long the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

"EVERYBODY"

WHO USES

HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE

Is convinced of the fact that

It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,

Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.

"ANYBODY"

Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and will do as much safe work—is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bit bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITTABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. BOSBYSHALL.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

GARDINER'S

RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA

COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was indeced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well.—D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and it proved to be effectual.—Benjamin ALBERT SMITH, Ex Member of Congress from Maine.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1861.

EVENTS OF TO-DAY.—The State Election in Maine takes place to-day, and is almost entirely controlled by national issues. Gov. Washburn is re-nominated, and will be elected probably by a majority as large as he had last year, viz. over 16,000. At that time he had almost 70,000 votes; this year the vote will probably be smaller.

The Portland Argus of Sept. 4, says:—

Ten thousand votes recorded for Israel Washburn and his abolition platform would be an eternal disgrace to the State of Maine, and to all New England. He would not have One Thousand if the people were made thoroughly acquainted with his abolition position and policy.

Let all Democrats and other Union men see that their names are on the list correctly. Let no one and all be on hand to wipe out the disgrace of having an abolition governor.

In Boston, this evening, there is to be a Grand Union War Meeting at Faneuil Hall. The committee of Arrangements announce that Hon. Benj. F. Thomas has consented to preside, and they are also authorized to announce among the speakers the names of Gen. B. F. Butler, Gen. Henry Wilson, and Hon. Otis P. Lord. Several others are expected, among them Ex. Gov. J. H. Clifford, Hon. A. H. Bullock, and the Irish patriot, Thomas Francis Meagher. This will be a Union Meeting in reality and power.

☞ A Baltimore correspondent of the Boston Post, completely contradicts and uses up some charges made by the New York Times and Herald, against Gen. Dix. The Times charged that he had feasted the rebel prisoners; and the Herald said that Baltimore was on the eve of an outbreak. But it appears he simply did his duty to the prisoners, and that he has so fortified and entrenched his camp that he can control the city with ease. The writer predicts that there will be but little news from Baltimore, while Gen. Dix stays there.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— An examination of the papers of recruiting officers, returned to the Adjutant General, enables the Statesman to present a statement of the birthplaces of 2145 of the soldiers enlisted in this State. Rockingham has 234,—more than any other county; Concord 46,(the largest;) Portsmouth, 42. The statement of those born in other States and countries indicates an immigration to this Commonwealth from some of its neighbors which would hardly be expected.

—— Messrs. Neal, of Unity, from indications which they considered unmistakable, have for several years past believed their farm to possess valuable mineral treasures. Having lately secured the services of an experienced English Cornwall miner, they have uncovered the supposed deposit, and the result is, a very rich vein of copper—the richest, the miner says, that he ever worked. The people thereabout are not a little exercised at the discovery and are prospecting in the ravines and gulches.

—— C. W. Rand Esq., has been appointed United States District Attorney, for the District of New Hampshire.

—— Capt. Jones has enlisted his company of 100 sharp-shooters, all of them men able to pick a gray squirrel out of the top of the tallest tree with a rifle ball, without spoiling the creature's skin. The company was ordered to rendezvous in Concord on Saturday. The State is to furnish each man with a rifle, and the United States are expected to provide the remainder of the outfit.

—— The Second N. H. Regiment has been newly uniformed in the dress of the regular army.

—— A member of the Second speaking of the recent review by Gen. McClellan says "our infant. William Dickey, 6 feet 7 1-2 inches tall, brought a smile to the calm, self-reliant face of the General."

—— The dead body of an unknown man, apparently about 40 years of age, was found in the Merrimac, at Concord, on Tuesday last.

—— On Tuesday last, an eagle was shot on the shore of Long Pond, in the town of Webster, by James Quinn, which measured, from the tip of one wing to the other, six feet, eight inches, and weighed nine and three-fourths pounds.

——Col. N. B. Baker, the last Democratic Governor of this State, has been nominated for Governor of Iowa. He has been a resident of that State for several years, and is now Adjutant General. The candidates for Lieut. Governor and Supreme Judge are Republicans.

N. H. SECOND REGIMENT.

HOOKER'S BRIGADE.

CAMP UNION,
Bladensburg, Md., Sept. 4.

Dear Chronicle:—Since I last wrote, there have been several promotions in our Company. John S. Sides, our Second Lieutenant, has been promoted to 1st Lieutenant, and the command of the Company assigned to him, which, by the way, just suits the Boys. George E. Sides has been promoted to 1st Sergeant, and the company hopes to see him, before many weeks, with shoulder-straps on, as the second lieutenant's place in our Company is vacant. He is fully competent to fill the office, is liked by the whole company, and a more courageous fellow never shouldered a musket. The company were very much disappointed at Lieut. Sides not receiving a Captain's commission. They don't like the idea of having any one else, and if the command is permitted to rest where it is, (unless they choose to promote him to captain,) I can assure you the men will stick to their officers as long as there is a man left.

On Tuesday, Aug. 27, we thought we were going to see a little more of the elephant (or bull, perhaps you would call it). Just as we were eating our supper we had orders to fill our cartridge boxes, pack our knapsacks, and be ready to march at a moment's warning. We were all ready in half an hour after receiving the order, and slept on our arms, ready to jump the moment the long roll was beat. We got up in the morning at the usual time. The alarm was caused by our pickets, across the river, being driven in towards Washington. But I guess it did not amount to much, as that was the last that was heard of it.

On Sunday evening, at parade, an order was issued from head-quarters to the different regiments, informing them of the victory at Forts Hatteras and Clark—and I guess if we had been attacked after the Colonel got through reading the order, we could have fought our way through three times our number. But as we had no one to fight against, we had to be content with expressing our feelings with cheering and clapping hands.

Everything in camp goes along quietly, with now and then a little excitement caused by the pickets bringing in some secesh prisoner. Last week they brought in three, and one this week, which is doing very well, considering the place we are encamped at.

Gen. McClellan is making every preparation to resist an attack on Washington, if they choose to try it. He is fortifying all the hills in this vicinity. For a few weeks back we have had to take our turn with the shovel and pick; now they have about three hundred Irishmen at work, and we have to stand guard over them, to keep them at their work by day and quiet by night, which is about as hard as it is to use the shovel. C. E. P., Co. K, 2d N. H. V.

TOPPING CORN.—Topping corn before the corn is fully ripe is a very injurious practice. Experiments have in many places been fairly made and it has been proved that the corn will ripen earlier, weigh heavier, measure more by the bushel, and be sweeter without topping. The saccharine juice before it enters the kernel, is elaborated, as chemists say, (undergoes a chemical action,) in the corn-blades. The corn is not ripe until the saccharine juice ceases to enter the kernel. Therefore to cut off the blades before the corn is fully matured, must be injurious. The better way is to cut the corn near the surface of the soil, after the corn is ripe, and the cattle will eat the butts, which weigh more than the top.

A FARMER.

☞ The following additional account of the terrible disaster on the Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad, is furnished the St. Louis Republican:—

The catastrophe occurred at Little Platte river bridge, nine miles east of St. Joseph. The timbers of the bridge had been burned under the track until they would sustain but little more than their weight, when the fire was extinguished, leaving the bridge a mere skeleton. The train had from ninety to one hundred passengers, including women and children. The locomotive had not more than measured its length on the bridge, when about forty feet gave way, precipitating the entire train into the abyss below, carrying the passengers with it in a promiscuous heap, and bringing them beneath the crushed timbers. Only three persons were able to afford assistance to the suffering, the remainder, who were not killed outright, being so disabled as to be helpless.

Mr. Hager, the baggage master, started for St. Joseph for medical aid and other assistance. Two hundred yards west of the bridge he discovered an oak tie strapped across the track, and two miles farther on found the trestle work over a small stream on fire.

A train with physicians was soon sent to the wreck. Seventeen dead bodies were recovered, and it is believed that this number embraced all that were killed up to that time. Two were so badly mangled that it was not expected they would survive until morning. Many others were dangerously wounded.

Fifteen miles east of Platte river, Mr. Hager found another bridge almost entirely burned, having been fired after the train passed.

☞ Travel South via Louisville is now completely blocked.

THE REBELLION.—The heavy firing at Munson's Hill, on Friday morning, was from battery practice, which persons miles distant construed into an engagement.—Previous to the firing, a balloon was visible for an hour over Fort Corcoran, and on its being lowered, a very bright calcium light, was exhibited from a high point. The colors were red, white and blue, being distinctly visible at a distance of not less than seven miles. Immediately on the light being extinguished, firing commenced.

A reconnoisance was made on Friday along the whole front of the federal army in Virginia, from a point opposite Chain Bridge to Alexandria. The condition of all the camps is excellent, and strict military discipline is enforced. The soldiers are anxious to meet the enemy, however large his numbers.

Prof. Lowe, from his balloon, reports the position of the rebel army the same as three days ago.

The Navy Department has received official information from two points in the Gulf, dated on the 13th ult., from which it is evident that three or four of our vessels of war have reliable information of the position of the privateer Sumter, and have probably by this time closed down upon her, as they were then preparing to do from different points.

The government received a telegram from Gen. Rosencrans on the 4th, embracing information that he was then, with a considerable portion of his command, at a point half way between Bulltown and Flitwoods, on his way to attack Wise and Floyd, or either of them who might be in the vicinity of Summerville or Gauley's bridge. He started from Clarksburg (his headquarters) upon this expedition, leaving ample force to protect the Cheat Mountain pass, in Lee's front.

The New York Herald has a dispatch from Fortress Monroe, confirming the evacuation of Fort Morgan, at Ocracoke Creek, where the rebels have had eleven 32-pounders. The guns were spiked, and munitions of war destroyed. The Susquehanna was to go down and take possession. A large majority of the North Carolinians, after taking the oath of allegiance, wished to volunteer and fight for the U. S. flag.—Assurances were received from Newbern that if supported by a proper force, a flag would be raised there, and a majority of the inhabitants will aid in establishing it permanently. The Unionists ask the federal government to support them, when they will throw off the rebel yoke.

Orders have been sent to Gen. Wool to take measures to hold the captured forts at Hatteras. This inlet, which is not marked out on most maps, lies about twelve miles north-east of Ocracoke, and an equal distance nearly south-west of Cape Hatteras Light.

The St. Louis papers state that a deplorable condition of affairs prevails all through Northern Missouri, and particularly along the line of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad. Since the battle of Springfield the secessionists have become emboldened, and increased the number of their outrages on Union men. Gen. Pope left St. Louis on the 2d inst., for Quincy, for the purpose of collecting a sufficient force to drive the thieves and marauders that now infest North-east Missouri, from the State.

The Mobile Register says Gen. Braxton Bragg has been transferred from Pensacola to the Potomac, and is succeeded in command by Brig. Gen. R. H. Anderson, of South Carolina.

The Mobile Tribune of the 2d states that while men were employed in getting the dry dock ready to be raised at Pensacola, they were fired upon from Fort Pickens.—The first was a blank shot, the second solid, and the third shell. The last came near doing damage, and the men left speedily.

Hon. James S. Jackson, at Louisville, has issued a spirited call for a regiment of Kentucky cavalry, under the authority of the United States, for three years. He says the soil of Kentucky has been wantonly invaded.

One hundred and two federal prisoners reached Richmond Friday afternoon. They were taken by Floyd near Gauley Bridge last week; 100 belonged to the Ohio 7th. There are about 2000 federal prisoners there now. The weather in the mountains is quite cool, and winter clothing is absolutely needed by many of the soldiers. An engineer who has arrived at Richmond says a serious accident has occurred on the railroad near Abington, Friday; the Aiken Guards, of the 4th Louisiana Regiment, had 1 kil ed and 13 wounded. The rebel Congress was in session about two hours on the 3d, and then adjourned till the third Monday in November.

Messrs. Sargent and Hill, of Yarmouth, Me., who were arrested by order of the Secretary of War, and brought back on a writ of habeas corpus after they had started for Fort Lafayette, were discharged on Friday by the Secretary of War, as mysteriously as they were arrested. Robert F. Elliott, of Freedom, Me., has been arrested by order of the government.

Forty three muskets of the American Guard, a secession corps in Stratesburg, N. J., were seized by the U. S. Marshal on Thursday. A lieutenant and private were found with them, and were compelled to take the oath of allegiance.

Six hundred cavalry from New Jersey have gone to Washington. Three hundred went a week since.

Ex-Governor Wright of Indiana, late Minister to Berlin, was enthusiastically received at Indianapolis, Friday night. He made a straight-out Union speech, advocating war to the knife until the last vestige of rebellion was crushed.

The Pensacola Observer states that a young man named Coleman, a grandson of John J. Crittenden of Kentucky, and a private in one of the companies of the 1st Florida Regiment, stationed near Pensacola, committed suicide on the 25th ult., by cutting his throat, while suffering from mental derangement. He was about 26 years of age.

The Richmond Enquirer states that just before the privateer Jeff. Davis was lost, she fell in with the ship John Crawford, Capt. Edge, from Philadelphia, bound to Key West, with arms and coal for the United States forces. She was found to draw twenty-two feet of water, and could not possibly be brought in. The officers and crew, numbering in all twenty-two persons, were taken on board the privateer, the vessel fired, and holes bored in her sides and bottom. This was about 4 o'clock in the morning, and by daylight the ship was wrapped in flames, going down shortly afterwards. It was found impossible to secure any of the arms, as they were stowed away under the coal.

The Boston Journal's Washington correspondent telegraphs that he visited the outposts across the Potomac on Friday, and from what he saw is convinced that there has been a great and sudden change in the plans of the rebels. There are no indications of an attack from them. The capture of the Hatteras forts, and the sickness in their camp, has perhaps produced a change in their policy.

Mr. Parsons, the successor to Consul Scott at Rio Janeiro, writes that he found the consulate robbed of every thing of value. Scott had even robbed the sailors' relief fund.

Baron Von Vegesank, a distinguished officer with high recommendation from the King of Sweden, offers his services to the Government.

Purser Gallagher, of the Washington Navy Yard, is a defaulter in $200,000.

The rebel steamer Yorktown is about twelve miles above Newport News, awaiting a chance to run the blockade. She has long been preparing at Norfolk, and is said to be heavily armed.

The Harriet Lane saved her best gun at the time of the attack on the Forts at Hatteras Inlet.

A Faro Bank proprietor was arrested at Washington Friday, it being reported that a paymaster in the navy, who is in custody, has been making large ventures at his establishment. Various other large gambling houses were closed Friday night, for fear of police interference.

Our forces near Alexandria found six brass six-pounders buried near the railway on Friday.

The rebels have taken a new position at Ball's Cross Roads, and thrown forward two regiments, with four small howitzers. They are digging rifle pits west of Hunter's Chapel. Their outposts are but three miles from Arlington Heights.

☞ It is stated that Mr. Gregory, commander of the steamer R. B. Forbes, received his appointment directly from the Navy department, so that his qualifications were not passed upon by the commission appointed for the examination of naval volunteer officers.

The Second Term of MR. TILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms,—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is unestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston.—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

Boonsboro', Md., Mch. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Coates—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. THE GENERAL ASSOCIATION.

The Congregational Journal is not exactly satisfied "whether the new programme of exercises established last year at Claremont will be successful in adding interest to the meetings of the General Association." The editor remarks—"If it failed to answer expectation at Portsmouth, as we know it did in the opinion of some, perhaps the failure was not owing to the changes introduced, but to circumstances. The fact that there has been but very little revival spirit among the churches during the year past was one of the most prominent reasons why the meetings of the General Association in Portsmouth did not equal in interest those of the body in former years.

"Another unfavorable circumstance was the want of full representation from the Associations and Conferences. It will be seen from the report that the Association consisted of only 20 clerical and 13 lay delegates. But the most chilling circumstance attending the exercises, was the small congregations attending them. That the 25 churches with their 2500 members, all within two or three hours ride' of the place of meeting, should have had such a meager representation in the assemblies is unaccountable.

"The Anniversaries of the Bible and Missionary Societies were thinly attended. The reports of the Bible Society were read to a few scattered over the house, the most of the small audience having left it with a rush at the close of Dr. Lord's sermon.—But notwithstanding these drawbacks, there were many interesting and profitable features in the exercises, especially at the morning prayer meetings."

Elsewhere in the same paper, the editor says of Dr. Lord's sermon:—"This discourse, which occupied about an hour and a quarter in the delivery, was, in thought and style, characteristic of its distinguished author. Its object was to illustrate the peculiar probation in which we are placed by the revelation of the Bible."

The Doctor maintained, among other things, that the great sign of Protestantism is its running down in its own conceit of running up.

Practically the Christianity, so far as its commonly received end is concerned, is a failure. We speculate when we should look for experience. We make happiness the great end of our probation, finding that end the leading purpose of the divine mind in all things, and our speculations run into pantheism. So faith falls upon the earth.

All the judgments brought upon the nations are in consequence of the interference of the ecclesiastical with the civil affairs of society. The harmony of Church and State when kings and priests shall be one, is to be determined by the prophecies and not by the theories of men.

☞ A few days since a man started to walk to this city from Kennebunk, Me., stating that he wished to enlist as a volunteer. He came along safely and easily until he reached the Portsmouth bridge, when he found it impossible to raise the two cents wherewith to pay his toll, and was refused a pass. He accordingly went to the point just above the bridge, and attempted to swim across, but being encumbered by the weight of his clothes, he was in imminent danger of being carried down by the swift current and drowned. A passing boat, however, rescued him and brought him to this side—where, perhaps, he was better pleased with the Towles.

"SENSITIVUS," as all our readers will recollect, don't like drums. And, by the way, where is he? what has become of him, since "—the drum's discordant sound" has been

"Parading round, and round, and round,"

our usually quiet city? We guess he's moved out of town—but then, he must go out of the world, almost, to get rid of being drummed, in these times.

However, as we were saying, or about to say—over-sensitive people are very liable to "abuse," as they call it—at home or abroad, in church or state; public or private, high or low—all the same; thin-skinned people will be galled, and corns and sore toes be trodden on.

Messrs. Editors:—In taking a walk at the south part of our city, I was attracted by the noise of business to enter the iron foundry of Mr. P. Drake on Mechanic st. I was surprised to find so large a number of men at work and the amount of castings turned out per day. On enquiry of the proprietor, I was pleased to learn that he had some large contracts out of the city to fill, and had a prospect of others;—besides, he has considerable work for our citizens and places bordering on us. My attention was also attracted by a vessel, one of our Portsmouth packets, unloading a large lot of pig iron at the foundry wharf, and was told there was not enough to fill his order on hand. Examining the shop, wharf, etc., I was pleased to see what conveniences for a foundry, and the advantage which had been taken by the proprietor in putting things in such shape as gives credit to a mechanic. B.

☞ We are informed that a young couple in a neighboring town have named their infant boy Jeff. Davis. We doubt it; but the story reminds us of that other couple, who wishing to give their boy a Scripture name, called him Beelzebub.

☞ The Biddeford Artillery, now stationed at Fort McClary, will visit this city this morning, arriving about 9 o'clock. The Portsmouth Cornet Band has been engaged and will march with them from the Fort. At the bridge they are to be met by gentlemen of this city, who will conduct them to the Rockingham House, whence they will proceed, accompanied by members of the Governor's Horse Guards, to Washington Hall, where a bountiful collation will be provided for them. After paying a due degree of attention to this, they will march to the depot, and, accompanied by the Horse Guards and other guests, will take the cars for Biddeford. They expect to return to the Fort on Tuesday morning.

☞ Lt. Edmund M. Webber, of Great Falls, has been appointed Quartermaster of the 5th Regiment. Lt. Webber came to Portsmouth last May with the Great Falls Company, and for several months has been acting Quartermaster at Fort Constitution. He has had experience and will make a capital officer.

☞ Authentic information has been received, to the effect that the lighthouses at Jupiter Inlet and Cape Florida, have been blown up by the rebels, and we desire to call the attention of mariners to the fact.

A MASS UNION MEETING is to be held at Raymond Centre on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 10th. It is got up without regard to political parties. Its object is to create and cherish a healthy public sentiment in support of the National Government in the present crisis, and to wake up the people in that section of the State to their rights, dangers and duties.

Hon. Walter Harriman of Warner, (Dem.,) Hon. Wm. C. Clark of Manchester, (Dem.,) and Col. Gilman H. Tucker of Raymond, (Repub.,) will address the meeting. His Excellency Gov. Berry will also be present. Several military companies from Raymond and vicinity will parade, and the Raymond Cornet Band will furnish music. All are invited, and it is hoped there will be—as there should be—a very large and enthusiastic meeting.

HENRY R. COSTAR:—All the summer I have been troubled with Roaches and Mice. I was actually ashamed of the house for the Roaches were everywhere. I purchased a box of your Exterminator and tried it, and in one week there was not a Roach or Mouse in the house.

JOHN B. GIVENS, No. 94 Elm Street.

HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin, need be so no longer if they use "Costar's" Exterminators. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they effected nothing; but Costar's article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Medina (O.) Gazette.

MORE GRAIN and provisions are annually destroyed in Grant County, by vermin, than would pay for tons of this Rat and Insect Killer. —Lancaster (Wis.) Herald.

HENRY R. COSTAR:—Your Exterminator is received, used, and pronounced a decided success. We used a box of it, and the way the Rats and Mice "raised Ned" that night, was a caution to sleepers. Since then, not a Rat or Mouse has been heard in kitchen or cellar.—Mariner (Iowa) Times.

From the Journal

AN HOUR AT THE NAVY YARD.

A scene of busy life is exhibited at our Navy Yard, where now may be seen in the various mechanical departments, and on shipboard more than two thousand men, all devoted to operations which are intended for the salvation of our country.

The whole operations of the Yard not only exhibit the spirit of active industry, but also that system and order which could hardly have been excelled at the erection of the ancient Temple at Jerusalem. We can never visit the Yard of late without admiring the improvements made by the regular grading of the central part, and by the edifice erected thereon for the Yard Offices—situated just where it should be, at a point visible from the various workshops, and building localities.—The levelling of the high ground where the Office Building is located, has with good effect tended to bring more of the Yard in the compass of vision than could before at once be seen.

But with all the improvements of the Yard, there are others much needed, as is apparent to even a transient visitor.

In visiting the Smithery, we saw not only every forge in active operation in the building, but also in a temporary shed erected in a sweeping form on its south side, we counted eighteen chimnies around which complements of workmen were sweating at the forges. This long shed, open on one side, is too hot for a hot day—too much exposed in rainy weather—and wholly unfit for any purpose when winter arrives.

On expressing wonder, in the presence of the civil engineer of the yard, that so important a branch of industry, which goes directly to give strength to all other work, should be so poorly provided for, we were informed that plans for a more extensive building for a smithery and other purposes have been forwarded to Washington. The plans propose to extend the present building known as the Machine shop about 150 feet on the east, which with the present coal house included, present a front of nearly 300 feet. Wings from each end running back over 100 feet, and the extension of the smithery about 200 feet, will complete a brick shaped block in good symmetry, and leave a central area of sufficient capacity for all practical purposes. This building will add 22 forges to the smithery, permit iron and brass foundries, &c. and can be completed, as well as furnished with all suitable engines, tools, &c. for less than $150,000. This building is so evidently needed, that an examination of the Yard by the heads or the Department would at once result in its erection.

In connection with the plans of this building, we also saw plans for a brick hospital, suited for the reception of fifty patients; also for reservoirs, shops for boat builders, and other facilities indispendible to making this a thorough Naval Station.

The island on which the Navy Yard is located, although containing over sixty acres, is now so generally taken up, that more room will ere long be required for the public use. An addition of some forty or fifty acres from Trefethen's Island, which is now connected by a bridge with the yard, would be a valuable and useful addition, and could be obtained for a small consideration.—With such addition, the business of the yard could very easily be extended to accomplish all the work ever done at Norfolk and Pensacola yards, (in addition to the usual work done at this yard) with less than half the expense those yards have been to the Union. When it is borne in mind that our river is never obstructed by ice—that the best ships have here been produced, and at the lowest cost—we trust this matter will be taken into consideration before the Nation incurs the millions of expense of locating a new Naval Station in New England, and erecting the edifices for operation, which are here already made to hand, and in a locality which has no superior on the whole coast of our continent.

The Ordnance building is a place of peculiar attraction. The extensive Hall in which the implements of war are in good taste arranged—the floor glistening with mirror-brightness, most decidedly points out the place as Uncle Sam's parlor. In a room in this building the manufacture of gun carriages is carried on, on an extensive scale. The whole work is here completed. The planeing, sawing, &c. are done by steam power.

The Magazine is now ready for the reception of Powder. There is room and arrangements made for the deposit of 5000 barrels of 100 pounds each. No pains have been spared to make this building safe. The arched roof of brick weighs 400 tons. The walls are 40 inches thick throughout. The glass of the windows is an inch thick. The shutters, sashes, doors, fastening, &c. are copper composition. The ventilation and lighting of the building without exposure, shows no little ingenuity in the design. Orcutt's lightning rods have been put up by direction of the government.—Portsmouth Journal.

THE FRIGATE SABINE.

Through the courtesy of the commandant of the Yard, Com. Pearson, we were permitted to have a full range of this noble ship a few days since, which now has on board her full complement of 480 men. The first most striking object was the good appearance of the men. They are nearly all in the prime of manhood, of intelligent countenances, eyes lit with the fire of patriotism, arms strong for their country's defence. We saw not one who had the appearance of intemperate habits, or with the rough swagger which notes the old man-of-war's man.

Among those who were not immediately engaged in taking in the stores, might here be seen one marking his mattrass, another with his needle sewing up a rent, another reading the testament his mother gave him, while in almost every direction might be seen men seated by the cannon or on the hatches, with their portfolios spread on their knees, and writing letters to their mothers, sisters, or some one else. Some, more fortunate, had that die at their elbows, and sitting on the block near the port holes, they were too deeply engrossed in conversation to notice that there was any one else on board.

The officers are true gentlemen, and just such men as should have charge of such a vessel and crew. We shall look for a good report of the Sabine when she goes into active service. She is now ready, and will sail as soon as orders come.

☞ The Grand Jury have passed an unanimous vote, reprobating an article on the war published in the Princeton, Ill., Republican, as "unfounded in truth, injurious to the public safety, and evidently dictated by a narrow partizan and proscriptive feeling, rather than from any worthy or patriotic motive." Mr. Owen Lovejoy, member of Congress from the 3d district of Illinois, is the publisher of the paper.

RELIC OF BUNKER HILL.—Mr. A. F. Rowe of Boston has a halberd, which was taken from a British sergeant at the battle of Bunker Hill, by his grandfather, Benjamin Rowe, of Candia, N. H. It is a fine specimen of a kind of iron weapon once highly prized in war, but which is rarely seen at the present day.

☞ A steam carriage has recently been constructed in Hallowell, Me., intended to be used on common roads. It is not so successful in point of speed as of power. It progresses about as fast as a cart and oxen, but it ran up over one of Maine's steep hills. On the whole, the experiment appeared to be as successful as the trip of the first steamboat on the Hudson.

☞ A Rhode Island gentleman recently married a lady reputed to be rich, who not only turned out to be poor, but some $700 in debt, which he had to pay. She assured him, however, that the debt was contracted for dry goods, which she bought to captivate him.

☞ The old town of Haverhill, Mass., is to indulge in a new town hall, with rooms for the various town offices, and a hall that will seat 1200 persons. The work will be completed this season, at a cost of about $50,000.

☞ The Duke of Newcastle is engaged to be married to Lady Cecelia Molyneux, daughter of Lord Sefton. The Duke is over fifty; Lady Cecelia is twenty-two or three. The Sefton blood is considered in England as "good as the Queen's."

Dr. J. W. Scott gives the following hints: "By keeping the teeth and mouth shut, a person can sleep in any malarious region, and mingle in any out-door infection almost with impunity. Although of a weak and delicate constitution, the writer of this, some years since, went from the North to some of the most sickly portions of the South and West. He slept on the bank of rivers and on the borders of swamps, by the sea and among the mountains; and while many of the old acclimated settlers were dying around him, (especially in Norfolk, during the yellow fever,) he enjoyed his usual health; a fact which he attributes to temperance and keeping the mouth closed. This is the experience of several noted travellers, Catlin, Lewis and Livingstone.—The Indians also understood this well.—Taught by their mothers in infancy, no one has ever yet beheld an Indian sleeping with his mouth open, as is common in civilized life."

Somebody has started a list of Post Office appointments, which is said to have been "recently made." Some of them were made five months ago, and probably most of them were. We think we can see a motive for this.—Nashua Telegraph.

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.
TESTIMONIALS.
Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. K. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.
The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1861.

A Union man asks us why Vice President Hamlin is not at his post, instead of being at home, picking over potatoes.—Really, we cannot tell. Little has been heard of him since his inauguration, and since Washington has been threatened by the rebels, he has kept at a safe distance.—Springfield Republican.

This is singularly inaccurate, in such a paper as the Republican. The Vice President has no post, except in Congress time; and in that time Hamlin was at his post, in Washington, which was threatened then, certainly.

In the case of the President's death, captivity or secession, the Vice President would act as President, and really be President. And at the time when the rebels had cut off the route to Washington via Baltimore, Mr. Hamlin and Gen. Wool were together in New York city, acting to the best of their ability in getting ready for the shock of battle, in case the rebels had taken the capital, and made prisoners of Pres. Lincoln and Gen. Scott.

A NAME TO LIVE.—The first Treasury note issued will be to the patriotic Massachusetts shoemaker whose letter, accompanying a remittance of $100, which he tendered to the Government for ten years without interest, has been published. The name of the man who set so patriotic an example is E. P. Wallace, and he is a resident of Amesbury Mills, Mass. As the Secretary of the Treasury has no right to give such notes, one for $100, bearing interest at 7 and 3-10 per cent. per annum, will be issued to him.

Mr. Wallace is a cripple and therefore unable to serve his country on the battlefield. Some weeks since at a public meeting at Salisbury Mills, a subscription paper was started to assist a volunteer company then forming there; this worthy mechanic was the first to go forward, leaning on his crutches, and headed the list with a contribution of $100. The company in acknowledgement for his patriotism and liberality, adopted the name of "Wallace Guards."

GUNNERS FOR THE NAVY.—By order of the Secretary of the Navy, sixty men are to be selected from each receiving ship, and sent to Washington in detachments of not more than six at one time, as they may be required. They will be known as Ordnance Students, and will be taught naval gunnery, and appointed to sailing frigates as gunners, as vacancies occur. The pay of a gunner is $1000 per annum.

FOREIGN LITERARY INTELLIGENCE.—Mr. Charles Reade has completed another novel.

Capt. Mayne Reid has a new novel, "A Hero in Spite of Himself," in three volumes, nearly ready for publication.

Mr. Tennyson is to write some verses for the Musical Festival in connection with the Great Exhibition of 1852. The verses will be set to music by an English composer, probably Dr. Bennett.

☞ Baron Ricasoli, the new Italian Premier, began his career as an officer of engineers. He is described as of unequalled capacity for affairs; of pristine simplicity and unshrinking self-denial; a hard worker, of an inevitable eye and unshrinking hand and just the man to succeed Cavour in the redemption of his beautiful classic land.

☞ One of our brave volunteer companies at the seat of war was furnished with a box of blacking for each man, at a time when half of them were suffering for shoes. They polished their feet instead, and the Colonel observing the singular spectacle, furnished them with coverings by disbursing from his own pocket.

☞ It is asserted that in most of the large cities of the South the laws relative to the payment of Northern debts are unpopular, and a majority of the merchants will pay some time in the hereafter, but will not deposit their funds in the banks for that purpose, for fear of being confiscated.

☞ The vote in Vermont at the late election will stand about as follows: For Mr. Holbrook, 40,000; for Mr. Tracy, 2000; for Mr. Smalley, the regular Democratic candidate, 3000. Hon. Paul Dillingham has been elected Senator by a combined vote. The Legislature is Republican and Union.

LUXURIES soon cease to be a source of pleasure, and become mere necessaries, the possession of which gives no enjoyment, but the privation of which is a positive pain.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.—The following is the opinion of that eminent jurist, Justice Story, on the freedom of the press:

That this amendment was intended to secure to every citizen an absolute right to speak or write or print whatever he might please, without any responsibility, public or private, therefor, is a supposition too wild to be indulged in by any rational man. This would be to allow to every citizen the right to destroy at his pleasure the reputation, the peace, the property, and even the personal safety, of every other citizen. A man might, out of mere malice and revenge, accuse another of the most infamous crimes; might excite against him the indignation of all his fellow-citizens by the most atrocious calumnies; might disturb, nay, overturn all his domestic peace and embitter his parental affections; might inflict the most distressing punishment upon the weak, the timid, and the innocent; might prejudice all a man's civil and political and private rights; and might stir up sedition, rebellion and treason even against the Government itself in the wantonness of his passions or the corruption of his heart. Civil society could not go on under such circumstances. Men would be obliged to resort to private vengeance to make up the deficiencies of the law; and assassinations and savage cruelties would be perpetrated with all the frequency belonging to barbarous communities. It is plain, then, that the language of this amendment imports no more than that every man has a right to speak, write and print his opinions upon any subject whatever, without any prior restraint, so always that he does not injure any other person in his rights, person, property, or reputation; and so always that he does not thereby disturb the public peace or attempt to subvert the Government.

MR. EVERETT ON DISLOYAL JOURNALS.—We copy the following timely remarks from a recent paper by Mr. Everett in the New York Ledger:—

"There are presses, for the most part in the border States, though some of them are found in cities more remote from the scene of action, which are daily pleading the cause of the enemy, misrepresenting and vilifying the government of the United States, exaggerating every article of unfavorable intelligence, and exerting themselves to the utmost to dishearten the friends and defenders of the constitution and the Union. But such is the almost superstitious devotion of the people to the liberty of the press, that these pernicious journals have, with the exception of a single instance in St. Louis, never been interfered with.

"It seems to have been thought better by those in authority to tolerate the mischief of these unpatriotic presses, than to elevate them to greater importance by prosecution, or to encroach in the slightest degree upon that freedom of public discussion which in ordinary times is justly regarded as one of the greatest safeguards of liberty. But it is preposterous to sacrifice the end to the means. We should in this respect learn wisdom from the enemies of the Union.—While we regard as unbecoming our christian civilization that resort to Lynch law by which every expression of opinion adverse to the popular sentiment is suppressed in the seceded States, we ought to remember that in tolerating a traitorous press among ourselves we practice a liberality which awakens no gratitude at home, and is never reciprocated by the opposite party. It is in fact an absurdity in terms, under the venerable name of the liberty of the press to permit the systematic and licentious abuse of a government which is tasked to the utmost in defending the country from general disintegration, and political chaos.

"The Governor of Malta was once censured in Parliament for some alleged severity toward the editor of a journal in that island; and the liberty of the press was declared to be in danger. The Duke of Wellington said he was as friendly as anybody to the liberty of the press in London, but a free press in the island of Malta was as much out of place as it would be on the quarter deck of a man-of-war. We suppose the most enthusiastic champion of the press would hardly think it right to publish a journal within the walls of Fort McHenry, in which the officers of the garrison should be daily advised to desert, and the men be constantly exhorted to mutiny; and whose columns should be filled with persistent abuse of the government and all engaged in its defense. Why should journals of that description be allowed to diffuse their poison beneath its walls amidst the excitable population of a large city?"

☞ It is believed that Lyon sacrificed himself for St. Louis. His little army had just been paid, and had in charge a train estimated at a million of dollars. Had he retreated, he would have been cut to pieces. St. Louis had no other defense then, and must have fallen an easy prey to the enemy. The price was great, indeed, but nobly paid.

APPLE CROP IN NORTHERN NEW YORK.—Just now our market is overstocked with apples. The early varieties are freely offered, and sell from $1 to $1,25 per barrel. They are shipped to New York, and buyers hence are advised that the New York market is glutted; here there is no anxiety to purchase at current rates. We are not inclined to doubt that the crop of fall and winter apples hereabouts will be good; but in some localities it will be short, and fair prices for winter fruit may be expected.—Rochester Union.

If the early apples in New York, or the late ones could be brought to Boston, Portsmouth, and Portland, they would bring fair prices; for our apple crop, this way, is uncommonly small.

☞ Gen. McClellan's pastor, in a speech at Troy lately, confirmed the truth of the statement that before going to Western Virginia the General united with him in prayer.

A promising young man may do very well perhaps—a paying one much better.

THE REBELLION.—Gen. McClellan has issued an order desiring that in future there may be a more perfect respect for the Sabbath on the part of his command.

A new and formidable battery has been discovered on the Virginia side, commanding the Leesburg turnpike, about seven miles from Chain Bridge. The felling of the woods by the rebels exposed it to view. Owing to the distance, no guns were discovered, nor any large body of troops.—Men were, however, employed on the fortifications.

Our pickets advanced one mile further into Virginia on Sunday, the rebels retiring before them from the direction of Arlington.

Last Wednesday the rebels, from an eminence at Great Falls, sixteen miles from Washington, fired upon a body of our troops on the Maryland side, perhaps a hundred times, with a rifle cannon, but wounded only one of our men. They attempted to cross the river by constructing a temporary bridge with planks, but were repulsed by sharpshooters, and a number of them killed. They then retired, taking their cannon.

Twenty Baltimoreans were arrested on Saturday night, while endeavoring to make their way into Virginia. A quantity of blue flannel, several uniforms, packages, letters, medicines, a secession flag, &c., were seized at the same time. A coach-maker was also arrested; he was engaged to make wagons with false tops and bottoms, and to transmit contraband articles across the Potomac.

Refugees from North Carolina report that the lower counties of that State are ready to hoist the Union flag, when assured of support. The State troops were in part returning from Virginia.

Dispatches from Cairo bring intelligence of important military movements in that vicinity on Friday. Gen. Grant, commanding the National forces at Cairo, took possession of Paducah, Ky., a town on the Ohio river, a short distance above Cairo, for some time notorious as a rendezvous for secessionists. He found secession flags flying, in anticipation of the arrival of the rebel army, which was reported to be only sixteen miles distant, 4800 strong. When Gen. Grant entered the place, however, the loyal citizens tore down those flags. Generals Pillow and Polk are reported to be at Columbus, Ky., on the Mississippi, twenty miles below Cairo, with 7000 men, the balance of the rebel army being on the other side of the river, in Missouri. Strong reinforcements have been sent to Gen. Grant from Cairo.

The Kentucky Senate has appointed a committee to visit Western Kentucky, and inquire of the Federal and Confederate military authorities why they are occupying the soil of Kentucky. In the House, the United States flag was ordered to be raised over the capitol by a vote of 72 to 20.—Mr. Deshea subsequently moved to hoist the State flag, when the motion was referred to the Committee on Federal Relations. The Senate is composed of 27 Unionists and 11 Southern rights men; the House of 76 Unionists and 24 Southern rights men.

E. P. Wilder, an engineer, was arrested in Newark, N. J., on Saturday, and sent to Fort Lafayette. He was making a rifle battery for the rebels.

The prisons at Memphis are said to be full of Union men and women—some of whom have been grossly ill-treated before and since incarceration.

A store at Lynn Creek, Mo., was robbed on Monday of last week, by a band of 150 rebels, headed by a preacher named Johnson, of $100,000 worth of property. A member of the firm is at Jefferson City, in command of a regiment of federal troops.

The Postmaster of Osceola, St. Clair county, Mo., reports that news has reached there of a fight between Gen. Lane's Kansas brigade and a body of rebels under Gen. Rains. The latter was completely routed with heavy loss, and Rains was taken prisoner. Gen. Price, who was at Osceola, credited the report.

SHOCKING AFFAIR.—On Saturday, as a down freight train on the Grand Trunk Road was leaving South Paris, Me., Depot, a young woman approached the train with the seeming intent of throwing herself in front of the engine, but seeing that she was noticed, drew back until the engine had passed, when she threw herself on the track, between the second and third cars. The wheels of one car passed over her head, crushing the top and back of it in the most horrid manner, but inflicting no bruises on her face or person. When taken up she was dead. Her name was Dunn, and she formerly belonged in Poland, Me. It is thought a settled depression of spirits was the cause that led to self-destruction.

☞ Foster Webster, who was born in Kittery, Me., in July, 1762, died at Webster, Maine, on the 23d of August. In early life he accompanied his father, who was a captain in the Continental army, and was with him during the whole of the revolutionary struggle. At the memorable battle of Saratoga, when Burgoyne surrendered his forces, he and his father were present, and bore a conspicuous part in that glorious campaign.

Juvenile Singing Class,

FOR MISSES.

The Second Term of MR. HILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms,—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to cause them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston:—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of the matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the affairs in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

Boonsboro', Md., Mch. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn, and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,

☞ There are about eighty-five recruiting offices in this State. Of these that at Manchester has enlisted the greatest number of men. Portsmouth ranks next to Manchester, though the business has been conducted so quietly that few persons have supposed such to be the case. Since the departure of the Second Regiment there have been fifty-eight men enlisted here for the Third and Fourth Regiments. Besides these, our city has furnished many for the naval service.

☞ The Biddeford Artillery made a handsome appearance on our streets on Monday morning, and marched well to the fine music of the Portsmouth Cornet Band.

☞ Messrs. B. J. Remick and John H. Locke, of this city, have been authorized to recruit a company for the Fifth Regiment, and have opened offices at No. 6 Market Square, Portsmouth, and at the City Hall, Dover. Both are men of experience in military matters. Mr. Remick acted as a drill officer for companies of the Second Regiment, during its encampment here.

☞ The well-known ability of the speakers who are to address the Union meeting at Raymond this afternoon, should be sufficient to induce all of our citizens, who can make it convenient, to attend. The occasion, doubtless, will be a pleasant and profitable one.

A dispatch from Baltimore states that on Sunday afternoon two or three cars of the train containing the Ira Harris cavalry of New York, were thrown from the track near Cockeysville, through the criminal carelessness of the engineer. Four soldiers were killed and several wounded, three of them mortally. The engineer, on seeing the result of his carelessness, detached his locomotive and hastened to Baltimore, where he was arrested.

The rebels are surveying another hill near the Potomac, intending to fortify it.

The lower house of the N. C. legislature refuses, by a large majority, to re convene the convention that passed the secession ordinance. The refusal produced a storm of denunciation by the secession papers, which declare it will produce internecine strife in the State.

☞ The Paris papers record the death of Gen. Tom Thumb as having occurred in circumstances of great indigence, at one of the hospitals in that city. The understanding has been that the family (Stratton) was wealthy. They belong in Connecticut.

☞ The Emperor of Russia has addressed our Government on the existing state of affairs here, manifesting the most friendly interest in the welfare of this Government, and hoping for a restoration of its unity. Secretary Seward has appropriately responded.

A MASS UNION MEETING is to be held at Raymond Centre on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 10th. It is got up without regard to political parties. Hon. Walter Harriman of Warner, (Dem.,) Hon. Wm. C. Clark of Manchester, (Dem.,) and Col. Gilman H. Tucker of Raymond, (Republ.,) will address the meeting. His Excellency Gov. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. HENRY R. COSTAR:—All the summer I have been troubled with Roaches and Mice. I was actually ashamed of the house, for the Roaches were everywhere. I purchased a box of your Exterminator and tried it, and in one week there was not a Roach or Mouse in the house.
JOHN B. GIVENS, No. 94 Elm Street.

HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin, need be so no longer, if they use "Costar's" Exterminators. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they effected nothing; but COSTAR's article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Mahnen's (O.) Gazette.

MORE GRAIN and provisions are annually destroyed in Grant County, by vermin, than would pay for tons of this Rat and Insect Killer.—Lancaster (Wis.) Herald.

AYER'S

Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And by the speedy cure of the following complaints, Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gentlemen: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it broke out in ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my neck and ears with sore sores, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any things. In fact, the disorder grew worse. Although I was reluctant to resort to the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an advertisement (Sarsaparilla) I knew that I was hopeless unless that one thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses at a time, and it made my mouth and other blisters three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My flesh, I have drawn, and I have to say publicly that the medicine goes from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the benefactors of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED H. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally by persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the former; says he cures the Common Erysipelas with less.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Shaw of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre, or enormous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from ever two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. R. S. Chanslin of New York City, writes: "I now cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most powerful alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous Habit. I have cured several inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and some where the complaint was caused by abortion of the uterus. The abortion itself was soon cured by the use of the same, my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes: "I feel in duty bound to inform you that my female wife, which I had tried all the remedies we could think of, at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physicians thought she was beyond cure, but this could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before coming, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease reappeared."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I discharge my duty in forwarding you a cheque of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the cases for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic Sores in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla speedily taken cured him in five weeks. Another patient had secondary symptoms in his nose, and the physician had exhausted his skill in the treatment of it, so that I feel he should inevitably have lost his nose. Your Sarsaparilla soon cured him. Another patient had a most obstinate case of Mercurial Disease, which had defied all the remedies we could think of, at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physicians thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he insisted the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before coming, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease reappeared."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, &c.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful Rheumatism for many years, and have tried the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. A few bottles put me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than I have been attached. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. PEARL.

John N. Aldrich of Lynn, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which depressing health, I tried every thing under every thing I could hear of, and I have been to Cincinnati for some years from an other cause than that of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Leigh, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, and I have taken two bottles and my health is so much improved, that I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I cannot speak too highly of it, and I feel it my duty to make this public."

Scrofula, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cures have been reported to us where cures of these complaints have resulted from the use of our Sarsaparilla, but we have never yet seen a case in which it did not do good. We have received letters from Europe, which the agents have sent us, and we are pleased to furnish copies to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Nervous Debility, Nervous Headache, &c.

Many cures have been made of these affections which have been made by the use of some of the medicine. It often takes the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus removes the disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medical profession, and we are confident that this will fill for them a want felt but unknown till now.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and as the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to possess the power to control the disease of throat and lung complaints, that it is needless to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its extensive use in all countries, and its long continued series of wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it familiar as a household word to almost every one of the civilized nations of the earth. Its unrivalled superiority over all other medicines for the cure of all diseases of the throat and lungs, has conferred upon it a world-wide reputation, which it richly merits from the unfailing power it exerts over the most dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. Its wonderful healing power, and its wonderful fatality of these disorders, and the extent to which it has cured them, the effects of this remedy, we need not here recapitulate. We simply ask the public to give the Cherry Pectoral a fair trial, when suffering the curse which have made it so universally known and esteemed, and we feel confident that it will fix for them a lasting and well-earned fame.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Major Generals McClellan, Fremont and Hallock, who have been appointed to that rank in the regular army, were all formerly officers of the army—two of them, Generals McClellan and Hallock are West Point graduates, and were foremost in their class. Gen. Fremont achieved a reputation for himself as a cavalry officer on the Plains, and in frequent engagements with Indians.

The four Major Generals for volunteers are Hunter, Dix, Banks and Butler. Gen. Hunter is a graduate of West Point, and was appointed from the regular army.—Gen. Dix has served in our army under Gen. Scott, while Gens. Banks and Butler were appointed from civil life, and have been universally approved.

Brigadier Generals Mansfield, McDowell, Meigs, Anderson, Ripley, Rosencrans and Thomas, are all graduates of West Point, and were all distinguished in their classes.

Thirty-six of the fifty-four Brigadier Generals appointed are West Point graduates, two others were officers of the regular army, and still four others served with distinction as volunteers in the Mexican war. There are only twelve of the Brigadiers who have not had the advantage of either military education or actual experience in the art of war.

Brigadier General Burnside is detailed to the department of Brig. General Anderson, who is ordered to Kentucky.

☞ The Buffalo Atlas says sixty tons of cheese were shipped from Attica last week, and over one hundred tons have been sent away this season. The price is from five to six cents per pound, or about one-half that paid last year.

☞ It is said that somebody at the commencement of the battle of Ball Run, implored a certain Pennsylvania regiment to "strike for their homes," and they did so at the rate of ten miles an hour.

☞ Rev. Mr. Whittlesey has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Central Church in Bath, Me., with the intention of taking the Professorship of Rhetoric in Bowdoin College.

☞ It is now said there is no truth in the statement that the banker Corcoran loaned money to the C. S. A. His sympathies, but not his shrewdness, favor them.

If any one wishes to know why we do not aim our guns at the republican camp, we have only to say that we fight with no one in the trenches of the loyal army. While republicans labor to suppress rebellion and to sustain the government they shall be safe from our fire; and we don't believe it will pay, just now, to waste good ammunition in firing at their old sins. We shall not kill the butterfly for the sins of the caterpillar. —Bath Times.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.
GARDINER'S

COMPOUND
Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.
TESTIMONIALS.
Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." Having taken but one bottle, and been entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.
I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.
The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 11, 1861.

UNION MEETING IN BOSTON.

The Meeting in and around Faneuil Hall on Monday evening was an immense assemblage, and will greatly aid the cause of freedom and good government.

The promoters of the Union meeting, the Advertiser happily remarks, invoked a giant of whose strength they were scarcely conscious. The meeting was called for seven o'clock; at that hour not only was the hall densely crowded in every part, but the streets in its vicinity were packed with human beings.

A large part of the assembly had gathered with the special expectation of hearing Gen. Butler and Mr. Thomas Francis Meagher, and as neither of those gentlemen was able to be present, by reason of military engagements elsewhere, the disappointment was extreme, and threatened at first to vent itself in interruption of the regular course of proceedings. Some of the earlier speakers could hardly obtain a hearing. Others were introduced, who, it was thought, might be more acceptable.—A striking effect was produced by Hon. Richard Frothingham (editor of the Post) who quite turned the current by a patriotic burst of eloquence, couched in plain words, of ready significance, admirably adapted to the occasion.

About the same time outside meetings were organized, which served to draw off some of the pressure from the hall, and the principal meeting proceeded more quietly, concluding with an excellent speech of wise counsel and good cheer, from Senator Wilson. Patriotic resolutions were passed and the meeting adjourned in the best possible humor, after a continuous session of three hours.

In the course of the evening a patriotic message was received by telegraph from Mr. Meagher. It was read by Judge Lord, with tremendous effect, in the course of a capital speech which he was making, and to which the meeting listened well. Judge Thomas presided with spirit, and handled the somewhat boisterous materials before him with apt skill. After this meeting, it cannot for a moment be doubted that the voice of Massachusetts is for the Government and the Union, and that her people are thoroughly earnest in the cause.

Gen. Butler had received by telegraph, an order to be in Washington forthwith, and he sent in the following letter, dated Lowell, Sept. 9:—

"I am most unexpectedly called away by public duties, so that I cannot participate, as I had intended, in the meeting at Faneuil Hall. The great regret at not being permitted to unite with my fellow citizens on that occasion is softened by the reflection that the loss is wholly mine. Personal presence could only have added one to the vast throng which will crowd the hall in support of the Union, good government and the enforcement of the laws.

"That I go for a vigorous prosecution of the war is best shown from the fact that I am gone."

Mr. Winthrop said, in his letter:

The temper of the times gives utterance to many hard words, which might better be exchanged for hard blows. We may differ as to many things in the past. We may differ as to many things in the future. But we must act for the present. And for the present, there is but one course for us all. Our misguided brethren of the South have left us no alternative but to fight. Our capital must be defended. Our flag must be sustained. The authority of the government must be vindicated.

Two meetings were organized outside the hall, composed of those who were unable to gain an entrance. They were addressed by Col. Brewster, Adjutant General Schouler, Albert J. Wright, Rev. C. W. Denison and others.

☞ Capt. Gregory, of the ship R. B. Forbes, we are informed, was discharged from the service of J. T. Coolidge, Esq., of Boston, for the same cause which led to his recent arrest. He hails from Marblehead. The Navy Department gave him command of a fine ship without any inquiry into his disqualifications.—Boston Trans.

It appears that he was appointed on the recommendation of congressman Alley, to whom he had been commended by other persons.

☞ The thirty thousand dollars of Government money lost at a gambling house in Washington, by Paymaster Gallagher, has been recovered by the detectives employed by Provost Marshal Gen. Porter. Gallagher is under arrest, but claims that he is able to secure the Government against any loss.

☞ News reached Barbadoes Aug. 26th, that the pirate Sumter put into Surinam, 20th, and requested permission to coal.

A CHANGE.—A few years ago, when the minions of slavery were endeavoring to force the Lecompton decisions through Congress, and when the men who are now in rebellion to the government were striving to force slavery upon the people of Kansas, and sowing the wind that has since ripened into the whirlwind which is now being harvested, a young minister occupied the pulpit of the aristocratic church of the Epiphany, in Philadelphia. The Rev. Dudley A. Tyng, deeming it to be his duty to denounce national crime and offences against the religion of humanity, even tho' they were committed in the cause of slavery, preached a sermon upon "Our Country's Troubles," which caused a great sensation, and excited the ire of the eminent doughfaces of the congregation.

Pierce Butler (who has just been arrested as a traitor,) led the opposition; Mr. Tyng retired from the pulpit, and died. The Rev. William Otis Prentiss, of South Carolina, a holder of slaves and a warm admirer of the institution, was chosen as his successor, and he preached kid-gloved-and-knock-softly religion to his hearers. Mr. Prentiss some time since returned to his native South Carolina, and Mr. Cracraft, the present rector, was his successor. On Sunday evening, at the close of his sermon, Mr. Cracraft referred to the fact that during the past week he had paid a visit to the City of Washington, and while there he had ascertained that among the rebel prisoners taken at the battle of Bull Run, the Sunday previous, by a Connecticut regiment, was a young South Carolinian officer, who proved to be a son of the identical Rev. Mr. Prentiss. Mr. Cracraft continued his remarks by declaring that he wished the Rev. father of the young traitor was in the same safe keeping, for he (Mr. C.) had obtained, while at the seat of government, the most complete and incontrovertible evidence that while he (Mr. Prentiss) was occupying the pulpit of the Epiphany, in Philadelphia, he was in correspondence with Southern traitors, and that he was actively engaged in plotting treason against the government. Mr. Cracraft did not mince words, nor did he spare traitors or those who sympathize with them. Mr. C., although occupying the same pulpit from which poor Tyng was ejected for doing what he conceived to be a solemn duty, but a few years since, can now speak the simple truth fearlessly.

MAINE ELECTION.—The aggregate vote this year will probably be about 95,000, and Washburn's majority from 12,000 to 14,000. The Union majority will be in the whole State about 60,000.

The Legislature is largely Republican; although there will be many Union Democrats elected jointly by the Republicans and Union Democrats.

Washburn's majority will be larger in proportion to the vote than it was last year.

The vote in 31 cities and towns was as follows:

John W. Dana,	5,448
Charles D. Jameson,	8,792
Israel Washburn, Jr.,	22,087
Washburn's plurality,	7,447

In these places last year the vote stood—

Smart,	19,000
Barnes,	934
Washburn,	28,021
Washburn's plurality,	8,087

a loss of 640 from last year.

In those towns last year the whole vote was 47,955. This year it is 36,727, a falling off in one year of 11,228 votes, or nearly twenty-five per cent. of the vote of last year.

The Portland Argus said before election, that 10,000 votes for Gov. Washburn would be an eternal disgrace to Maine. He will have more than 50,000.

On the other hand, the Bath Times said, also before election:

"The people of Maine are to record their votes on the question of yielding a full, free and cordial support to the government in the prosecution of the war. A vote for Jameson or Washburn is a vote to sustain the war; a vote for Dana is a vote for compromise, which now means only division, a word which Joseph Holt says escapes only from traitorous lips. A vote for Dana is a vote to withdraw our troops ingriously from the field, and to trail the stars and stripes in the dust at the bidding of armed rebels sworn to overthrow the government."

ANOTHER TRAITOR BAGGED.—Robert Elliott, of Freedom, Me., who was arrested by U. S. Marshal Clark on Thursday, by orders from Secretary Cameron, has been instrumental in raising and arming a company of men, with the intention of resisting the war taxes and draft. He was also the "copperhead" candidate for Senator in Waldo county, and formerly a Councillor. At the same time Elliott was arrested, the guns with which his volunteers proposed to resist the federal authority, were seized.

MORE RETRENCHMENT.—Collector Goodrich has extended his retrenchments to the Weighers' Department in the Boston Custom House. There are two vacancies in that department, which will not be filled at present; and recently two of the Weighers had a furlough granted them, without pay, for thirty days. This will make a saving to the government of about $500 a month.

THE REBELLION.—The Postmaster General has directed that mail facilities be restored to Paducah, Kentucky, that place being now in the hands of the federal authorities.

Commander Roan has written a letter to the Sec. of the Navy, dated "Steamer Pawnee, Hatteras Inlet, Sept. 5th," in which he says:—"From the best information I can obtain, ten regiments have been recalled from Virginia to defend the State. The secessionists residing near the water are deserting their homes for the interior, while the poorer classes remain, waiting protection to avow their Union sentiments. A town meeting was called in Washington, on the night of the 31st ult., at which it was decided to fortify a point in the river ten miles below that town."

Col. Lamon has been authorized to raise a brigade in Virginia, and has already made arrangements for equipping them.

The rebel fortifications on Munson's Hill have every appearance of completion. The earthworks extend probably 150 yards to the right of Leesburg turnpike. No guns were observed mounted on the fortifications, but a masked battery is erected, which is concealed by a grove, about 100 yards this side of the earthworks. Everything was quiet in that vicinity on Sunday, but Monday morning the rebels opened their concealed batteries, throwing shell into our picket encampments at Bailey's cross roads. Two shells fell short and a third fell half a mile beyond, in retaliation for which our sharpshooters advanced on their pickets and killed two of them.

Gen. McClellan and Staff spent some hours among the troops, Monday.

From Gen. Banks' division we learn that the rebels keep up a firing upon our men at the ferries, and at times make demonstrations as if intending to cross. There has been heavy cannonading at Edward's Ferry. This may be their plan of drawing attention from works which are said to be in progress on the ferry road leading to Leesburg. Gen. Banks' division is ready at all times to move in any direction at a moment's notice.

Serrill, arrested with Bank of England notes in his possession, supposed on rebel account, has been released.

It is reported that the rebel forces at Columbus, Ky., under Gen. Polk, have been increased to thirteen regiments of infantry, with six field batteries, a siege battery, and three battalions of cavalry. He also has a gunboat and three steamers. Jeff. Thompson's forces remained at Bellmont, Mo., opposite Columbus.

Com. Rogers seized the steamers John Grant, John Bell and Jefferson, at Paducah, Saturday. The rebel gunboat Yankee came within three miles of Paducah, Saturday, but retired without making any hostile demonstration.

The New York Leader reports the arrest of agents of the rebels in New York, and the discovery of a carrier pigeon communication from the suburbs of that city with Richmond. A pigeon was shot by a rifleman, and under the bird's wing was an important dispatch on its way South. A shed somewhere on Long Island was used as a starting point for the pigeons.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The London Times, editorially, calls on the Government to strain every nerve to develop cotton cultivation in India and elsewhere. It says it believes there will be no lack of will to assist, on the part of the Government, if merchants and manufacturers will point out the way.—Government will waive all scruples when the prosperity of the country and the existence of millions are at stake.

The Daily News, in commenting on the fugitive slave question, concludes that the Federal cause is henceforth clearly identified with the abolition of slavery.

West India advices via England report that the privateer Sumter has taken and sunk 40 vessels, causing great excitement there.

It is reported that Lord Monk will succeed Sir E. Head, as Governor-General of Canada.

☞ Rev. Dr. Spring is about to resign his pastoral charge of the old Brick Church, New York, where he has held position for over fifty-one years. He is quite infirm, and the recent trouble in his church, with Dr. Hoge, who was an anti-Union man, and went heart and soul for the South, and the recent marriage of the Doctor, give him as much as he can attend to. So his resignation is probable, though most persons suppose that he would prefer to live and die pastor of his old charge.

The new class at Amherst College numbers nearly 80, one of the largest that has ever entered.

Since 1844 there has been but one summer (1854) in which so little rain has fallen as during the season just closed, and but two summers (1857 and 1859) in which there was not a greater average of heat.

HUTCHINS' HAIR DYE,

THE VERY BEST NOW IN USE, as many thousands who have tried it will testify.

The great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation, it also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring, it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

Juvenile Singing Class,

FOR MISSES.

The Second Term of MR. TILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

"Best combination and a form indeed"

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

MESSRS. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston.—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

The success of this remedy has been fully tested in various parts, where the moisture of the climate induces great prevalence of Colds, &c., and a certainty of the efficiency of a remedy is required to avoid Consumption and ultimate death. This remedy, although only recently introduced in this vicinity, has met with a great demand, and every confidence is placed in its merits by those who have given it a fair and impartial trial.

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Boonsboro', Md., Mch. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,

LAWS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Public and private acts passed at the session of the Legislature, June, 1861. For sale by JOSEPH H. FOSTER.

Local.

☞ The Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence Society held its annual meeting on Monday evening, Sept. 9, in the Temple. The officers elected for the year were Tobias H. Miller, President; William C. Hatch, Vice President: Frederick W. Rogers, Secretary and Treasurer; and Mesbach Bell, John W. Fernald, and John I. Lane, Executive committee.

It was voted unanimously to add to the Committee all the ministers in the city,—and to publish the names only of such as accept the office.

In the report of operations for the last year, mention was made of the gratifying fact, that eight lectures were given last winter, by ministers of the city, to large congregations.

The meeting was adjourned to Monday evening, Sept. 23, to complete the annual business.

☞ The Biddeford Artillery, Capt. Andrews, returned to Fort McClary on Tuesday morning. The Company recently presented to their Commander a handsomely-mounted cane, made of a piece of oak from the U. S. Frigate Constitution, as a testimonial of their high esteem and good will.

☞ We receive some letters from the camp, which we do not publish; for they treat of matters that it may do to talk about in the camp, but should not be published at a distance. It is wrong to publish indefinite rumors and unsupported statements, which can do no good, but may create a good deal of uneasiness among home friends.

☞ Lieut. Edward J. Conner has opened a recruiting office at No. 5 Daniel street, for the enlistment of volunteers in the 17th Regiment, U. S. Infantry. He will remain for a few days and a good opportunity is offered those preferring to enter the regular army.

☞ Portsmouth still advances. A few short weeks ago, and in almost any part of our city might be found unoccupied tenements, and now very few remain empty, owing, in part, to families moving in from other places, many men having found employment at our Navy Yard. From these circumstances the business part also has received a new impetus, and much enterprise is manifested, especially on the part of the ladies, which is highly creditable. There are now four stores under the entire superintendence of young ladies, and we are informed that another establishment is now fitting up at No. 22 Market street, over Mr. J. C. Carr's store, under the management of Miss M. A. Fernald, who has so successfully, for a number of years, taken the charge of the millinery department at I. B. Fonda's. Miss F. is about to leave for New York, to be present at the great opening of fashions, and in about two weeks will be ready to compete with any of the Boston establishments in point of elegance of style, newness of fashions, etc., and satisfy the ladies that Portsmouth cannot be outdone by the larger cities.

THE UNION MEETING at Raymond, Tuesday, was a complete success. The attendance was large. Speeches were made by Hon. Walter Harriman and Hon. Wm. C. Clarke, of Manchester, Col. Gilman H. Tucker, S. M. Harriman, and S. D. Tilton, of Raymond. Gov. Berry was unable to be present. We shall give detail of proceedings to-morrow.

☞ The Eighth Maine Regiment passed through this city about half past one o'clock Tuesday noon, en route for the seat of war.

Gen. Montgomery has closed all liquor stores in Alexandria.

Government will shortly put afloat two more expeditions destined for the Southern coast.

A letter to the Baltimore American from a citizen of Leesburg, says that a whole Mississippi regiment stationed there revolted on Saturday, broke their muskets to pieces, and started for home.

At the meeting in New York city, of the Mozart General Committee, Monday night, to hear the report of the delegates to the Syracuse Convention, resolutions were offered by Mayor Wood, which were adopted, repudiating the action of the convention, and declaring unreservedly for the maintenance of the National Government, without regard to party, until the rebellion is crushed out.

Counterfeiters of the Confederate Treasury notes have been arrested.

The Memphis Avalanche, of the 8th, announces that steamer Hartford City has been captured by Federal gunboats. The entire crew are prisoners.

A dispatch from Gen. Polk to Gov. Magoffin was laid before the Kentucky Legislature, Monday morning. The substance of it is that he had occupied Columbus and Hickman, on account of reliable information that the Federal troops were about to do so; that he considered the safety of Western Tennessee and of the rebel army in the vicinity of Hickman and Columbus demanded their occupation, and proposing that the Federal and rebel troops withdraw from Kentucky.

Gen. Anderson arrived at Louisville from Frankfort, Monday evening.

☞ A dispatch from New York states that a Capt. Cresto, with a company of about 40, on Monday night left the encampment of the N. Y. Rifles at Willett's Point, intending to join some other regiment, but met a guard of some 30 men who refused to let them pass. Words ensued, and a pistol was discharged, accidentally, it is said, when the guard fired on them, killing two and fatally wounding four. Capt Cresto was arrested.

"A feast of reason and flow of soul," said the woman, when she took her pan of Biscuit from the oven, and threw away four kinds of villainous compounds that she had purchased, and which they called Saleratus. The same lady keeps on talking, and says after one trial of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, if any one is not then satisfied that there is nothing like it, their unbelief will be their ruin. At retail everywhere, and at wholesale Grocers. Depot 112 Liberty street, New York. 3td

No Wonder.—So many worthless medicines are advertised for the cure of various diseases, and when tried "found wanting," that the invalid loses all faith in specifics. We have yet to learn, however, of the first failure of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, to cure coughs, colds, and pulmonary diseases. 6t

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four ounce bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. BOSWINALL.

☞ See what the People, Press and Dealers say:—

HENRY R. COSTAR:—All the summer I have been troubled with Roaches and Mice. I was actually ashamed of the house, for the Roaches were everywhere. I purchased a box of your Exterminator and tried it, and in one week there was not a Roach or Mouse in the house.

JOHN B. GIVENS, No. 94 Elm Street.

HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin, need be so no longer, if they use "Costar's" Exterminators. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they effected nothing; but Costar's article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Medina (O.) Gazette.

MORE GRAIN and provisions are annually destroyed in this county, by vermin, than would pay for tons of this Rat and Insect Killer.—Lancaster (Wis.) Herald.

HENRY R. COSTAR:—Your Exterminator is received, used, and pronounced a decided success. We used a box of it, and the way the Rats and Mice trained Neil that night, was a caution to sleepers. Since then, not a Rat or Mouse has been heard in kitchen or cellar.—Mayrager (Iowa) News.

I HAVE BEEN SELLING your Exterminator for the last year, and have found it a sure shot every time. I have not known it to fail in a single instance.

GEO. ROSS, Druggist, Cardington, O.

WE ARE SELLING your preparations rapidly. Wherever they are used, Rats, Mice, Roaches, and Vermin disappear instantly.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints:
Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it breaks out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and care with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was persuaded to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I went to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the Scrofula is out of my system. Many persons will believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully,

Yours,
ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Scurvy, Scaly Skin.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Erysipelas, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a case of Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. & Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in the Leucorrhea and Ulceration of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The alteration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these complaints in my practice."

Edward S. Harrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor in one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taking, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his throat, after the mercury, he eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla, the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disease by mercury, was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become sensitive to the weather that on a cloudy day she felt excruciating pain in her bones, and could not bear. She was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this preparation from your laboratory must be the best remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Friendly yours, D. V. LAURIMER, M.D.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful rheumatism for a long time, which defied the skill of physicians, and I could find no help, and tried remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health in such a manner that I am far better than I was before attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Wm. V. Gaskill of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down invalid for years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved daughter, Mrs. Mary Mc. Boyle, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, from the wonderful knowledge and any disease you have to contend with, I say, try it. By the blessing of God it saved her life, and has restored my blood so to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best thing I can do is to tell my friends of it."

Scurvy, Cancer, Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cures have been reported to us where cures of these complaints have been effected, but want of space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative properties of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and from numerous testimonies which we have in our possession, we feel assured it does cure. Such a remedy has long been required by the medical profession and the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This preparation is universally known to surpass any other medicine of its kind, and long experience has proved to the world its power to subdue the virulence of the most dangerous pulmonary complaints that afflict humanity. Its wonderful virtues for coughs and colds, and its truly astonishing cures of pulmonary consumption, are known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Physicians, clergymen, or even families, among them you may generally find some who can testify to the superior efficacy of this noble remedy in their relief of its victory over the dreadful diseases of the throat and lungs. Yet who can tell the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and who dare say, but the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than say to every them that it has now all the virtues it had when its effects making the reputation which have rested so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to purchasers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— George James, one of the teamsters of the 3d Regt., was pushed off the baggage train near Worcester while the cars were going 40 miles an hour. He was attempting to tie some of the horses which were loose. The train was stopped and James taken up slightly injured, but so little that he has kept on duty all the time since the accident.

—— George S. Chase of New Hampshire has been granted a pension for injuries received in the present war.

—— G. A. Gerrish, 1st Lt. in Cobb's Battery, has been chosen Captain of the Manchester Light Battery and accepts the position. He is an accomplished officer, and the Company have reason to feel satisfied with their choice.

—— Edward F. Porter, the Liquor Commissioner for Massachusetts, has been appointed agent for this State also.

—— At a marble yard not a thousand miles from Wolfboro', was left the following, which is to be inscribed upon the tomb of John Donnelly, who was killed some months since at Alton Bay, by the blowing up of the saw-horse engine of the Cocheco Railroad:

The Engine was My pride,
By its Force, i Died,
It Caused My instant Death,
My Boddy is at Reast.

☞ The good intentions of the Sultan of Turkey seem to have been already thwarted; the immense influence of all the officials who surround him, the pressure of the women once in the seraglio, and of a myriad of subordinates in every sphere of life, has been too much for the Commander of the Faithful, who has thus early succumbed.—His special aid in the good work of reform, so vigorously inaugurated, was Kubrisli Mohammed Pacha; his special obstruction in that work, Ali Pacha. Kubrisli has fallen, and Ali takes his place; so that the revolution is complete.

SMART FOR WEED-CHEWERS. — A painful rumor having reached Springfield that the Southerners were about to poison the tobacco consumed by the North; a meeting of old chewers, who had chewed tobacco in all forms, was held, who resolved that if the South could get up anything worse than they had tried, they would like to see it. A copy of the resolve was sent to Jeff. Davis.

FASHION.
A way to dress,
In the mode, I guess,
Picks a cushand,s bones quite clean,
And poor Mr. Quatt
Must cry "No fat!"
And his wife will GET NO-LENS.

☞ A queer custom prevails in some of the churches in Quebec in regard to the hymns. Twice a day the hymns to be sung are placed before the congregation, printed on cards about three by five inches in size. It is quite an advantage to those who enter the church after the hymn has been given out by the pastor.

☞ The Federal forces took exactly the same number of cannon at Hatteras that the rebels captured at Bull Run.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

COMPOUND
Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.
TESTIMONIALS.
Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.
I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex Member of Congress from Maine.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1861.

"MRS. LINCOLN AT NIAGARA.—Niagara Falls, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Lincoln has arrived."

It seems a little strange that Mrs. Lincoln should go a-pleasuring to Long Branch, Saratoga, and Niagara Falls, when Washington and Mr. Lincoln are in danger—but it is none of our business. —Concord Patriot.

Let no irreverent reader presume to laugh at the owl-like gravity of this comment; but let the sober-minded man imagine, if he can, how much protection Mrs. Lincoln could give to her husband and to Washington, if Generals Scott and McClellan, with the army and navy, and the great guns, could not keep off the rebels. Some things are more ridiculous than others; and this comment is "some."

The Patriot of the 11th inst., forgetting what it said the week before, now says:

"Mrs. Lincoln evidently does not believe that Washington is in danger this fall. We never thought it was at all."

FROM THE SOUTH.—Late movements of the Federals in Kentucky create considerable consternation at the South.

The Southern papers complain that millions have been sent North by the Banks and capitalists of the South for the purpose of buying bonds of the rebel States at depreciated value, saying it is equivalent to giving money to the enemies.

A stampede of families took place from Fernandina, Fla., on the 4th, from apprehension of a bombardment of the town by the Federal fleet, which now holds strict blockade of that point. The Savannah News of the 5th states that the whole coast of Florida is blockaded.

The Memphis Appeal of the 7th, in an article on the capture of Hatteras, complains of the inefficiency of the military board, and expresses the fear that the leaders are too much engrossed in prosecuting the war in Virginia, to accord necessary attention to the sea coast and Mississippi valley.

The Coast Guard companies are increasing along the Georgia, Florida and South Carolina coast.

The New Orleans Crescent of the 7th condemns the Military Board of Mississippi for inactivity, in not adding to her coast defences.

A dispatch to the Nashville Gazette says Brownlow and son have been arrested at Knoxville by the rebel officers. It is stated that the charge against them is ostensibly for circulating Helper's Book.

It is stated that the Quartermaster's Department at Richmond has been very active lately. Large contracts have been made for camp and field equipage, to the amount of 100,000 sets.

The Richmond Whig has a sarcastic article on the loss of Fort Hatteras. It says "the most important part of our coast for privateering purposes is now in the hands of the enemy, and the gallant old North State is now liable to invasion; still it is a small matter. It will take 30,000 men to regain the fort; but that is nothing. What do we want of it? It was evidently built for fun. Had we been in earnest, some notice would have been taken of the warning given by Northern papers. It would be the height of folly and treason to accuse any member of the Cabinet of negligence in the premises. We who live at the seat of government know too well the superhuman energy, sleepless vigilance, and miraculous promptitude of every department, to entertain for a moment a shadow of suspicion of any short coming on the part of any one nearly or remotely connected with the Administration. Picayune Butler can now leave as many men as he pleases in the forts of North Carolina. Of course we will whip them, for haven't we the greatest abundance of unarmed militia?"

☞ In Bath, Me., at the late election, John Hayden, Republican, and J. T. Gilman, Union Democrat, were elected Representatives. Mr. Hayden received about 100 votes from Union Democrats; while Mr. Gilman (editor of the Bath Times) received three times that number from liberal Republicans.

☞ A fire on Monday night, in the livery stable of Matthew Carroll, on Staten Island, N. Y., destroyed the building, 25 horses, several wagons, carriages, &c.—Loss $15,000; insured $2300.

☞ The Patriot states that Ex-President Pierce arrived in Concord on Monday, and is now superintending some farm operations at Hillsborough, his native place.

THE UNION (WAR) MEETING,

AT RAYMOND,

On Tuesday, drew a large crowd of men and women to this pleasant little town, and drew no little patriotic eloquence out of the speakers and people. The services were held on the Square, in front of the Town Hall, where platforms were built for the speakers and the Raymond Band, which furnished the music.

But the first thing was a good dinner at the hotel—no, before that was a ride up in the C. & P. cars—where we couldn't help thinking that Portsmouth ought to have had a better, or rather larger representation on this occasion. Some were saying that the railroad fare ought to be reduced—but it has been found, time and again, that this is not a successful experiment for our railroads. The fact is, Portsmouth people are not easily stirred up or aroused. But to the Meeting—and now we are here, a word of it—for all facilities to obtain report of which, we were indebted to Messrs. Blake, Col. Tucker, and others.

The hearers and the speakers were from all parties, and "no party," to which latter all true men belong, now-a-days. And as this was always our party, of course we counted ourselves in. The military turnout consisted of the Deerfield Cavalry, Capt. Prescott; with two companies of infantry, from Raymond and Deerfield; and an Artillery company—and they made a very imposing display.

The Meeting was called to order by Sam'l M. Harriman, Esq., of Raymond, who, with a brief patriotic speech announced the officers of the Meeting: President, S. D. Tilton; Vice Presidents, Joseph Blake, Sherburne Blake, B. B. Gilman, James F. Dudley, John Brown, Asa Currier, Wilson P. Abbott, Sam'l N. Lane, Jere. Fullonton, Joseph Fiske. Secretary, S. M. Harriman. Marshal, Col. James Welch. Com. of Arrangements, True M. Gould, D. Pecker, S. Blake, Simon Prescott, W. B. Blake, W. P. Tufts, John Smith.

Hon. S. D. Tilton, president of the day, after a neatly-brief and briefly-neat address, read the following letter from His Excellency Governor Berry,—whose necessary absence caused much regret:

CONCORD, Sept. 9th.

* * * I am compelled to forego the pleasure of being present at your Union Meeting, as business engagements require my services at the capital on that day.

The present distracted state of our beloved country calls loudly for the united aid of all who are friends to our glorious constitution—the supremacy of our laws—the putting down of the present wicked rebellion, and the union and happiness of all the States. I rejoice in the general unanimity of feeling and action that is being manifested in the "Old Granite State."

May the day soon arrive when all rebels shall quail before the united, stern and determined efforts of the loyal citizens of our country; and union, peace, liberty and prosperity pervade our whole country.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
N. BERRY.

Col. Gilman Tucker, Com.

Col. G. H. Tucker, of Raymond, of the Governor's staff, next spoke—and spoke well, although too long—as a friend remarked, he spoke to the point, but spoke to it so long, that he blunted it.

[But we cannot attempt to give a sketch of the remarks of any of the speakers—which were in many instances eloquent, generally interesting, always patriotic; and listened to with close attention throughout. It would require too much time, too much hard writing, (and harder deciphering,) and occupy too much space.

Hon. Wm. C. Clarke, Democrat, of Manchester, came next; and came not in vain. His brief words were earnest and cheering. One remark of his we must give—that there is a larger proportion of rebel sympathizers in New Hampshire, than in any other loyal State; which he attributed to the utter silence of her great democratic leader, and hitherto ardent defender of the constitution, whom the country has long delighted to honor. Where is he now?

Hon. Walter Harriman next spoke—and he never yet spoke without saying something. He addressed his remarks chiefly to his old Democratic political associates, whom he "wished to address once more, in favor of the Constitution and the Union." And his clear, able arguments, and logical deductions, could not be gainsaid. He is always a telling speaker, and a man for the times.

Hon. Wm. H. Rixford of Concord, wound up the speech-making, with sound patriotism and no little fun. Capt. Carr, of the N. H. 2d, called for recruits; and with three cheers for Clarke, three for Harriman; three each for the Band, the ladies and the old flag, and nine for the Union—the meeting dispersed.

The whole affair has passed off pleasantly, successfully, "decently and in order," as all true Union men always do everything; and we can but think it was good to have been there. Let us have a Union Meeting in old Portsmouth. There are many who need it—the loyal for encouragement; the traitorous—and they are too many—for a check and warning. Say when!

Raymond is a neat little town, situated just about 25 miles each, from Portsmouth, Concord and Newburyport; and we go hence for Concord—whence we may have some "Jottings by the Way" for you, of interest or importance. IRD.

Raymond, Sept. 10th.

THE REBELLION.—Great activity prevails in all the Departments at Washington. In the Navy Yard 1675 men are employed, many of them night and day.—Shot and shell in immense quantities are forwarded continuously to the proper points, and the manufacture of Dahlgreen rifled cannon continues without intermission. A howitzer drill is conducted under experienced officers, and the seamen have acquired great proficiency.

Col. DeCourcey, an English officer, formerly commanding a Turkish regiment in the Crimean war, has tendered his services to the Government and has been accepted.

Vigilant police agents are stationed at every point where persons enter or leave the United States going to or coming from Canada, with full authority in the matter of passports.

Commander Porter has been assigned duty on the Mississippi river.

Considerable skirmishing took place on Monday night between our troops and the rebels near Chain Bridge. A large scouting party under Gen. Smith, advanced during the night as far as Lewisville, seven miles from Chain Bridge, where they were attacked by the rebel pickets. One man was killed. A rebel major and captain, of Stewart's Virginia regiment, were taken prisoners, but refused to give their names.

It is stated that the rebels are rebuilding the railroad from Strasburg to Harper's Ferry.

Advices from Springfield, Mo., Friday morning, state that no battle had taken place Monigumery and Rains.

By order of Gen. Fremont, Provost Marshal McKinstry has issued instructions that no officer or soldier will hereafter be allowed to leave his camp, unless for executing some public trust or in the performance of the most imperative personal business, and not then without a written permit from his brigade or regimental commander.

The irritation between the Unionists and the secession element in Louisville, Ky, hourly increases.

A delegation of Tennessee secessionists, assisted by Senators Breckinridge and Powell, ex-Gov. Morehead and others, are exerting their utmost to prevent the endorsement by the Kentucky Legislature of the formation of military camps in the State. A call for additional volunteers is urged by more decided Unionists. The Confederate examining officer at the State line has stated to travelers over the Louisiana and Nashville Railroad, that he took $250,000 in gold from passengers coming North within ten days.

Capt. Welch of the schooner Mary Ellis at New York, recently from Charleston, states that the following vessels were fitting out as privateers in Charleston harbor:—The Beauregard, Capt. Sibley, with 40 men, to sail Sept. 1; steamer South Carolina, alias Bull Run, Capt. Coxetter, with 80 men. The light-ship from Rattle Quake Shoal, with 40 men, was also fitting out as a battery. Her crew were mostly in prison, as they refused to serve after bearing of the loss of the Petrel. All privateers within the rebel States are from Charleston, and mainly belong to New York.

It is reported that on Tuesday deputations of prominent Philadelphians called on the President and the Secretarry of War, asking for the better defence of Philadelphia, by fortifying the Delaware river and arming the Home Guard.

Gen. McClellan has restored the colors of the 79th N. Y. Regiment, after administering the oath of allegiance.

Col. Hawkins has formed the nucleus of a North Carolina regiment at Hatteras.—He has 200 men already enlisted.

A rebel prisoner states that since the Hatteras affair thirteen regiments have left the rebel army for the South.

Gen. Butler had a long interview, Tuesday, with Secretary Cameron and Gen. Scott. He will start soon on another expedition.

The captain and clerk of the steamer Catiline, burnt recently at Fortress Monroe, have been arrested, charged with setting the vessel on fire.

FOREIGN.—Russell's latest letter to the London Times says the issue in America is rapidly narrowing to a contest between slavery and abolition, and he thinks the President will soon declare all slaves within the limits of the United States army free. The Times' editorial advises compromise.

It is stated that a leading house in Liverpool has purchased 15,000 bales of Surat cotton for shipment to New York.

The India government continued to publish reports from all parts of the country, relative to cotton producing capabilities, which are represented as equal to all wants, provided good roads and steady demand be established.

☞ Prince de Joinville arrived at New York by the steamer Africa. He is accompanied by his son, whom he desires to place in the Naval Academy at Newport.

☞ Gen. Benj. C. Howard has been nominated for Governor of Maryland by the Secessionists.

☞ It is stated that persons living in New York, who own property in Virginia have received official notice from the various county clerks of that State, that unless they acknowledge the sovereignty of the Southern Confederacy their lands and houses will be confiscated.

☞ The impression prevails among the slaves of Virginia and probably throughout the South, that the war will bring them freedom. No those state who escape to our lines from the other side of the river.

Juvenile Singing Class,

FOR MISSES.

The Second Term of MR. TILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms,—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1859.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston,—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more stirred my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, and sold by Preston, Kimball, Hutchings, J. H. Thacher, N. F. Thacher, Portsmouth; James P. Peck, Greenland; S. Hanson, Jr., New Market; Porter & Thyng, and Wm. B Safford, Exeter; J. W Green, Hampton Falls; and by dealers every where.

References can now be given to some of the principal Physicians and numerous individuals in this vicinity, who have used the above remedy with the fullest success in various cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Sore Throat, Influenza, Irritation of the Uvula, &c., &c. The success of this remedy has been fully tested in various parts, where the moisture of the climate induces great prevalence of Colds, &c., and a certainty of the efficiency of a remedy is required to avoid Consumption and ultimate death. This remedy, although only recently introduced in this vicinity, has met with a great demand, and every confidence is placed in its merits by those who have given it a fair and impartial trial.

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Boonsboro', Md., Mch. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,

LAWS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Public and private acts passed at the session of the Legislature, June, 1861. For sale by

JOSEPH H. FOSTER.

Local.

☞ After a drouth of several weeks' duration, in which time clouds of dust covered the city, and the little streams in the country were dried up, the windows of Heaven were opened on Wednesday, the rains descended and the floods came, much to the relief of plants and animals well housed; but to the great discomfort of bipeds and quadrupeds who were exposed without shelter. In the forenoon the wind here was from the S. W. and the rain gentle and moderate; but in the afternoon the wind hauled to S. E. and freshened into a gale, and the rain poured down copiously.

☞ Lieut. Samuel Sayles, of 2d Regt. N. H. V., has been appointed Captain of company K; in place of W. O. Sides resigned. 2d Lieut. John S. Sides has been appointed First Lieutenant of company K. Capt. Sayles is from Dover and is a good officer. He was in the 9th U. S. Infantry in the Mexican war under Capt. John H. Jackson.

☞ Lieut. Joseph M. Bradford has been ordered to and has arrived at this Navy Yard. Lieut. Bradford, is a son-in-law to Ex-Gov. Goodwin, and has seen pretty constant sea service for several years past. He is a native of Tennessee and entered the service in 1840.

☞ The steamer Kearsarge was removed on Wednesday morning from the Railway at the Navy Yard, and placed in the Dry Dock, where she will be coppered before being put afloat.

☞ Persons desiring copies of the new Hymn Book to be used in the Universalist Church, may obtain them at the store of W. N. Ilsley, No. 3 Market street. 1t

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Concord Statesman has published a very interesting article on the birth places of the soldiers of the N. H. Regiments, which shows how large a portion of the men who have responded to the call of the President are New England stock.—The records of those regiments give the native places of 2415 volunteers. Rockingham County furnishes 234; Strafford, 89; Belknap, 82; Carroll, 54; Merrimack, 174; Hillsborough, 208; Cheshire, 110; Sullivan, 90; Grafton, 148; Coos, 43.—Total 1360. Concord furnishes 46; Portsmouth, 42; Nashua, 27; Peterboro', 23; Manchester, 20; Exeter, 18; Keene, 15; Dover, 13. 262 are from Massachusetts, 230 from Vermont, 152 from Maine, 16 from Connecticut, and 9 from Rhode Island, making an aggregate of 2029 from New England. New York contributes 62, and all the other States eleven more. The foreign element is thus stated:—West Indies, 1; Portugal, 1; New Providence, 1; France, 3; Nova Scotia, 4; New Brunswick, 5; Switzerland, 1; Prussia, 3; Germany, 7; Canada, 67; Wales, 3; Ireland, 147; Scotland 24; England, 46.

—— The editor of the Newport Argus has been shown, by Mr. I. W. Gove of Weare, a beautiful specimen of pure gold, which, Mr. G. stated, he washed from and gathered from a small stream in the town of Plainfield. The stream upon which it was found, has its source in the mountain range. There might have been a dollar's worth in the specimen, in small particles.—Further explorations will of course be made; and if we have mineral wealth in the State, we shall soon hear more about it.

—— The tolls on the Mount Washington Carriage Road are as follows:—Foot passengers, 32 cents; a horse and his rider, 80 cents; a horse without a rider, 32 cents; a chaise or buggy, 54 cents;—a two-horse wagon, 66 cents; a wagon with four horses, $1.28. Each passenger in the vehicle is charged 80 cents, besides the bill on the carriage.

—— Dr. Alpheus B. Crosby, of Hanover, Surgeon of the First N. H. Regiment, has been appointed Brigade Surgeon in the army.

—— Charles Moore, engineer, who was killed in the catastrophe on the Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad, in Missouri, was a native of Bedford, where his parents now reside.

—— The late Mrs. Susan N. Noyes, of Franklin, by her last will and testament, gives and bequeathes to the Christian denomination the sum of $1000, to be applied to the establishment of a school in New Hampshire. In case of the decease of a certain relative within a prescribed time, Mrs. N. gives a further sum of $1000 for the same purpose.

—— Major B. B. French, formerly of this State, and long a resident of Washington, has been appointed Commissioner of Public Buildings by President Lincoln.

☞ The U. S. Marshal Tuesday morning, under directions from Washington, seized the balances in the Boston banks, due to the banks within the "Southern Confederacy." The precise amount of the seizure is not definitely known. It will probably amount to some tens of thousands of dollars.

It was reported that among the funds seized there was one lot of Treasury notes, amounting to upwards of fifty five thousand dollars, which belonged to a banking house in the South.

LATEST.—Reinforcements were to leave Fortress Monroe Wednesday evening for Hatteras. Naval stores are also on the way. Gen. Reynolds has been appointed to the chief command there. At Old Point vigorous measures are being taken for fitting out expeditions to the Southern coast, under Gen. Wool's command.

The Washington Republican says the rebel batteries at Aquia Creek extend six miles, apparently in good condition. One of their rifled cannon a few days ago threw shell across the Potomac which is about four miles wide. It is reported that there are at least 15,000 rebel troops in that vicinity.

Gen. Lyon, by his will, left all his property, valued at $30,000, to the government.

☞ The People's "Union" or "Independent" Convention at Syracuse, N. Y., Tuesday, was not so harmonious as a true Union Convention should be. The delegation from Albany was accused of secession proclivities and was expelled from the Convention. The Dickinson men and Greeley Republicans are said to have had control of the movement.

☞ Petitions are in circulations in Philadelphia for signatures asking the city council to recommend the observance of the coming anniversary of the adoption of the federal constitution—the 17th instant—as a general holiday. The movement is received with great favor.

☞ Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy, has been invited to a public dinner by a large number of the prominent citizens of Hartford, Conn., including men of all parties.

☞ A Washington letter asserts that Mayor Berrett communicated information to the Confederates which thwarted a very important movement contemplated by Gen. McClellan.

☞ Rev. Edward C. Guild has accepted the invitation of the First Congregational parish in Canton, Ms., and will be installed as its pastor on Wednesday, the 11th inst.

"A feast of reason and flow of soul," said the woman, when she took her pan of Biscuit from the oven, and threw away four kinds of villainous compounds that she had purchased, and which they called Saleratus. The same lady keeps on talking, and says after one trial of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, if any one is not then satisfied that there is nothing like it, their unbelief will be their ruin. At retail everywhere, and at wholesale Grocers. Depot 113 Liberty street, New York. 3td

No Wonder.—So many worthless medicines are advertised for the cure of various diseases, and when tried "found wanting," that the invalid loses all faith in specifics. We have yet to learn, however, of the first failure of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, to cure coughs, colds, and pulmonary disease. 6t

JOHN B. GUYENS, No. 94 Elm Street.

HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin, need be so no longer, if they use "Costar's" Extermintors. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they effected nothing; but COSTAR'S article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Medina (O.) Gazette.

MORE GRAIN and provisions are annually destroyed in Grant County, by vermin, than would pay for tons of this Rat and Insect Killer. —Lancaster (Wis.) Herald.

HENRY R. COSTAR:—Your Exterminator is received, used, and pronounced a decided success. We used a box of it, and the way the Rats and Mice "raised Ned" that night, was a caution to sleepers. Since then, not a Rat or Mouse has been heard in kitchen or cellar.—Magregor (Iowa) Times.

A little girl from Palmer went to camp meeting at Wilbraham last week, and when she got home she said the sisters in the tents told her a good many things and asked questions about the bible. On being pressed to state what they told her, she said one thing they told her was about Peter, "who swore three times before he crowed."

☞ The London Economist in a recent article says in substance that if the North has credit and the South has no credit, the advantage thereby possessed by the former more than countervails ten Manassas defeats.

One of the elders at the Second Advent camp meeting, at Willbraham, last week, is reported to have said that "the United States are not referred to in any of the ancient prophecies, for the reason that this country had not been discovered when they were made."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gentn: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for my family. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was induced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that if anything you made be good, I want to find it. I bought and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a week, and used about three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the blood has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Fetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Scurvy, Scaly and Blotchy Eruptions.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Erysipelas, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a severer case, Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Eruptions by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I make cheerfully compliance with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in the Disease of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and some where the vaginal mucous membrane was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female complaints."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous carbuncle formed on one of the females to my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation would afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, but I think its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Syphilitic Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration began to eat away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla, the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of a nose without some disfigurement to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disease by mercury was entirely cured from this poison in her house. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pains in her joints and bones. She was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Naturally yours, G. V. LAHIMME, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INGRAMSBURG, Prince Ed.'s Co., C. W., July, 1858.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and I was at last cured by your Sarsaparilla. The effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Syphilitic Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. A woman who had been treated for the same disease by mercury was entirely cured from this poison in her house. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pains in her joints and bones. She was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Scirrhous Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cures have been reported to us where cutting or burning for complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but not a single case has been added thereto. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medical profession and the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other in the cure of dreadful pulmonary complaints, that it is superfluous to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary diseases, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. You see the recommendation, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. And I know Dr. Wistar himself, fully appreciates the value of the medicine, and that he does not hesitate to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won it strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE, and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Morning Chronicle.

☞ An officer of the army on the Potomac says, that the rebel women give them a deal of trouble, presuming upon the courtesy shown even in war time to the sex. Many of them, apparently ladies in all other respects, do not hesitate to lie to any extent to get into the camps and across the lines, to act the part of spies. When refused the permission they seek, they "put on airs" and pout and scold, rendering it somewhat difficult for officers and men to reconcile gallantry with military duty.

The Boston Post in a late issue remarks: "The boys of New England want muscle more than they want brains—most of them want pleasure and less hot-house education. Introduce the military drill as a part of their education and while they are educating their bodies they will be learning something that may be of benefit to the State."

☞ Gen. Ebenezer W. Pierce, of Freetown, Mass., has accepted a position on the staff of Gov. Sprague. Gen. Pierce led the attack on Great Bethel.

Did you ever know a boy to keep a piece of plum cake until it was mouldy; or a money dealer that did not expect a panic or great distress in the money market?

The Commercial Bulletin says, the taste of the times is such that robes de nuit are now styled nap sacks by the ladies.

☞ Twenty-four bales of Nicaragua cotton have arrived at New York, the first shipment to this country.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

"EVERYBODY"
WHO USES
HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE
HAIR RESTORATIVE

Is convinced of the fact that
It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,
Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.

"ANYBODY"
Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and with as much safety—is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

☞ Read this letter:

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 1, 1859.
Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.,—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bill bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. BOSSYNALL.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.
I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entire ly cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum. His hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 30 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1859, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1861.

JOTTINGS BY THE WAY.

CONCORD, (Phenix Hotel.) Sept. 11.

Dear Chronicle:—I wrote you yesterday my impressions of and at the Raymond Union meeting. War, as well as politics, makes strange bed-fellows, we all knew;—but was it ever to have been expected that Nathaniel S. Berry and Walter Harriman would pull together, politically, shoulder to shoulder? By the way, speaking of Gov. Berry,—of course your readers have his Proclamation for the National Fast; and is not his statement—that the rebellion was caused by the South's "blind devotion to an an accursed system of oppression,"—a little significant?

I got a glorious supper at the Phenix, but being late had to eat almost alone; and wished for our Dover-Point V. I. W. Y. party of a few days since, to help me out. We never knew before the significance of the name Phenix for a hotel—but have concluded that it must be, that food is served up just from the fire, as it should be.

New Hampshire's Company of 100 Sharpshooters have been quartered here, and we had the pleasure of meeting them. They are the finest looking company of men we have seen, though not large; their best shot, however, we are told, being a very ordinary-looking chap with but one eye. Capt. A. B. Jones, of Washington, N. H., their commander, is a young man of very prepossessing appearance, a capital shot, and is much pleased with his men.—Their rifles have been purchased by the State, wherever they could be picked up, at prices from $20 to $100 — the average being a little more than $40, we believe. They comprise almost every description of rifles: some very handsome, and some heavy enough to mount on a battery. This Company leaves Concord for New York to-day, where they are to be uniformed, equipped and mustered into the U. S. service. [P. S.—They are off.] It is expected that Government will pay for the rifles; about ninety of which, only have been obtained. The Captain was presented with a sword, and the Lieutenants each with a pistol, &c., last evening. Their gunsmith, John Brown of Fremont, (what significant names!) a famous gun maker, who goes out with them, told us a good rifle would do execution at a distance of two miles; and another maker said his rifle would kill a man two times out of five at that distance. We shouldn't want to be put on picket guard, with the N. H. S. S. after us.

We spent an hour or two at the State House to-day, looking over the building, examining the rifles, &c. Governor Berry and Secretary Tenney find time, amid all their labors, to be more than civil to visitors. The Council keep hard at work to do up the State's military business; but with all their untiring efforts, are the subjects of no little censure. So much easier is it to find fault, than to suit everybody. We have no doubt they will "do what they can" for the honor of the State and the good of the country.

The three new iron safes for the Secretary's room, are being put in. They weigh about seven tons each, and are immense.

The famous California flag, which was got up by New Hampshire residents there, for our N. H. 1st Regiment, has never come to hand yet, though expected long ago, with the letter announcing it. It is probable that, if it ever arrives, it will be given to the Fourth, which is to be made up, in considerable part, of members of the First.

The Fourth Regiment (at Manchester) have never received their tents yet. A part of them arrived there and were put up on Tuesday. Efforts are making for this regiment to leave about Thursday, Sept. 18th.

It is supposed that notwithstanding the Third Regiment was furnished with Enfield rifles, (at a cost of $30,000,) and received the bounty of about $10,000 more, yet the expense of fitting it out will not much exceed that of the First.

The Fifth Regiment is reported to be nearly as full as the Fourth. The First's members are joining both. Gen. Abbott proposes to recruit and take charge of the Seventh. It is to be hoped that it will not be needed—but let them fill up as fast as possible. [Gen. Abbott, as will be seen by the hymeneal chronicle, has also entered another arm of his country's service. Success to him.]

The scramble for military office here is not small nor slow—the number of those patriots who are willing to serve their country for more pay than they can get anywhere else, being very large. We wish our Volunteer service, at least, was a little more democratic; and the privates had some voice in the election of their officers. No objection can be urged against this, which does not also obtain against any other expression of the people's will.

A finely executed and handsomely framed portrait of Gov. Goodwin, hangs in the Council Room—purchased last year by his friends in the Council. Gov. G. with his usual liberality and public spirit, then ordered, at his own expense, a portrait of Ex-Gov. Metcalf, which has been excellently done by Mr. Tenney, of Concord, but it is not yet hung up. Secretary Tenny, thro' whose good taste and exertions these were procured, hopes to have Ex-Governors Haile and Colby, and Gov. Berry, to illustrate and ornament the walls of his room—a very commendable and satisfactory idea, to himself and the visitors at the Capitol.

THURSDAY, Sept. 12.

Well, the "Phenix" Hotel, which you know means "arising from its ashes," and which has once or twice done this—and now stands, the handsomest, most spacious, and one of the best-conducted public houses in the State—came dreadful near being burnt again last night. I have been spending a day or two with the Council's Committee, trying to get an old printing bill of mine paid—and it looks as if I may have to earn the money over again before I get it. If I have to wait much longer, I will tell you why perhaps. And I had gone to bed in not the best of humor, and was lying, thinking how disagreeable some folks can make themselves, when an alarm of fire called us all up. And we found the car-house of the Concord Railroad all afire—and it was burnt flat, with its contents of a dozen passenger and baggage cars, worth a thousand or two dollars apiece; also the car-house and other buildings—all of wood—of the Northern Railroad, containing an engine, two tenders, and cars of all kinds, lumber, tools, &c. The loss of buildings and all was estimated as high as $50,000. The locality is one densely packed with large wooden structures, and had the fire occurred the night previous, when all was dry as tinder and the wind blew towards them, we should have had to sought new quarters for our sleep—which we are loth to do while Dumas hangs out at the Phenix. Mr. Dudley's fine large stable, between the fire and the hotel, was entirely cleaned out. The cause of the fire, as usual, is a mystery. The firemen worked well, also as usual, and alone prevented a terrible conflagration. It was a singular, sad sight, next morning,—the long rows of iron car-wheels, standing on the tracks in sets, with the hulk of the locomotive at their head, the same "as in life." It was a severe loss of rolling stock, but Superintendent Gilmore's indomitable energy and exhaustless resources, will soon repair it. Two cars were run out, and shoved off the track, by the over zealous crowd; and had to be lifted on again before they could be run to a safe place—in doing which, they were badly scorched. It was a singular sight—to see hundreds of stalwart men bodily lifting a weighty car, in the lurid glare of that mighty flame.

Yours Chronicley, IND.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Gen. Fremont declares martial law in Missouri, where a fierce war is raging, and confiscates the property of men found in arms against the United States; while in Tennessee, where there is no war, Gen. Polk as the Memphis papers allege, sets all national, State and municipal laws aside, and sends out his press gangs to catch men wherever they can for impressment into his ranks. Is not Gen. Polk's policy as much harsher than Gen Fremont's, as persons are more sacred than property? Yet what one of those secessionists that are shocked at Fremont's course will ever breathe so much as a whisper against Polk? What outrage or series of outrages can possibly be perpetrated under the Southern despotism that the secessionists will not approve?—Louisville Jour.

"BLOOD WILL TELL."—A gentleman from the State of Maine, who formerly lived in the neighborhood of Freedom, informs the Boston Journal that some forty years since, the father of Robert Elliot, recently arrested for treason, was hanged for the murder of his own child.

☞ Tuckerman, the mail robber, who three years ago was sentenced to the Connecticut State Prison for twenty years, recently petitioned the President for release, on the ground of ill health, but was refused. The warden says he is only "a little prison worn."

☞ Among the property of secessionists seized in Boston was a parcel of Treasury notes to the value of $30,000, belonging to a merchant of Charleston, S. C., who received them in payment for his portion of two vessels recently bought by the Government.

☞ The sword for Gen. McClellan, authorized by the Philadelphia Councils, will be ready in about four weeks. It will be a straight sword, set with diamonds and pearls. On the handle will be the figure of an American eagle, attacking a serpent, which is the representative of Secession.

STATE OF NEW YORK.

Two Conventions, the "People's" and the "Republicans," were held at Syracuse on Wednesday, and were largely attended.

The People's Convention passed resolutions, that they seek not to found a new party, nor to destroy existing parties, but solely to proclaim their devotion to the Constitution and the Union; and their fixed determination to defend, maintain and perpetuate them, at every hazard and at whatever cost; and to sustain, with all their individual and united efforts, the constitutionally chosen authorities in the prosecution of the existing war, to the end that a permanent peace may be secured by the utter extinction of the rebellion.

Nominations were made;—for Attorney General, Daniel S. Dickinson;—for the Secretary of State, Horatio Bullard;—Comptroller, Lucius Robinson; Treasurer, W. B. Lewis; Canal Commissioners, F. A. Aberger, and F. A. Tallmadge; for State Engineer, A. B. Taylor; for Judge of Court of Appeals, A. B. Wright.

In the Republican Convention, patriotic resolutions were adopted, against peace or compromise with the rebels, and in favor of Union with all men supporting the Government. The nominations made by the People's Convention were then endorsed, with the substitution of Mr. Bruce for Mr. Tallmadge for Canal Commissioner. The Convention then adjourned.

The nomination of such a State Ticket, headed by such a man as Daniel S. Dickinson, and its endorsement by the Republican Convention, shows very clearly that New York is largely and soundly loyal.

The same event shows also, how all the former parties are being revolutionized by the rebellion and our resistance. No party dissolves itself by a formal vote, but some are destroyed by splitting; while others lose their identity by union in fact or in form, or both.

The events of the war are rapidly moulding the whole people of the United States into two great parties, one of which favors the country and its government, while the other favors the rebellion and aids the rebels.

Some other distinctions are kept up; but in practice they do not amount to much.

☞ The Boston Journal states that during last week, circulars were received by several business houses in Boston engaged in the sale and manufacture of coal oils, purporting to come from "H. Iverson & Co.," Portsmouth, N.H.," and inquiring the prices of different articles. On Saturday forenoon last the houses which replied were called upon by a dashing gentleman, who said he had been directed to pay a bill against Iverson & Co. of Portsmouth. The parties addressed replied that the firm was not indebted to them; and, complaining much of the trouble he had been put to, the visitor departed. By th Eastern mail arriving that noon, orders were received from "Iverson & Co." for quantities of the article the price of which they had inquired, and it was stated that the Boston agent of the firm would call and pay the bill. Conceiving the gentleman who called in the forenoon to be the agent referred to, and presuming that his call had been premature only because their order had been delayed on its way, the order was at once filled and the goods dispatched. The "agent" did not call again, however, and when inquiry was made as to the status of the firm, no mention of them could be found. An investigation was immediately commenced; an officer was sent to Portsmouth and recovered a portion of the goods, but the "firm" had sloped. Six or eight firms were victimized by these sharpers, and the property taken was of the value of several hundred dollars.

The Postmaster in this city informs us that some time since a box in the post-office was engaged by a stranger in this city, representing, as he stated, the firm of "H. Harrington & Co." A large number of circulars were sent out and letters were received by them.

They were ostensibly engaged in the Coal Oil business, and when they left this city gave orders that letters for them should be re-mailed to Troy, N. Y. It was undoubtedly the same swindling concern.—They did not belong here, and had no store here.

☞ We learn that a young man, employed on board of the U. S. Frigate Sabine, now lying at the Navy Yard, one day last week, stole some five or six hundred dollars, belonging to the Paymaster and the Master. He had been employed in the Ward Room, and made his escape from the Yard, by covering his naval suit with a suit of citizen's clothes. On the day when he took his somewhat unceremonious departure, he went to the Master and coolly asked him to lend him his meerschaum pipe for a few minutes, as he had some friends on board who would be pleased to see its "color." The master readily loaned him the article, and pipe, money and young man have not been seen since.

☞ The ship Express, Capt. Frost, was seized at Eastport, Me, last week. She is owned in this city and New Orleans.

THE REBELLION.—Charles Henry Foster, claiming to be Congressman elect from North Carolina, called on the President, Wednesday, and tendered a full brigade of loyalists from that State.

A rebel prisoner affirms that the rebel force within a radius of 20 miles of Manassas is 120,000. Beauregard is reported to be concentrating his forces between Fairfax Court House and Leesburg.

Capt. Dare, of the Pocahontas, has been arrested for visiting rebels on the Virginia side.

It is expected that the Maryland legislature will pass a secession ordinance next week.

A rebel agent named Milner was arrested in New York on Tuesday, while about consummating the purchase of a machine for rifling cannon. $30,000 was also seized, which was to be devoted to the same enterprise.

Several detached companies of infantry, one of cavalry, and Capt. Griffin's battery, having gone out from the vicinity of Chain Bridge, on Wednesday morning, two regiments of rebel infantry and one of cavalry, with a battery of four pieces, attempted to cut off their return. Several rounds were fired on each side. Our troops brought into action a 32-pounder, the shell from which soon silenced the rebel battery. The gun was then directed toward the rebel cavalry, which appeared on the road leading to Falls Church; it soon sent them flying, a number reeling in their saddles and falling to the ground, the shell having exploded in their midst. The command was then given to withdraw, and our column fell back in good order to Chain Bridge, arriving there late in the afternoon. Six of our soldiers were killed, seven wounded, and three taken prisoners.

A Mobile dispatch states that the Pensacola dry dock was entirely burnt on the 3d inst.

The gunboats Conestaga and Lexington on Tuesday encountered a battery of sixteen guns at Lucas Bend, on the Missouri shore, and two rebel gunboats. They silenced the rebel battery and disabled the rebel gunboat Yankee, and would have captured her had she not been supported near Columbus.

Ship Finland, Capt. Jones, from Liverpool, which ran the blockade at Apalachicola, was afterwards burnt in that harbor (August 27) by the boats of the U. S. blockading squadron, and the captain and crew taken prisoners.

The Kentucky House of Representatives on Wednesday adopted a resolution directing the Governor to issue a proclamation ordering the Confederate troops to evacuate Kentucky soil, by a vote of 71 against 26. The House refused to suspend the rules to allow another resolution to be presented, directing the Governor to issue a proclamation ordering the evacuation of Kentucky soil by both federal and rebel troops. Gen. Anderson is awaiting the action of the Legislature before commencing operations.

☞ President Lincoln, Secs. Seward and Cameron, Asst. Sec. Scott, Gen. McClellan and staff, Gen. Mansfield and staff, and Gov. Curtin of Penn., visited one of the fortifications on the Virginia side of the Potomac on Monday afternoon. For some minutes the troops were allowed to gratify their desire to shake hands with Gen. McClellan, and the liveliest of scenes was enacted. The President, Cabinet, Governors, and even ladies were lost sight of.—Gen. McClellan never took an officer by the hand at the expense of a private. He talked little, bowed to each man, and looked him straight in the eyes. One man said, "General, we are anxious to wipe out Bull Run; hope you will allow us to do it soon?"—"Very soon, if the enemy does not run," was the prompt reponse. At length Capt. Barker premised, if they would fall back, that the General would say a few words to them. They instantly complied, when the General removing his hat, made the following model speech:

SOLDIERS—We have had our last retreat. We have seen our last defeat. You stand by me, and I will stand by you, and henceforth victory will crown our efforts.

MAINE.—The Portland Argus of Thursday has returns from 195 towns, about two thirds of the State.

Dana,	12,140
Jameson,	15,178
Washburn,	39,665

Washburn's plurality in these towns is 12,344. Last year it was 12,972.

☞ We understand that Mr. Samuel Lord, Cashier of the Piscataqua Exchange Bank, in Portsmouth, has been appointed by the Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, Subscription Agent for the National Loan, and books will be opened at that Bank in a few days to receive subscriptions in any sum from $50 and upwards—the rate of interest being 7 3-10 per cent.

☞ The very large, and in late years popular, hotel at Nahant was entirely destroyed by fire Wednesday night.

Why don't the Peace men go and talk peace in the Secession States, where the scoundrels who made the war live?

A PROCLAMATION.

BY THE GOVERNOR.

In accordance with the sentiments of the Council, I cordially concur in the foregoing [President's] Proclamation for a National Fast. The people of this State, therefore, of all religious denominations, are earnestly desired to abstain from their usual labor and avocations on the day appointed; to meet in their accustomed places of religious worship, and humbly and devoutly implore the blessings of God, in this hour of our country's peril. Our free institutions—the glory of our land; that were devised by the wisdom of our forefathers, and purchased by their blood, and that have given us a name among the nations; are threatened with destruction. Principles, as dear as life to every lover of liberty, enlightened civilization and religion, are imperilled. An unholy rebellion has been raised against our noble Government by traitors, who, in obedience to the dictates of unhallowed political ambition, and in blind devotion to an accursed system of oppression, have brought upon our great, happy and prosperous country all the horrors of civil war.

Let the desires of the people, as one man, ascend to Him who alone can give success to the right, that this unhappy war may speedily terminate in putting down rebellion, the overthrow of treason, the triumph of liberty, and the safety and glory of a great and indissoluble united people.

Given at the Council Chamber, in Concord, on the third day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-sixth.

NATHANIEL S. BERRY.

By His Excellency the Governor, with advice of the Council.

ALLEN TENNY, Sec. of State.

☞ Notwithstanding the large number of men now on board the U. S. ship Sabine, such is the admirable system of discipline maintained on board that scarcely a sound can be heard, even by one standing within a few feet of the vessel. One hundred and fifty of the old crew have re-shipped on board of her, and both officers and men will be found equal to the demands made upon them.

Orders have been received at the Navy Yard for the U. S. frigate Sabine to sail to-day.

It is reported that the pirate Sumter went ashore on the Island of Trinidad, Port Spain, 20th ult., and was totally wrecked. Doubtful.

The Herald says the Government received a dispatch Wednesday night from Gen. Rosecrans, stating that he had routed Gen. Floyd and driven him into his works.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says that Sorrell, who was recently discharged from Fort Lafayette, has made important disclosures to the government. He is agent for the Bank of England, and produced abundant proof of his loyalty.

Government has satisfactory evidence that no privateers have been fitted out in British ports.

The timbers of a bridge near Sturgeon, Mo., were partially burnt by the rebels a day or two since, with the expectation that a train with troops would be precipitated into the creek. The villainous design was discovered and the train stopped at Mexico, Mo., where the troops will encamp till the bridge is repaired.

☞ By a slight disarrangement of the locomotive, at Newmarket Junction, Thursday morning, the down C. & P. train was detained there for a couple of hours.

☞ Ex-Gov. Briggs, of Mass., died at Pittsfield, Thursday morning, from the wound received last week, by the accidental discharge of a gun.

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,

(Editor of the Odd Fellow.)

Juvenile Singing Class,

FOR MISSES.

The Second Term of MR. TILTON'S CLASS IN VOCAL MUSIC will commence

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms,—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for later and more advanced study of musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

JOHN B. GIVENS, No. 94 Elm Street.

HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin, need be so no longer, if they use "Costar's" Exterminators. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they effected nothing; but COSTAR'S article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Medina (O.) Gazette.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & CO. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways from childhood. My blood came out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In last, the disease grew worse. At length I was advised to send in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You may well believe that I will always I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully. Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me of a Goitre or hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhœa by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physicians thought nothing but extirpation would afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic sores in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disease would soon reach his brain and destroy life, but it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. Another had been long treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from dim pidness in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a cloudy day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARDNER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

Jules Y. Gaichell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been as much a dead man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Repp, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, believing it would do me good, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Scirrhus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Curles and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of these may be seen in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It eliminates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medical faculty of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivaled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among those who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy of their skill. Its virtues are tried, its public and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the efficacy of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtue that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

LOYALTY IN MAINE.—The voting in Maine, last Monday, shows clearly how earnest the great heart of the people must be, in supporting the government and suppressing the rebellion.

By hook or by crook, the organization of the Democratic party was seized and held by a set of men, who, under the mask of peace, or compromise, or free speech, really aimed to let the slave power rule the whole country, and form our institutions on the basis of supreme and perpetual slavery.

But with this advantage, and with the further aid of at least one paper that talked freedom and supported Dana, the rebellion faction fell behind Jameson and the loyal Democrats, in the proportion of 5 to 8.

And when we take into consideration the well-known fact that many ignorant and bigoted people go with what they suppose to be their party,—it is only fair to conclude that half of those who acted with the rebels this time, would have gone the other way, had the regular nominations been made in accordance with what is now proved to be the popular voice in the whole of the late Democratic party in Maine.

Now, splitting the rebel faction in half, as we suggest, the true strength of the tories in Maine is only about one-fifth of the Democratic party, or not quite one-thirteenth of the whole vote,—and not one-twentieth of all who might vote; for no doubt every rebel voted, while many loyal men, gone to the war, or busy elsewhere, did not and could not vote.

The election has given the tools of the slave power and of its rebel aristocracy, more than an equal chance to show their strength; and they have shown their weakness and wickedness also, in the clearest light.

The Democratic party of Maine have shown that the slave power can never rule that State again,—exactly as the Democratic party of the United States showed last year that the slave power could never again rule the country. Cotton is not king in Maine.

A young lady in Bellow Falls, of "sweet sixteen," good looking and accomplished, declares her readiness to wed the man who shall shoot Jeff. Davis, provided the lucky chap is not already encumbered. Don't all shoot at once.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to publish notice of the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle, otherwise a different paper may be selected.

HUTCHINS' HAIR DYE.

THE VERY BEST NOW IN USE, as many thousands who have tried it will testify.

The great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring it, gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.
GARDINER'S
RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA
COMPOUND
Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.
TESTIMONIALS.
Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgic Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 8 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.
I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl st. House, Boston, Mass.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. L. HODGKINS, No. 4 Old State House, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. DIAMOND, 69 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Gladden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1860, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.
The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1861.

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

To all who shall pay $4 for the Daily Chronicle, or $1 for the Weekly, for the year 1862, we will furnish the paper without charge to Jan. 1.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——A fire broke out in one of the machine shops of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co., at Dover, on Friday evening, just after the hands had left work for the day, causing considerable damage to the tools, machinery and stock, before it was extinguished. The fire is supposed to have originated from friction.

—— Messrs. Purinton & Ham, of Dover, have obtained the contract for furnishing the Caps for the 4th Regiment. They are to be of the same style as those furnished for the 3d Regiment—the color blue.

—— The Governor and Council of this State have voted to raise a Sixth Regiment, to follow the Fifth.

—— Quartermaster Gage, of Nashua, has gone to New York to get Enfield rifles for the Fourth Regiment, if it is possible to procure them.

—— The coroner's inquest at Dover, on the body of Thomas Leigh, supposed to have died from violence, has resulted in the following verdict: "The deceased came to his death by softening of the liver, induced by excessive intemperance." The jury consisted of Col. Thomas Stackpole, H. T. Wiswall and J. M. Haynes.

——The South Charlestown shirt factory was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last, with its contents. Stock and buildings were insured for about $5000.

——Besides copper, which is obtainable in small quantities from the vein upon the Neal farm in Unity, there is found in the same "lead," sulphur, iron, titanium, chlorophesite, tin and bronze. A company are now sinking a shaft down the seam where these deposits are found. Specimens of iron ore have been taken out, 90 per cent. of which was pure metal. This is shortly to be tested in Upham's furnace. The titanium is the substance of which enamel is made for artificial teeth and other articles. The Bronze is readily obtained—a pure and beautiful article—from bornblende slate.—The shaft will be sunk to a depth of 60 to 100 feet, as fast as the work can progress at the rate of four or five heavy blasts daily.

—— The Independent Democrat says, "the Governor and Council have decided that the Regiment which Gen. Joseph C. Abbot has been authorized by the War Department to raise, shall be designated as the Seventh. They have also determined to pay those enlisting in it the same bounty allowed in other cases. The arms, equipments, subsistence, &c., of this Regiment will all be provided directly by the U. S. Government. An officer of the Regular Army will be appointed its Colonel. Gen. Abbott though commissioned to raise the Regiment, will accept only the post of Lieut. Colonel. As to the position of Major, nothing definite has been decided. We are permitted, however, to state that Adjutant Langley of the 2nd Regiment and Rev. Henry E. Parker, the efficient Chaplain of the same, are thought of in this connection. Either of them would be a capital appointment."

——"The N. H. Sharp-Shooters, a fine body of men, 103 in number, under the command of Amos B. Jones of East Washington, passed through Worcester, Wednesday, on their way to the seat of war. They are to be attached to Col. Berdan's regiment. This company carried very heavy rifles, one weighing 32 pounds, and several others from 23 to 27 pounds each."

☞ A terrible steamboat disaster occurred on the 25th in Sacramento river, above the city. The J. A. McClellan, an independent steamer, running to Red Bluff, exploded, killing fifteen certainly, and probably many more of the passengers. Twelve were badly scalded.

☞ Senator Nesmith of Oregon has addressed the Union people of California, urging them to discourage party organizations and vote for the Union Democratic candidate for Governor. Otherwise he fears that the Breckinridge party may carry the State.

The government has received a dispatch from Gov. Morton of Indiana, stating that the rebel troops of Kentucky had seized all the money in the banks at Bowling Green.

A blank note representing nearly $200,000 on the Pittsylvania Bank of Chatham, Va., was seized in New York, Friday night, in the possession of a stationer.

It is reported that 1500 regulars are on their way East from Utah.

THE REBELLION.—A battle took place about three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, near Summerville, Va. Gen. Rosencrans, after making a reconnoissance, found Floyd's army of 5000 men, with sixteen field-pieces, entrenched in a strong position on the top of a mountain at Cannix Ferry, on the west side of Gauley River. The rear and extreme of both flanks were inaccessible. Col. Lytle's 10th Ohio regiment, in advance, drove a strong detachment of rebels out of a camp this side of the position, the location of which was unknown.—Shortly afterwards his scouts, consisting of four companies, suddenly discovered themselves in front of a parapet battery, and a long line of palisades for riflemen, when the battle opened fiercely. The enemy played upon our forces terrifically with musketry, rifles, shot, shell and cannister, causing some casualties. Col. Lytle led several companies to charge the battery, when he was brought down by a shot in the leg.—Col. Lowe fell dead, early in the hottest fire, by a ball in the forehead. The fire slackened at intervals, but grew more furious as night approached. After a furious fight of three hours, the troops were recalled, and the men lay on their arms within a short distance of the enemy, each man ready to resume the conflict the next morning. Floyd fled with his army during the night, sinking his boats in the river, and destroying a temporary bridge which he made when he first occupied the position.—The turbulence and depth of the river, and the exhaustion of our troops, made it impossible to follow him. He left his camp equipage, wagons, horses, large quantities of ammunition, and fifty head of cattle.—Our loss was 15 killed and 70 wounded. The rebels' loss is not known, but it must have been serious. They carried their dead and wounded with them. Twenty-five of Col. Tyler's men, who were taken by Floyd at Cross Lane, were re-captured. Floyd's personal baggage, with that of his officers, was taken. The federal troops engaged were exclusively Ohioans, and showed great bravery.

Gen. McClellan's dispatch to the Secretary of War respecting the skirmish on Wednesday is remarkably brief, merely saying:—

"Gen. Smith made a reconnoissance with 2000 men to Lewisville, remained several hours, completed the examination of the ground, and his command had started back, when the enemy opened fire with shell, by which two men were killed and three wounded."

Griffin's battery he says, silenced that of the enemy, and our men came back in perfect order and excellent spirits. The men behaved most admirably under fire. He concludes by remarking we shall have no more Bull Run affairs.

Col. Rankin, a member of the Canadian Parliament, was in Washington a few days since, and obtained power to raise a regiment of sixteen hundred lancers, and to arm and equip them like the 16th English Lancers, with sabre, carbine, pistol and a lance, the shaft of which is to be 16 feet long, and the blade 14 inches. The rendezvous will be at Detroit.

A special dispatch to the N. Y. Herald from Louisville, states that the rebel army of the Potomac has been divided into two corps under Johnston and Beauregard.

The Chief of the Cherokee Indians states that his people authorize an alliance with the rebels, and will raise a mounted regiment.

Parson Brownlow was released on the 7th.

The Kentucky Senate have concurred with the House in the passage of a resolution requiring the Governor to warn the Confederate troops to leave the State. A bill has been introduced, providing for the punishment of those who aid or assist the rebels. Gov. Magoffin has received a dispatch from General Polk at Columbus, in which General Polk refuses to withdraw the Confederate troops from that place, unless the United States Government withdraw their troops from Kentucky.

There are two military organizations in Kentucky, besides the soldiers enlisted in the Government service and those who are regularly in the employ of Jeff. Davis; one is known as the Home Guard and the other as the State Guard. The former is composed entirely of unconditional Union men, and the latter is made up of "armed neutrality" secessionists. Great activity is evinced by the Louisville authorities in seizing concealed arms recently in possession of the State Guard.

A correspondent of the San Francisco Echo, a French paper, writes from San Diego on the 15th inst., that a considerable body of emigrants are coming from Texas. They have taken the route to El Paso, and intend to settle on the shores of the Pacific. This movement is said to be due to the desperate condition of Texas, consequent on the troubles which agitate the nation.

Steamer Sue Evar, under the command of a gun squad from Evansville, Ind., has captured a boat with 1000 barrels of salt, destined for the South.

W. Boyd, late a clerk in the Federal War Department, has arrived in Richmond with full information respecting matters at Washington.

The Chief of Ordnance of Virginia, responding to a call for all the field artillery, says that 10 batteries are now ready for immediate duty and that 8 or 10 more could be got ready soon.

The Examiner says Davis has so far recovered as to take an airing on Saturday in a carriage.

Six secesheirs from Memphis, some of whom were identified as having served under Green, were arrested on Wednesday near Salem, Iowa, with a drove of 180 cattle, which they said they were driving to Chicago. The cattle were confiscated, and the men were held as prisoners.

A dispatch from St. Louis reports that Gen. Fremont has, by proclamation, manumitted two slaves belonging to a man who has taken up arms against the United States. A large force of rebels, under Gen. Green, had been dispersed by Gen. Pope.

The life of Judge Ryland, late of the Supreme Court, who is a prisoner in the hands of the rebels, is threatened, if Capt. Magoffin's sentence of death is executed.

Mayor Brown of Baltimore, the ten city delegates to the Maryland Legislature, (among them Ross Winans,) Henry May, member of Congress, and the editors of the "South" and the "Exchange" were arrested in Baltimore on Friday morning, in pursuance of orders from the War Department, and sent to Fort McHenry It is reported that Benj. C. Howard, the "peace" candidate for Governor, has also been arrested.

A rebel force in Missouri, numbering 3000, under Martin Green, was dispersed last Sunday by Gen. Pope, they leaving much baggage, provisions and forage.

A special dispatch from Cairo, states that the gunboats did more execution on Tuesday than was supposed. The rebels admit that their gunboat Yankee was disabled, and that 68 were killed, and a large number wounded.

Seven persons, brought into St. Louis by the Home Guards, direct from Hardee's army, report that a fight had occurred in Hardee's camp between the Missourians and Louisianians, the latter charging the former with cowardice at the Springfield battle, and that while they were fighting, the Missourians actually stole their horses and fled. Hardee was falling back on Pocahontas, and the Missourians were dispersed.

"A feast of reason and flow of soul," said the woman, when she took her pan of Biscuit from the oven, and threw away four kinds of villainous compounds that she had purchased, and which they called Saleratus. The same lady keeps on talking, and says after one trial of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, if any one is not then satisfied that there is nothing like it, their unbelief will be their ruin. At retail everywhere, and at wholesale Grocers. Depot 112 Liberty street, New York. 3td

No Wonder.—So many worthless medicines are advertised for the cure of various diseases, and when tried "found wanting," that the invalid loses all faith in specifics. We have yet to learn, however, of the first failure of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, to cure coughs, colds, and pulmonary disease. 6t

On WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4, at 3 P. M.,

And continue as formerly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Terms,—$1 per Quarter of 12 Lessons.

The object aimed at in this Class is to instruct children in the Principles of Music, rather than to teach them to sing a number of songs by rote.—This was in a manner accomplished at the last term; the limited extent of time, however, prevented an entire success. The ordinary principles of Music are easily acquired by young persons; and being learned in youth, ensure a firmer foundation for their later and more elaborate musical education. Every effort will be used to render the exercises instructive and entertaining to the pupils.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston:—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

NEWSPAPORIAL.

As will be seen by notice from the Gazette, in another article,—we have purchased the name and title of that paper, (the publication of which has been discontinued by the late owner,) and our Weekly will hereafter be known as

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE,
ROCKINGHAM CHRONICLE & CONCORD PHENIX.

Of course no other change will be made in our paper—which will continue "Independent always—neutral never," and be bound to no party or sect. Our regard for the antiquity and associations of the old paper, would not allow us to see it die out—and the change it now undergoes, in sentiments, is as nothing, when compared with some others it has known. We have once or twice given its history in detail; and it must suffice us now simply to say it is the oldest paper in the country, which we regard as no small honor for ourselves and our city.

The Gazette has for many years, and probably for a great part of its life, been supported by some "party" or other—a very uncertain and undesirable state of things, for the paper itself and for the public. And we wish it borne in mind, that the Chronicle is the only paper which has stood so long in Portsmouth, without party aid, and depending simply on its own merits.

The publisher's own reasons for stopping the Gazette, are well given in his article, which we copy. To which we will merely add, that it was only by calling for prompt and frequent payment of our bills, that we were enabled so successfully and speedily to establish the Chronicle; and we certainly shall never continue to publish it, longer than we can keep up this practice. All our patrons are desired to remember this—especially a few who may sometimes have deemed us rather too fond of brief credits. We have always "paid cash," and we "only ask as good as we give."

We are now in our tenth year of publication of the Chronicle—and since we started, two of the four newspapers then in the County have suspended—the Messenger first, which was succeeded by the Ballot; and now the Gazette. This leaves four still in the County—the Journal and the Chronicle, in Portsmouth; and the Ballot and News Letter, in Exeter. These are sufficient for all practical purposes, and full as many as can well succeed. The decease of the Gazette, as such, to be sure, leaves the Democratic party (if such there be) without an especial organ; but the Chronicle, as heretofore, will always be open for anybody to express their political opinions, without fear or favor. And with this promise, and the hope that while under our charge the old press may never say aught unworthy of its immortal founder, or his long line of illustrious successors—we commend the combined sheet to the favor of the former patrons of both—asking only to be judged "by our works."

☞ During the continued rain, Wednesday, the steam gun-boat Kearsarge was successfully launched into the dry dock at the Navy Yard, under the superintendence of our worthy and efficient constructor, Isaiah Hanscom. Very few of our citizens realize the magnitude of the duties incumbent upon a naval constructor in such times as these. All things and every thing appertaining to the building and finishing of a ship-of-war devolve upon him, and his duties are, consequently, many and various.—Physically and mentally Constructor Hanscom has an arduous part to perform, and when left to act is fully equal to the task. Situated as he necessarily must be, it is requisite he should have those about him in whom he can place implicit confidence, to superintend the different departments.

Two new side-wheel steamers are in course of construction. The direction of these, in connection with those now fairly under way, is no slight matter for one man's mental qualifications. The two or three vessels of war expected to arrive here, will increase his duties. No doubt the services of such a man will be duly appreciated. Brought up among us, as he has been, his sympathies, views and feelings are all for our country; and his every exertion is to meet the expectations of the department under whose orders he acts.

A UNION MAN.

BABIES.—Yes, our record of Births is rather small, of late. The fact is, there are plenty of the little fellows coming along—some of the parties concerned think there are too many, we find; but then their parents are ashamed of them; and while "owning" them, request us not to "acknowledge" them in the Chronicle. Sometimes we are not sure but this is only a neat way of informing us of the happy event—but when requested, we have usually left the youngsters to introduce themselves to the world, as best they may.

☞ Mr. William H. Thompson, of this city, has recently been appointed Assistant Paymaster in the Navy. The office was created at the recent special session of Congress.

NEWS.—Not unfrequently, there are rumors on the street, of important war news received in this city by telegraph; and, very naturally, the Chronicle office is sought at once, to settle the matter. Our arrangements in Boston are such that we could hardly fail of receiving anything of the kind very soon—which, of course, we should at once give to the public; and notwithstanding our trouble and expense of telegraphing and issuing Extras, was rather unsatisfactorily rewarded, yet no really important news has been presented to our readers, through any earlier medium than the Chronicle, when it was possible for us to procure it. And so it will always be.

☞ The circulation of the Daily Chronicle has increased so much of late, that we find it difficult to serve subscribers in season; and next week we shall endeavor to complete our arrangements to put on an additional carrier, so as to supply all our patrons earlier. But even then, we can't well deliver all papers at once.

☞ Friday was one of the finest days of the season, or of any season—with its clear sunlight, lovely blue sky, balmy air, and the fresh green of the trees and all vegetation,—consequent upon the recent refreshing rain. It does seem too bad, that business should be allowed to interfere with pleasuring, such perfect days and nights as these. Make the most of them, while they last. We are going to take our own advice, and a chowdering trip down river, to-day. So, good morning.

☞ The keel of one of the new side-wheel steamers was laid at the Navy Yard on Wednesday. The blocks of the second are laid, and the keel is to be put down on Monday. These steamers are to be finished within sixty days.

The steam gun boat Ossipee is to be afloat within a fortnight. At least orders have been given to that effect, and our workmen will "try and do it."

☞ Rev. Mr. Hitchcock, Rector of St. John's [Episcopal] Church in this city, has tendered his resignation to the Wardens and Vestry, to take effect on the first of November. The reason assigned is, sickness in his family—and it is well known here that his wife has long been in delicate health, and the climate of the seaboard does not agree with her.

☞ Rev. Mr. Haskell, a recent graduate of the Cambridge Divinity School, will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

Rev. Mr. Fiske, of Newburyport, will officiate at the North Church.

☞ A salute was fired at the Navy Yard on Friday, in honor of the Chief of the Bureau of Medicine.

☞ The Concord & Portsmouth Rail, has declared a dividend of three per cent. payable on the 18th inst.

The invaluable files of the Gazette ought certainly to be preserved in the Portsmouth Atheneum or Mercantile Library; and they can be bought for a less price than the binding cost.

☞ Mr. Lamprey's Dancing Shool begins this afternoon. See advertisement.

U. S. LOAN NOTICE.

Pursuant to instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, a book will be opened on the SIXTEENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER,

At the Piscataqua Exchange Bank,
IN THIS CITY,

For subscriptions under my superintendence for Treasury Notes, to be issued under the act of July 17, 1861. These notes will be issued in sums of fifty dollars, one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, one thousand dollars, and five thousand dollars each, dated 19th August, 1861, payable three years after date to the order of the subscriber or as directed, and bearing interest at the rate of 7 3-10 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually; such interest being at the rate of two cents for each day on every hundred dollars. For the convenience of the holder, each note will have coupons attached expressing the several amounts of semi-annual interest, which coupons may be detached and presented for payment separately from the notes.

Subscriptions for such Treasury Notes will be received during fifteen days from the day of opening the books as aforesaid. No subscription for less than fifty dollars nor for any fraction of that sum can be received. Subscriptions of fifty dollars or one hundred dollars must be paid in lawful money at the time of subscribing and one third of the whole amount on every twentieth day thereafter until the whole shall be paid. No payment of less than fifty dollars can be accepted, that being the smallest sum for which Treasury notes can be issued.

Certificates will be granted in duplicate to subscribers for the amounts so paid, the original of which the subscriber will transmit by mail to the Secretary of the Treasury, when Treasury Notes, as aforesaid, will be issued thereon to such subscriber or his order, carrying interest as expressed in such certificate; but in cases where only a part of the amount is paid for at the time of subscribing, Treasury Notes will be issued only for the payments made subsequently to the first, which will remain until the whole amount subscribed by such person shall be paid, when Treasury Notes will be issued for such first payment also. On payment of each deferred instalment, the subscriber will pay, in addition thereto, a sum equal to the interest accrued thereon from the 19th August to the date of payment, and on final payments like interest on the amount paid on subscription, which payments of interest will be reimbursed to the subscriber in the payment of the first coupon.

The Treasury Notes issued upon such certificates by the Treasury will be sent to the subscribers by mail, or such other mode as may be indicated by them when they transmit their original certificates. The duplicate certificates may be retained by them for their own security.

From the N. H. Gazette.

To the Patrons of The Gazette.

We announced last week, that in consequence of the insufficiency of the patronage of the New Hampshire Gazette, we should feel compelled after the present issue to suspend its publication. This resolution, further consideration has confirmed, and after the present number we shall suspend the publication of this paper.

We deeply regret the necessity which brings us to this conclusion. The Gazette has been published, without material interruption, in Portsmouth for one hundred and six years. Its columns furnish ample evidence of the loyalty and courage of the inhabitants of the sparsely populated colonies, in the "Old French War;" it chronicled the early struggles of the Colonies against the aggressive and arbitrary power of Great Britain; it recorded the events of the Revolution, the weakness and discords of the old Confederation, the formation of the Constitution, the debates between the Democratic and the Federal parties, which settled the construction of the Constitution and the character of the Government. Its pages contain the current accounts of the exploits of the last war with Great Britain, and of the war with Mexico. The rise and overthrow of nullification is there; and so are the sayings and acts of the great men of the State and the Nation, whose history is the history of a people which, within the lifetime of the Gazette, grew from a feeble beginning till it became really the most prosperous, and the most powerful, as well as the freest people on the face of the earth. Now when the Union is torn by intestine war, and the Republic seems to totter to its fall, is a fit time for the patriarch of American newspapers to die; why should it outlive the American Union and American Liberty?

It would not, perhaps, be useful or interesting to discuss the causes of the decline of the patronage of the Gazette. We think they mainly consist in the general dissemination of cheap daily newspapers from the large cities, which anticipate the news of the weekly papers. * * * The low price of subscriptions to the weekly newspapers has been hurtful to them, and the cost of collecting the subscriptions bears a large proportion to the whole amount that can be collected. We seriously doubt whether a newspaper in New England is supported by its subscriptions alone.

The omission upon the part of so many of our subscribers to promptly remit the amount of their subscriptions, has partly brought upon us the necessity of discontinuing the Gazette. Our case is not an exception. After a connection, in various positions, with the country press for nearly 17 years, we have become convinced that the great obstacles to the success and prosperity of country newspapers, is the large percentage of loss arising from the neglect of prompt payment. The publisher is obliged to pay cash for everything necessary in the regular issue of his paper, and yet is always cramped by the difficulty of making collections. His debtors, scattered over a large extent of country, pay no attention to the bills enclosed in their papers; give no thought to the duns in the editorial columns, and if, as a last resort, a collector is sent out, he is scolded and ordered to "stop my paper."

Whether it can ever be successfully carried out or not, we are convinced that the only safe course to pursue, is to demand the subscription price invariably in advance, and positively refuse to notice an order for a paper unless accompanied with the money. * *

Now we wish it distinctly understood by those who receive bills, that we send them because we want the money. * * Such as have paid in advance, will, upon notifying us of their wish, receive their money back, or be furnished with any other newspaper they may select, to the amount of the money so overpaid.

We regret that the suspension of the Gazette leaves the sound Democracy of this city and county without an organ. * *

P. S.—Since the above was in type, we have disposed of the time-honored name of "New Hampshire Gazette," to our neighbors of the Chronicle; and the weekly issue of that paper will hereafter be known as "The New Hampshire Gazette and Rockingham Chronicle." The character of the Chronicle, it is fair to presume, will not be at all changed, nor will it attempt in any part to supply the place, politically, of the Gazette. The publisher of the Chronicle is unwilling that the title, with all its rich historic associations, should be lost to our city, the State, and the Country. We can, by the way, commend the Weekly Chronicle to our readers, as a cheap and valuable family paper, (only $1 a year,) while we do not in any manner endorse its political sentiments.

We would call the attention of our readers to the notice of Mr. Samuel Lord, Subscription Agent for the U. S. Loan, which will be found in our advertising columns.

An opportunity for a few days is offered to people of small as well as large means, to make an investment at a high rate of interest and free from taxation. Sums as small as fifty dollars are taken.

BUSINESS ASPECTS.—Whatever may be said of business elsewhere, Portsmouth holds her own, at least. Houses of medium rents are in demand, and some families are prevented from removing here because houses cannot be obtained. The factory being in full operation, and the employment given to our mechanics at the Navy Yard, provides the means of giving a support to our traders.

Twelve gun-carriages, manufactured at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, were sent from this city to Albany on Friday night, for the use of some New York regiments that are to leave for the seat of war this week. They were forwarded over the Worcester and Western railroads on an extra train, and filled three cars.

THE WAY TO SAVE MONEY!—An important consideration. See advertisement of Hill & Carr.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Two widows, twin sisters, aged 88 years each, were at the camp of the 6th and 7th Connecticut volunteers, at New Haven, last week. They were born before the revolution, and had lived to see the first attempt to destroy the nation established in their childhood. It is hoped that they may also live to see the attempt frustrated.

The following is the German way of preventing Sunday tippling: "All persons drinking and tippling upon Sundays and holidays in coffee-houses, during divine service, are authorized to depart without paying for what they have drank."

☞ There is an English baronet in the United States service out West. He is young, rich, and warlike, and named Sir John Murray.

☞ President Lincoln has returned to E. C. Delavan, Esq., the Presidential Temperance Declaration, with his signature appended.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gentlemen: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it breaks out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head in a small disease, and cure with one sore, which was painful and troublesome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. At first, the disorder grew worse. At length I was induced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), that I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I went to Bedford and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses at first, covered with crusts of teeth, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the benefactors of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and alone dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas in a day.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured my father of a large and obnoxious swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a valuable medical alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my practice equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females in our family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physicians thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking twelve or twenty eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Tongued and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had syphilis very badly in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five months. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the alteration had entirely swept a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disease would soon reach his brain and kill him. He yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, out of some without some disfigurement to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that she could foretell a change of the weather by excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results will it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, O. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Inactivity, Pretten Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and took to me in spite of all the remedies I could obtain for it. I commenced taking your bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. THOMAS GRAM.

Jules V. Gotchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to take your Sarsaparilla, and I took a bottle, and any thing you make was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but the space here allotted will limit. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes diseases which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medical of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized parts of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the efficacy of this remedy, we need only to have them to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won it so high upon the confidence of mankind.

WHO USES

HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE

HAIR RESTORATIVE

Is convinced of the fact that

It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,

Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will cure baldness, and gloss.

"ANYBODY"

Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its original darkness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and with as much safety—is composed of cool and cleansing spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

☞ Read this letter:

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.:—I hereby certify that your valuable HAIR RESTORATIVE, by its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can conscientiously recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. BOSWHALL.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ The Sons and Daughters of old Portsmouth may be found in almost every part of the world; but we guess the readers of the Chronicle, on looking at the marriage record Saturday morning, thought the fair daughter of our city, who is therein mentioned as to take up her home in Grey Town, Central America,—will be the only representative Strawberry Bank has there. But a brother of the lady has lived there for years, and has another New Hampshire man in his employ; and the bride of yesterday, after spending a couple of years with her brother, has now concluded to take up her residence in that singular little place.

Greytown now contains about 400 inhabitants, and is gradually recovering the almost complete demolition it was subjected a few years since by the United States Government, to avenge real or supposed native injuries. Congress has been applied to, to make restitution for the damage.

☞ Two negroes, named Levi G. Brown, and Wm. H. Johnson, had an altercation in Portland on Tuesday night, and Johnson stabbed Brown with a sheath knife, killing him instantly.

About the same time an Irishman, infuriated by liquor, attempted to beat out the brains of his little child, about two years old, by striking its head against the footboard of a bed.

On Thursday noon Richard Hill, a colored man, was deliberately murdered by his son, Richard L. Hill. There had been a difficulty between the father and son relative to domestic matters. He fired at him twice, both shots taking effect, the second one killing the old man instantly. The murderer was arrested. He is about 34 years of age. He says he shot his father in self-defence, and perceiving that he was badly wounded and suffered much pain, he fired the second pistol to put him out of misery! The pistols, he says, he kept loaded, all ready, supposing it would result in this at last.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

HUTCHINS' HAIR DYE,

THE VERY BEST NOW IN USE, as many thousands who have tried it will testify.

The great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring, it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

CERTAIN CURE, CERTAIN CURE,
—FOR—
RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

GARDINER'S
RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA
COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well. J. H. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.,—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound" in the fall of 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1861.

SUPPLY OF COTTON.

It is understood that the English cotton spinners are getting "cotton wool" from various quarters, in increased quantities--and it now looks as if, by the end of 1862 the cotton panic of England will have passed, never to return. Already it appears that her import from India will this year rise to 1,200,000, bales from less than 600,000 bales in 1860.

It is demonstrable that this increase of supply from India will not only meet the reduced consumption of this year, but with the stocks to be carried over in the ports of Europe, and held by the trade, aided by the usual imports from other quarters, will amply suffice to run all the spindles of Europe through 1862 on three-fourths time or more; and it is doubtful if trade can take even so large a production as that would give, at the necessarily enhanced prices of the cloth and yarns.

It was remarked in a late number of a very able Southern journal (the Augusta, Ga., Chronicle & Sentinel) that if the spinners of England could survive the deprivation of American cotton for eighteen months (from July, 1861) they would ever after be independent.

This war is achieving an independence little dreamed of in the Cotton States when their leaders began the strife—British manufacturers' independence of the American States for cotton—a result, says the Boston Courier, unattainable except by the suicidal action of the Cotton States, but now inevitable if the war continue six months. Already do the intelligent and sagacious merchants and spinners of England discern that the loss of the South is their great gain, and the politico-economical writers of the English press catch with delight at those glimpses of their brilliant future—seeing that "out of the nettle danger" to their great industry, they "will pluck the flower safety," durable and certain. They begin to see, as was clear to us months ago, that England has indeed a great interest in this war, not, as our Southern citizens have supposed, in their success, but in their tardy but sure defeat.

The eighteen months spoken of in the Georgia paper will nearly suffice to open up the new channels of supply. This being done, the commercial crop of cotton outside of our States raised from 1,000,000 bales to 3,000,000, and the products of New England factories excluded from competition in foreign markets, by the high price of the raw cotton, the English can then chuckle over "the death blow to slavery" and the thenceforward low price of American cotton.

Then, perhaps, the crop of 1861 will go to market, say 2,000,000 bales at 5 cents per pound, or $48,000,000. The crop of 1862 (war and blockade continuing) could hardly reach as much more in quantity or in price; add the growth and export of Cotton in 1863, say $100,000,000, and we have an aggregate for the three years of about $200,000,000 to theplanters; against the $800,000,000 that were morally sure, had the country remained at peace.

As of cotton, so in less degree, but similar in kind, the fate of other Southern staples, sugar, rice, tobacco, naval stores, &c.

These are items in the great reckoning to which those who caused the war will be invited.

MAINE.—The Portland Argus of Saturday gives the votes of 249 towns and plantations, thus:

Dana,	16,267
Jameson,	18,108
Washburn,	48,800

Washburn's majority, thus far, is 14,425.—In the same towns, last year, it was 14,814. It is evident that Washburn's majority will nearly come up to that of last year.

In our neighbor county of York, Dana had 3775, Jameson 543, and Washburn 5739. The leaders in the cause of rebellion are traitors, and their ignorant dupes can now see how they have been imposed upon.

☞ Accounts still arrive of damage to the Southern crops by heavy rains. The Montecello, Ark., Sage says cotton in that vicinity has taken second growth and will be considerably damaged, in many instances completely destoyed. The Richmond Whig says the forward tobacco crop has suffered from the same cause.

It is understood that warrants have been issued for the arrest of all prominent secessionists in the Maryland Legislature.

THE REBELLION.—Reports from Missouri state that Martin Green, with 3500 mounted rebels, crossed the Missouri river at Glasgow on Wednesday, in his flight southward, by means of the steamer Sunshine, which he captured. On board were 4500 stand of arms, four or five rebel prisoners, and a federal guard of 15 men. The Sunshine was laden with bacon, sugar, etc., all of which fell into Green's hands. The bridge over the Platte river was to be repaired by Saturday. Green disavows all connection with the bridge burning or firing into trains. Tom Harris captured a government agent in Boone county, Mo., a few days since, with $12,000 and a number of horses.

The Charleston Mercury of the 10th says four men of the crew of the Jeff. Davis have been arrested, charged with conspiracy to kill the captain and strand the vessel.

Richmond papers assert that Commander Buchanan is erecting batteries at White House, below Washington, to stop navigation on the Potomac.

On Thursday, Col. John A. Washington, of Mt. Vernon, and another rebel officer, were killed while reconnoitering a camp of Union troops in Western Virginia. Col. Washington's body was brought into our camp.

Com. A. H. Foote has arrived at Cairo, and taken charge of naval matters there, taking the place of Com. Rogers, who has been ordered to Washington.

Gov. Magoffin vetoed the resolutions passed by the Kentucky Legislature, in relation to the ejection of Confederate troops. Both Houses passed them over his veto.

The correspondence of W. H. Winder, recently arrested in Philadelphia for disloyalty and sent to Fort Lafayette, seems to have been very extensive with Davis, Breckinridge, Burnott, and other prominent secessionists. Copies of his own letters and the originals of his correspondents' are in the possession of the federal authorities.—One of Breckinridge's letters is only ten days old. The correspondence is very valuable to aid the government in discovering treason in our midst.

Mayor Berrett, it is said, is to be released from Fort Lafayette on taking the oath of allegiance and resigning his office.

A dispatch from Washington to the N.Y. Commercial mentions a rumor that Gen. Fremont is to be superseded in command by Gen. Meigs, for exceeding his authority, in contravention of Government orders and practice. Another dispatch contradicts, "on the highest authority," what is, at best, a doubtful report.

Hon. Charles Henry Foster, of North Carolina, it is understood, returns in a day or two to that State, to participate actively in the war for the Union.

The Inspector at Perryville, Ind, within the last ten days, condemned 400 or 500 army wagons, and notified the manufacturers to remove them.

We have accounts of another expedition to North Carolina. Four U. S. vessels had appeared in Pamlico Sound, and anchored off Fort Macon, at 7 o'clock, Saturday evening, Sept. 7.—"Their object was not known" to the rebels.

The Captain General of Cuba has issued a proclamation, in accordance with that of the Queen of Spain, announcing that all vessels occupied in legitimate commerce, proceeding from ports in the Confederate States, shall be entered and cleared under the Confederate flag, and shall be duly protected by the authorities of the Island. Foreign Consuls are to be notified that no interference on their part will be tolerated.

The tendered services of the Prussian Prince Salmsalm to the Government have been accepted.

During Friday the rebel pickets fired on our pickets near Hall's House. We returned the fire, killing seven and wounding others. In the afternoon the rebels surrounded Hall's House and burned it, capturing a Lieut. and four men of the Maine regiment. Our pickets fell back to Ball's Cross Roads, and it is said the rebels advanced a large force, occupying Hall's hill. This brings them nearer to Fort Corcoran and Washington. Before nightfall the rebel batteries shelled the woods, so as to drive in our pickets. A light of burning buildings could be seen in Washington.

Steamer S. R. Spaulding returned from Hatteras to Fortress Monroe Friday morning. The Susquehanna and Pawnee are still there. The Spaulding brought the remnant of Col. Weber's regiment, and nearly 1000 stand of arms captured from the rebels, and a dozen prisoners taken at the Inlet. Four vessels had run into the Inlet with English colors, under supposition that the place was still in the hands of the rebels, our flag having been temporarily hauled down. Pilots were offered the vessels and every facility for getting in, and they did not discover their mistake until it was too late. Two were from the British Provinces, and had valuable cargoes of molasses, shoes and clothing. Our troops at the Inlet have mounted all the guns and rendered all those that had been spiked effective.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Charles Wheeler, of Swanzey, suspected of shooting Mr. E. R. Gilmore, on Sunday, Sept. 1st, while he was watering his horse at a spring, has been bound over for trial. He was seen near where Mr. G. was shot, on that afternoon, with a gun. When captured, he was armed with a double-barrel shot-gun and a revolver, and threatened to shoot any one who attempted to arrest him, but finally surrendered.

—— The N. H. Sharp Shooters, on their arrival at Washington, will receive the following outfit: One suit of Austrian green, and cap of same color, for field service; a gray overcoat and undercoat, and gray felt hat, with close feather, for autumn and winter use; two pairs heavy, twilled linen pants, a close jacket, goat skin leggins, with hair outside, and suitable under clothing. Before departure, the corps presented Capt. Jones and his lieutenants each a suitable sword.

—— The Governor and Council have tendered to the War Department a battalion of cavalry, to be raised in this State.

—— In the town of Grafton, a sabbath or two since, while a good Free Will Baptist minister was preaching to the people, he incidentally referred to the existing civil commotion in our country. "Enough of that;" shouted one of the Selectmen, "we want the Gospel!" The interruption caused some feeling in the congregation, but the minister finished his discourse, paying due regard to the abrupt demand of the "father of the town." The name of this excessively pious Selectman of Grafton is George Dean.

—— Snow fell at the White Hills on Tuesday, intimating that the season had ended. Both houses will close this week. In the vicinity of Fisherville and East Concord, on the Merrimac, there was considerable frost on Tuesday morning, killing beans and nipping corn.

—— The Manchester American states that Adjutant Samuel G. Langley of the 2d Regiment has resigned his place. It had not learned the cause of his resignation.

—— From the moment the Concord and Montreal Railroad touches Lake Winnipiscogee, to the moment the train reaches Littleton, a ride of five hours, says the Boston Transcript, the lover of the picturesque in scenery is hardly conscious of the lapse of time, in his delight in looking at the variety of landscapes which spread out before his view. Some portions of the State of New York, through which the Erie Rail road passes, are acknowledged to rival the scenery of the Rhine, but they do not surpass in picturesque beauty many of the New Hampshire towns between Meredith and Littleton, through which the Concord and Montreal Road winds its way.

THE MURDER IN PORTLAND.—Circumstances indicate that at the time the deed was committed Hill was caught by his father in the act of taking a deed of the property, an insurance policy on the house for $400, a silver watch, and about $14 from the old man's trunk, and also other papers, the whole of which he was packing in a carpet bag, evidently intending to carry them off. When he found he was discovered, he turned on the old man, and discharged one of the pistols, and followed out of the house and fired the other. Appearances would seem to indicate that he intended to murder the old man in the night, and make off with every thing that was valuable.

☞ Rev. John Pierpont has signified his acceptance of the position of Chaplain of the Twenty second regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers. Mr. Pierpont is somewhere in the neighborhood of 75 years of age, and is probably the oldest person ever appointed a military chaplain. MR. J. CLARK, editor of the Boston Courier, received his commission as Commissary of Subsistence, from the Secretary of War, with orders to report at the office of the Adjutant General at Washington.

THE DOGS OF WAR.—It is reported from Richmond that "urgent requests are made in the South to place General Bragg in command of the threatened districts of North Carolina." We may add urgent requests are made in the North to place General Holdfast in command of the Hatteras forts. —N. Y. Post.

GEN. MCCLELLAN'S SONG.—A musical lady friend of the Boston Transcript has made the discovery that Gen. McClellan's speech is well adapted to go as a song to the John Brown tune. Now, as the soldiers will sing that tune in preference to any other, we think it highly desirable they should be furnished with better words to it; and who knows but they may be willing to adopt this, which is at least unexceptionable on the score of taste and sentiment. Gen. McClellan is fairly entitled to the reward offered by the National Song committee.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston,—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

C. & P. RAILROAD.—The building of the new part, to connect with Manchester, is progressing favorably. And we are informed that new arrangements are being made to erect a new depot and other buildings, in this city, forthwith, and to extend the rail to the wharf now occupied by Chesley & Call, the Eastern track to be used part of the way. The design is to use the present site in part, and to erect buildings in connection with the Eastern Road, if deemed advisab e—and if that road don't need a new depot, then Portsmouth don't want a City Hall. We are glad to hear of these improvements and this enterprise;—and hope our city and the interior of the State may yet enjoy all the advantages which ought to be derived from this road.

☞ There is a splendid marine band on board the Sabine, under the leadership of Edward Kendall and E. K. Eaton. Mr. Eaton is a brother of the editor of the N. H. Journal of Agriculture, and has seen life on board a man-of-war before, having been three years on the Mediterranean, in the old frigate Constitution. He speaks of the Sabine as affording much better accommodations than did Old Ironsides in '36.

☞ We are pleased to learn that Mr. Charles H. Tompson, of South Berwick, Maine, recently leader of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, and an excellent musician, has been appointed leader of one of the Massachusetts regimental bands. We regret, however, that he could not have gone with the band accompanying one of the regiments of our own State.

☞ A correspondent at the Navy Yard writes us that an order was received from the Navy Department by Lieut. Cooper, Ordnance officer at this Station, to have constructed sixteen nine-inch gun carriages, within ten days if possible. He immediately notified the foreman, Mr. Williams, and in nine days they were completed and sent off.

☞ The recruits recently enlisted in this city by Capt. and Lieut. Towle, were ordered to join the Fourth Regiment, Col. Whipple, at Manchester, on Saturday.—They left this city in the morning, having marched up from Fort Constitution, where they have been quartered.

☞ An intelligent correspondent asks the question, whether out-spoken traitors and open partizans of the rebels ought to be employed on our public works. We answer, No, unless they wear a ball and chain.

☞ The wreck of the ship Eagle Speed, —a vessel of 1113 tons, owned by Messrs. Wm. Jones & Son and Richard Jenness, of this city,—while in charge of a pilot, near Bassein, on the 7th of June, has already been reported. She has been sold for 1500 rupees, and by a court of inquiry the pilot was suspended.

☞ The Boston Traveller is informed that Gen. Hooker's Brigade, to which the N. H. Second regiment is attached, in consequence of orders received, are marching into Maryland. Their place of destination is Marlborough, and the opinion is expressed that they may have some fighting to do before many days elapse.

"NAYSHINAL HIM TO THE AMERICUN EGUL."—It is well known that the committee appointed to select one out of twelve hundred national hymns offered, worthy of the prize of $500, have concluded not to give the prize at all. It certainly is scandalous that this decision should have been made, if the committee had the following astounding lyric before them for judgment:

Flop thy wings, anormous fowl,
Split the clouds asunder!
And while treason's tempests howl,
O, let rip the thunder!
Make the vile secesheers yowl,
Make 'em stand from under.

Grab in thy tremendjus beak
The old flag of freedom;
Show us every star and streak
As we've always seed 'em;
In the field our armies seek,
And to victory lead 'em.

Make a pitch for Beauregard,
Drap square into Davis,
Scratch the cotton planters hard,
Liberate their slavegs;
Tear their banner seven-starred,
O, thou rara avis!

An honest farmer at Ludlow, Vt., was recently told that the army worm was destroying everything in its course, and very anxiously inquired which army the worm was destroying.

HENRY R. COSTAR:—All the summer I have been troubled with Roaches and Mice. I was actually ashamed of the house, for the Roaches were everywhere. I purchased a box of your Exterminator and tried it, and in one week there was not a Roach or Mouse in the house.

JOHN B. GIVENS, No. 94 Elm Street.

HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin, need be so no longer, if they use "Costar's" Exterminators. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they effected nothing; but COSTAR's article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Medina (O.) Gazette.

MORE GRAIN and provisions are annually destroyed in Grant County, by vermin, than would pay for tons of this Rat and Insect Killer. —Lancaster (Wis.) Herald.

HENRY R. COSTAR:—Your Exterminator is received, used, and pronounced a decided success. We used a box of it, and the way the Rats and Mice "raised Ned" that night, was a caution to sleepers. Since then, not a Rat or Mouse has been heard, in kitchen or cellar.—Saginaw (Iowa) Times.

I HAVE BEEN SELLING your Exterminator for the last year, and have found it a sure shot every time. I have not known it to fail in a single instance.

THE NASSAU HOTEL, which was burnt Wednesday night, was an immense and elegant edifice,—we believe, the largest public house in the country; and very picturesquely situated. It was occupied last by Messrs. Rand, from this city; and there were no occupants. It is believed that the fire was incendiary. The house originally cost $120,000. It is now insured for about $50,000. Four stories in height, the building had a length of over 400 feet and a width of 80 feet. There were about 300 rooms, besides the large dining-hall, capable of accommodating 600 persons. It was owned by Paran Stevens and others. It cost over $60,000 to furnish the house. A large part of the furniture was taken from the house two years ago, and is now stored in Boston, awaiting a purchaser.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints:

Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & CO.: Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the sickness grew worse. At length I was advised to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation, that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and took almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You may well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully,

Yours,
ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from ever two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

"I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Diseases. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were spreading his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his throat, ulcers, the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disease by mercury, was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its effects, which your agent gave me, that this Sarsaparilla (free, you say, from mercury) is a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful Rheumatic Affection for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and I tried your Sarsaparilla as a last resort, not hoping much, but to my surprise I found it to be a good remedy; consequently, three truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Palpitation, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus removes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medical world, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This has a remedy so extensively known to surpass any other for the cure of these and kindred complaints, that it is needless to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled power over pulmonary disease, and the wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. You can find in your neighborhood, or even families, among them who have tried it, some personal experience of its efficacy. Some bring trophy to their relief of its victory over the most formidable and aggressive disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

"EVERYBODY"

WHO USES

HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE

HAIR RESTORATIVE

Is convinced of the fact that

It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair.

Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.

"ANYBODY"

Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and with as much safety—is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

☞ Read this letter:

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.,—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald. I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend the Inimitable for any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. ROSENHALL.

Sold everywhere—price 50c., and 81per bottle.

TESTIMONIALS.
Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compounds." I have taken but one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entire ly cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.
TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles E. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.
Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.
My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.
I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex Member of Congress from Maine.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1861.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.

Dear Chronicle:—Since our last letter, the New Hampshire Third Regiment has arrived among us; but as they debarked at Hunter's Point, on the Long Island side, the Sons were unable to tender them the proposed reception. The good order which prevails in their camp at Hempstead, (22 miles from this city,) and the praises of the general commandant, prove them to be as model a regiment as the two which have preceded them. We saw Lt. Col. Jackson and Lt. Cornelius in our city yesterday, looking finely.

The New Hampshire company of sharpshooters, for Berdan's regiment, are at present in camp at Weehawken, on the opposite side of the Hudson. Their tents glisten in the sunlight, as it streams through the dark green foliage on the summit of the heights which have been the scene of so many bloody encounters, and where, in one fell moment, Fate achieved death for the talented Hamilton, and infamy for the no less talented Burr.

The Daily News has "fizzled;" or, in the more poetic language of its editor, it "sleepeth, but is not dead." The "wheel of fortune" has revolved, and he who has so often drawn "blanks" for others, has turned out a blank for himself.

Secessionism, several weeks since, made rapid strides in our city, and its adherents were bitter in their denunciation of the government; but the decided course pursued by the latter, the open portal of Fort Lafayette, the suppression of treasonable papers, and the death of the Day Book, followed by that of the News, have acted as a check upon them; and many are beginning to realize that "it would have been at least ten dollars in Jeff. Davis' pocket if he had never been born!"

The name of the "Freeman's Journal," one of the periodicals recommended for indictment by the Grand Jury, was shortly afterwards changed to the "Freeman's Appeal,"—the editor hoping by that means to escape the act of the government excluding it from the mails; but he found it of no avail, and is said to be now at his "wit's end." We don't think it took a very long journey for him to get there.

The beautiful and brilliant Mrs. John Wood "opened" at the Winter Garden on Monday eve, in company with Davenport, late a member of the "Cocktail (secession) Guards," at New Orleans. It was planned to hise Davenport off the stage, and attempts were made to buy up the tickets in large quantities, to "stack" the house; but the managers refused to sell, and just before the doors opened, a hundred of the police filed into the building. On Davenport's first appearance, the hissing commenced,—but from the precautions taken, the plan failed in effect, except to elicit Union speeches from Mrs. Wood and the offending militant.

Business continues dull, and hundreds of stores are to let; this, however, is not surprising, in view of the vast number of left-tenants in the street! NEWINGTON.

FROM THE SOUTH.—The Richmond shoe merchants urge the discharge of all shoemakers from the army and their employment at making shoes of canvas.

The Baton Rouge Advocate says that the cotton crop of that vicinity is literally covered with the army worm, and that the fate of the whole crop will be sealed in a few days, for the rains and heavy atmosphere are favorable to the worms.

The Richmond Whig urges the impressment of the cotton and woolen mills into the public service to avoid speculating contracts. It states positively that the War Department has detailed soldiers from the army to be employed in cloth factories.

Jeff. Thompson has issued a proclamation, in which he threatens, for every member of the Southern forces or citizen soldier of Missouri executed, to hang, draw and quarter a minion of Abraham Lincoln's.

The Charleston Courier says that preparations are making in that city for manufacturing locomotives on a large scale.

Governor Rector, of Arkansas, has called an extra session of the Legislature for the 4th of November.

If cats had wings, no bird would be left in the air. If every one had what he is wishing for, who then would have anything?

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The test of the Sharp Shooters was to put ten successive shots within a circle of five inches, around the centre of the target, at two hundred yards distant.—Many of them have telescopic rifles, a new invention. A correspondent of Porter's Spirit says he has "been trying the sharpshooter's test with open globes, and finds it easy enough to beat. As it is only intended to enlist extra shots, why not make the test with open globes and off-hand! Surely a 50 inch string, at ten shots, 200 yards, is not crack shooting, if telescopic sight and dead rest be used. Let us have it over a loose elbow, Col. Berdan, with open sights. You cannot use the telescope, or even the globe, in the smoke of battle or in thick woods."

—— The Statesman says "Many of the Sharp Shooters have left profitable employments that they may make their skill useful to their country: in some cases, premiums have been offered to those enlisted, if they would withdraw, and give their chance to a tardy applicant. One father offered his son $6000 to remain at home, but the proposal was declined."

—— The Merrimac Co. Fair, one of the few in the State to be held this year, is to take place at Concord, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24th and 25th. Joseph B. Walker Esq., of Concord, will deliver the address.

—— Many years ago it was the custom in this State for people to have their "underpinning" made and mended in their own habitations—men going about with "kits" of tools, often remaining many days in the same dwelling, making and mending shoes, and taking "pot luck" with those for whom they were at work. The practice was known as "whipping the cat." It has gone entirely into disuse.

—— Old Mrs. Gurnsey, known to many as the discoverer of the Flume at Franconia Notch, died in Lisbon, Sept. 11, aged 75 years.

—— Captain Paul R. George of New Hampshire, has been appointed a brigade quartermaster.

—— Died at Canterbury Aug. 21st, Col. Asa Foster, aged 86 years, two months, 18 days. Col. Foster was with Benedict Arnold at West Point, and at the time of his desertion was a member of his staff. He was born in Andover, Mass., but when a youth removed to Canterbury, where he ever after resided, beloved and respected by all.

—— At Plainfield on Thursday, of last week, a boy, seventeen years of age, named Henry Woodward, while out gunning, seeing a mouse running across a stone, struck at him with the butt of his gun, when it discharged, and the shot entered his left arm just below the shoulder, shattering the bone in a terrible manner. Dr. Crosby, of Hanover, was sent for, and arrived about two o'clock P. M., next day. He put the patient under the influence of chloroform, and successfully amputated the arm at the shoulder.

NAVAL.—The U. S. steamer Sumter has arrived at New York, from Loando, Africa, in 36 days. The Constelation would sail Aug. 12 for Portsmouth, and the Mohican for Boston Aug. 11. The San Jacinto and Mystic, for Philadelphia, sailed on the 8th.

The Saratoga was at Loando Aug. 10.—The health of the fleet was good.

Steamer Cleator arrived at New York from Kingston, Ja., on the 5th.

The U. S. steamers Richmond and Powhatan sailed from Kingston, Ja., Aug. 25th, for St. Thomas.

The U. S. sailing frigate Congress, Capt. Wm. S. Walker, sailed from Boston Saturday afternoon, bound South.

The U. S. bark Gemsbok, Capt. Voorhees, from Boston, bound South, was spoken Sept. 9th, lat. 38.25, lon. 75-24.

The steam gun-boat E. B. Hale, four 32's, Capt. W. J. Foster, arrived at Boston on Saturday, from New York, with ordnance for the Yard, and will sail again on receipt of orders.

The steam bark Young Rover sailed on Friday, bound South.

The U. S. steam frigate Powhatan, in search of the pirate Sumter, was spoken Aug. 20, the Isle of Pines bearing N. W. 20 miles, by Capt. Mitchell of bark Franklin. Capt. M. gave the commander of the Powhatan information of a bark having been sent by the Sumter into Cienfuegos, in which direction the Powhatan proceeded. When first seen the Powhatan was sailing under Spanish colors, but she afterwards set the American flag.

NARROW ESCAPE OF FORT HATTERAS AND GARRISON.—After the capture of Fort Hatteras, one of the shells was found to have pierced the rebels' powder magazine, without bursting. On examination it appeared that the gunner whose duty it was, had forgotton to tear off a small leathern cap, ordinarily put on for safety. This was the only shell thrown that did not explode. Had the cap been removed, the fortification would have been blown up, and not a handful of prisoners left alive to be captured as prisoners of war.

A six year older, going into the village without leave, was shouted after by one of the masters, who inquired where he was going. "I am going to buy a ha'porth of nails, sir." "What for?" "For a ha'penny, sir," was the reply.

He that loves only himself, has only one joy; he that loves his neighbors, has many.

THE REBELLION.—The Spanish Minister has assured Secretary Seward that the Governor General of Cuba has not issued a proclamation recognizing the rebel flag.—As the rebels hold the custom houses in the seceded States, vessels necessarily arrive there with irregular papers, and are admitted, as they have been admitted in all other ports.

A reconnoissance on Saturday developed the fact that the body of the enemy which advanced Friday night, had fallen back behind Munson's Hill; that there are large camps of the rebels at Centreville and Fairfax, and that the main body of the rebel army has fallen back to Manassas, and is now encamped there.

Seven secessionists have been arrested in Maryland, including Capt. Stewart, who raised a company of cavalry for the rebel service.

About 4 P. M., Friday, the rebel steamer Yorktown ran down to within three miles of Newport News, and opened fire on the camps and the blockading squadron, consisting of the Savannah, the Cumberland and the gunboat Louisiana. She fired twenty-five shell, one of which exploded near the Savannah. The others fell short. The guns of the Cumberland and Savannah could not reach the Yorktown, but a couple of shells from a Sawyer gun on shore caused her to retire. One of the shells exploded three-fourths of a mile beyond the steamer. The Yorktown has been cut down forward and aft, by the removal of her upper cabin, so as to carry two large pivot guns. She has in addition six heavy guns on each side. There are no indications of her having been iron-plated. About 4 o'clock P. M., also, a party which was sent out to cut fuel, encountered 200 rebel cavalry and an equal number of infantry, about three miles from Newport News. The teamsters left their wagons and galloped in to give the alarm, but no further demonstration was made, and the wagons were afterwards brought into camp.

F. W. Walker of Brooklyn, the Washington correspondent of the New York Express, was stabbed at Port Tobacco, Md., by an active secessionist, whom he aided by two guards, had captured. The prisoner, while Mr. Walker was taking minutes of the conversation with him, suddenly drew a knife and plunged it into Walker's bowels, and rushing from the house, made his escape before the guards, who were outside, could have a shot at him. Walker is dangerously wounded. He had gathered much valuable information.

The arrest of the secession members of the Maryland Legislature has exploded a plot of the rebels. Some of the members arrested had a programme all prepared, by which an act was to be passed, declaring Maryland out of the Union and a State in the Southern Confederacy. The rebels are closely watched by Gen. Dix, who does not intend to allow any overt acts of treason. A day or two since a secession meeting was broken up by a detachment of troops sent by the General.

Negroes have been seen performing picket duty for the rebels.

The rebels have full possession of St. Joseph, Mo. It is represented that they have taken the control of municipal matters, and are preventing the ingress and egress of passengers and mails. They have also levied heavy contributions on several stores, taking whatever they wanted. The straightout Union men have crossed the river to Elwood for their safety, and have taken the ferryboat with them.

The fight at Boonville, Mo., on Friday, terminated in a victory to the Home Guards, under Major Eppstein, who held their entrenchments. The rebels, 1000 strong, were driven back. The Home Guards lost 1 killed and 5 wounded. The rebels lost 12 killed and 30 wounded.

A number of Federal prisoners heretofore in confinement at Richmond have been sent to Castle Pinckney, in Charleston harbor.

A dispatch from Augusta, Me., says there is abundant evidence to convict Robt. Elliott, of Freedom, Me., of treason. One of Elliot's brothers gave out that Col. Smart would be lynched if he went to Freedom; but he went down there with three friends on Friday night, and during the night obtained full testimony without molestation from the Elliot military company.

Gov. Magoffin, of Kentucky, in obedience to the resolutions of the Legislature, has issued his proclamation, mildly informing the rebel authorities "that Kentucky expects the Confederate or Tennessee troops to be withdrawn from her soil unconditionally."—In the Senate Mr. Whitaker introduced a resolution authorizing the Military Board to seize the State arms wherever found, and to employ sufficient police force to protect the railroads.

A teacher wishing to explain to a little girl the manner in which a lobster casts his shell when he has outgrown it, said, "What do you do when you have outgrown your clothes?" "Oh," replied the little one, "we let out the tucks."

☞ "Tales of the Day," No. 4, by Carter & Brother, Boston, is published, and embraces the same high order of stories that have characterized the contents of the previous numbers. Twenty-five cents per number, $2.50 per annum.

Messrs. Carter & Brother have also commenced the publication of "Short Stories for Leisure Hours." Every story is to be complete, and the new publication is peculiarly fitted to answer the wants of the traveller and those who dislike the suspense of continued stories. It is to be issued once in two months, at 25 cents per number, or $1.25 per year: the six numbers, when bound, will form a handsome octavo volume of about 700 double column pages.

☞ At the recent session of the Superior Court in Barnstable county, Mass., Lucius H. Wakefield, a lawyer residing in Middlesex county, was mulcted in $3000 for a breach of promise of marriage to a lady in Osterville. A somewhat aggravating circumstance connected with the case was, the defendant continued to correspond with the plaintiff, and to arrange for their marriage, for a long time after he was married to another person.

THE CAMERA OBSCURA.—George Raphael of New York recommends the use of the camera obscura at Washington, for making observations as to the position of the enemy. He says, that by elevating the camera seventy five feet, objects no larger than a dog can be seen fifteen miles distant. This process, Mr. R. says, is much easier, cheaper and more certain than the balloon.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that apparently elicit so little commiseration or sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c, and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cures every reputed case of Rheumatism, as may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this preparation, provided the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of a return of the complaint, a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential persons, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names be used in the behalf of those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE POLKS, Chemist,

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Feb. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston,—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

☞ The U. S. ship Sabine, Capt. Ringgold, which sailed from this port on Sunday afternoon, in charge of Pilot Preble, presented a beautiful and majestic appearance as she glided down the harbor, on that lovely day. She is now one of the staunchest vessels in the Navy, having been thoroughly repaired here, is finely manned and officered; and is altogether admirably fitted to stand a winter cruise on the coast. Her destination was Fortress Monroe.

☞ Among the horde of Peddlers which infest our streets, the one really least useful to our citizens, and yet most injurious to one class of tradesmen and mechanics, is a certain Learned individual from Massachusetts, who actually makes some people believe that he can pay the great expenses of running a nice team, and yet sell stationery and do printing cheaper than our resident dealers and printers. If the peddler law hits anybody, why not him? and if that don't, the law of common sense and public opinion ought to. For our part, we will guarantee to do work for cash, (which he always gets,) cheaper and better than his itinerant concern ever did—and we know our bookstores will do the same; and the money we all get for it, will be spent in the city again, too. "Encourage your own"—that is, if you want them to encourage you in turn.

☞ Ship Finland, before reported set on fire at Apalachicola, by the U. S. blockading squadron, was built at Portsmouth, in 1843. She is of 549 tons register, rated 2—, and was recently owned in New York by J. & N. Smith & Co. It is presumed she had been transferred to the British flag.

FUNERAL OF LIEUT. HARRIS, U. S. N. Lieut. J. W. Harris, of the U. S. flag-ship Lancaster, who died at Panama August 24, was buried on the Island of Flaminco the same day, with all the honors of war. The flag officers of the squadron, the captains of the British and French ships of war in the harbor, and all the officers of the Lancaster, attended the funeral. The flags of the ships of war, and at the American Consulate, were displayed at half-mast during the day, as a mark of respect to the deceased.

☞ There was another false alarm last evening.

LATEST.—An official dispatch from Col. Geary, of 28th Penn. Regt., to Gen. McClellan, states that on Sunday P. M. about 400 rebels attaked the extreme right of his pickets, three miles above Darnestown, Md. The affair was spirited, lasting about two hours. The enemy were driven from every house and breastwork they occupied, 8 or 10 being killed and a number wounded. Our loss was one killed. Our victory was complete, the troops behaving admirably. Four Co.'s of the Penn. Regt. and two of the Mass. 13th were engaged. A rebel was seen taking aim at Col. Geary, when he grasped a rifle from a soldier and shot the rebel.

It is rumored that Gen. Fremont had resigned. Pres. Lincoln had writtem a letter, instructing him to modify his proclamation, that it might conform to the recent confiscation act.

Gen. Butler arrived in Boston, Monday morning. He is to raise six regiments in New England, to be employed in special service.

The Sabine passed in sight of the highlands of Cape Cod, Monday morning, at 9 o'clock.

A Richmond dispatch says a vessel under British register had arrived at New Orleans with an assorted cargo, consisting in part of 2000 muskets and 125 rifles.

A rebel prisoner states that the rebel steamer Yorktown is actually iron-plated, so as to protect her sides and machinery.

The Richmond Examiner of the 14th has the following, postmarked Lewisburg. It is probably false. We have already received Gen. Rosencrans' account of the fight on the 10th, and of the manner in which Floyd "stole" away during the night:

"Gen. Floyd had another engagement with the enemy on the 10th, completely routing them, killing 500 and wounding 1000, and taking some prisoners. Ten hours after, Floyd heard that another wing of the enemy had crossed the river a few miles above, in order to surround him, when he fell back. The Confederate loss was 1 killed and 8 wounded."

Capt. Morris, of the British navy, while at Port Royal, exhibited to Lt. Comings, of the U.S. ship Richmond, an extract from a letter of the Lords of Admiralty, which says: "In case of a vessel bearing the flag of the Confederate States, you are to observe strict neutrality."

The Tribune says preparations for two important movements against the Southern coast are going forward,—in one of which the land forces will be under Gen. Butler, and in the other under Gen. Sherman. The number of troops will be about 25,000.—The points to be assailed are unknown.

The 3d New Hampshire, 8th Maine and 3d Rhode Island regiments left their encampment on Long Island, Saturday. Generals Butler and Sherman departed from New York the same night.

"CONSTITUTION DAY."—To-day, the 17th of September, the anniversary of the final adoption of the Constitution, is to be observed as a holiday in various places.—Such an observance is peculiarly appropriate at this time.

The Chattanooga (Tenn.) Gazette of the 11th says a Union camp has been formed about ten miles north of that place, and a huge flag has been raised, with a sword suspended over it. About 200 men are encamped, and drill regularly.

☞ Rev. E. Yates Reese, D. D., editor of the Methodist Protestant newspaper, committed suicide in Baltimore, Saturday morning, by cutting his throat. He had suffered from mental derangement for some time.

BOSTON CURIOSITIES.—An ear of sweet corn, variegated with red, white and blue colors, by nature.

JOHN B. GIVENS, No. 94 Elm Street.
HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin, need be so no longer, if they use "Costar's" Exterminators. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they effected nothing; but COSTAR'S article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Medina (O.) Gazette.
MORE GRAIN and provisions are annually destroyed in Grant County, by vermin, than would pay for tons of this Rat and Insect Killer.—Lancaster (Wis.) Herald.
HENRY R. COSTAR:—Your Exterminator is received, used, and pronounced a decided success. We used a box of it, and the way the Rats and Mice "raised Ned" that night, was a caution to sleepers. Since then, not a Rat or Mouse has been heard in kitchen or collar.—Magregor (Iowa) Times.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was advised to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I went to Indianapolis and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. The old scaly skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Scurvy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859. that he has cured an inveterate case of Erysipelas, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also of a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he never fails to connect Sarsaparilla with Erysipelas in its treatment.

Bronchocele, Goiter or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goiter—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. S. Canning, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in the Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female complaints."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and respond to some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have had the effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic sores in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his throat, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the ulcers healed, and he is well again, but of course without some disfiguration in his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disease by mercury, and whose throat from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from my friends, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory now has a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results will it have not surprised me.

Very truly yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

HILLSBOROUGH, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than I was before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FREAM.

John T. Gilchrist of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver. Your Sarsaparilla has restored my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down wreck for many years from the effects of that derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Eddy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and anything you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The Lord bless the humble instrument by which I was cured."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where some of these formidable diseases have yielded to the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit of them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these afflictions have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus expels the disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medical profession of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its extraordinary efficacy for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Let any who doubt its virtues, or even those who among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the active and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.,—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bit bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a fresh, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will answer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. BORNHALL.

HUTCHINS' HAIR DYE,

THE VERY BEST NOW IN USE, as many thousands who have tried it will testify.

The great superiority of this Dye consists in its easy application, having but one preparation. It also contains twice as much as any other, and sold at a much less price. This Dye imparts to the hair the most natural color of any yet discovered; and instead of injuring, it gives it the beauty and elasticity of youth. This Dye is having the largest sale of any Dye in the market, and is warranted to give better satisfaction than any yet offered to the public.

GARDINER'S

COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well." D. D. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

"I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entirely cured.—JOHN A. MORDO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.:—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1860.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from suffering of several years' standing.—W. S. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk Street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex-Member of Congress from Maine.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

THE NATIONAL LOAN.

The new popular loan for the United States Government, to aid in carrying on the war and crushing the rebellion, is very popular and remarkably successful.

Sunday's despatch from Washington says the National Loan is succeeding beyond expectation. Several hundred subscription agents were appointed last week in nearly every loyal State, including Virginia and Kentucky. A considerable number have already accepted and sent in their bonds.—The others will probably be all at work this week. The subscriptions of the people have exceeded nine million dollars, and their patriotic co-operation will doubtless enable the banks to take the second installment of fifty millions, and supply all the money needed for a vigorous but economical prosecution of the war.

The Administration feels the importance of justifying by vigor, economy and integrity, the confidence manifested by the masses. Wasteful expenditures and corrupt contracts, by which alone the security of the workingmen, who invest their earnings in the loan, can be impaired, will be vigorously repressed.

We have already called our readers' attention to the fact, that subscriptions to the loan are open at the Piscataqua Exchange Bank. Previous to this, the Rockingham Bank, in our city, had taken $30,000 of the loan, for the accommodation of the people here, who took it at once; at least one prominent opposer of the Government taking a good slice.

In Boston the deposits made on Saturday at the Assistant Treasury office, for sales at 7 3-10 Treasury notes to the people, amounted to $276,904.20. The Associated Banks made the bulk of their deposits for sales made by them at the Treasury office, there and in New York, on the 12th and 13th instant. The Associated Banks are now paying into the Sub-Treasury their fifth and sixth installments, which when completed, will make fifty six per cent. on their ten million subscription.

These things show the wealth of the country, the strength of the U. S. Government, and the confidence of the people; they are tokens for good; and no investment in funds can be better.

BENJ. F. HALLETT, a well known politician of the Democratic party in Massachusetts, has written and published a letter to Chas. G. Greene, of the Boston Post, in which he recommends that the Democratic party, when it shall meet at Worcester on Wednesday, (to day,) should pass Union resolutions, supporting the war, but make no nominations for Governor, &c.—Also that they preserve their organization for future use.

He gives several reasons for this advice, viz., that loyal Democrats have no platform now, distinct from any other loyal men; that a nomination of Governor in Massachusetts will only show their weakness, and not strength, as so many Democrats have gone to the war; that President Lincoln and Governor Andrew are both supporting the war and fighting against the rebellion in good faith; and that all organized party opposition to them at this time, must so far weaken their hands, strengthen the rebels, and thus prolong the war and make it more bloody.

The Boston Post states that "the sentiments of Mr. Hallett, in his letter, receive warm commendation from numerous quarters. Many of the firmest Democrats cordially approve of his position, and express a hope that the proceedings of the State Convention on Wednesday will be in harmony with his recommendations; liberal and conservative Republicans also avow their approbation of his suggestions, and it is believed they indicate the general disposition of the voters of the Commonwealth."

The Republican State Committee of Massachusetts call a meeting for October 1, of delegates from all citizens of the Commonwealth who are in favor of union for the support of the Government, and for a vigorous prosecution of the war, against wicked and unprovoked rebellion, and who are determined in good faith and without reservation to support the constituted authorities in all attempts to vindicate the sway of the Constitution and Laws of every portion of the country.

FROM our contraband contributor—The gait to be avoided by our cavalry; De canter.

ADVICE to "Peace" men—Hold your peace.

THE REBELLION.—Notwithstanding the explanations made by M. Tassara, the Spanish Minister, to Mr. Seward, the reported proclamation of the Captain General of Cuba, concerning vessels bearing the rebel flag, occupied the attention of the State Department, Monday.

In every column of the army of the Potomac the troops are in excellent health.

The Baltimore police are arresting the traitors of the Maryland Legislature, as fast as they reach the city on their way to Frederick, so that there was be no quorum Tuesday. Nearly two-thirds of both Houses are secessionists, and it is presumed that they will all be arrested. Many of the members cannot be found, and are said to have fled from the State.

Leavenworth papers of the 11th give the following account of the engagement between Gen. Rains and Montgomery on the 2d inst.: Six hundred rebels, under Gen. Rains, approached Fort Scott, and seized 80 mules belonging to the Government, and killed a teamster. A messenger was sent to Montgomery, who had 500 men. He pursued Rains eleven miles, killing several of his men, when, coming on the main body of the enemy, the battle commenced, the rebels having cannon and Montgomery one howitzer only. The fight lasted two hours, when Montgomery slowly retired, keeping up a running fight until nightfall. The enemy's force is reported by prisoners to have been from 2000 to 3000.

Twenty-three negroes have been declared free under Gen. Fremont's proclamation, they being the property of leading rebels.

Among the killed by the Little Platte bridge disaster was Barclay Coppie, of John Brown raid notoriety, together with five or six men who were en route with him to join Montgomery's Kansas regiment.

The body of Col. John A. Washington was sent over to the enemy, Sunday, under a flag of truce. While on the way, it was met by a similar flag coming from the enemy, for the purpose of obtaining information as to his condition.

On Monday night, 16th, while a Government steamer, name unknown, was conveying a number of prisoners from Lexington to Fort Leavenworth, for better security, she broke her rudder, and was obliged to haul to the land. Shortly after reaching the shore, a company of the Jackson county secessionists mined the boat, released the prisoners, and secured some 40 Federal soldiers as captives.

The St. Louis Democrat says: The removal of Gen. Fremont we do not think has been seriously considered by the Administration. Complaints have undoubtedly been made against him, and possibly charges preferred, which, of course, will be duly and properly investigated.

Dispatches from St. Louis report that Col. F. P. Blair, Jr., was ordered Monday by the Provost Marshal, to report himself under arrest, on the general charge of using disrespectful language with reference to Gen. Fremont.

Some fighting has taken place near the Cheat Mountain Pass, in Western Virginia, where the Union troops under Gen. Reynolds repulsed the Confederates under Lee. Floyd and Wise are reported to be in full retreat from the Kanawha valley, notwithstanding the great "victory" reported to have been gained over Rosecrans on the 10th, at Gauley river.

On the 22th inst., a detachment of 300 men, from Indiana regiments, dispersed three Tennessee regiments, under General Anderson, on the west side of Cheat Mountain, completely routing them, killing eighty, and obtaining most of their equipments. Our loss was eight men killed.

The rebel Legislature in Missouri, the members of which were formally deposed by the State Convention, adjourned on the 15th of May, to meet again in Jefferson City, Sept. 16th. At the last accounts from Lexington, a large rebel force under Gen. Price, accompanied by the deposed Gov. Jackson, were endeavoring to obtain possession of that city, with the intention of establishing their seat of government there, which Jackson claims he has the legal right to do.

It appears from the latest accounts of the battle in Western Virginia, on Tuesday last, that Floyd, Ex-Secretary of War, who commanded the rebel forces, was wounded in the arm.

It is reported that on Friday last, a rebel force of 10,000, under Gen. Johnston, were under marching orders, for Paducah, Ky.

Three hundred muskets were found Monday buried in the rear of the old theatre in Baltimore. They are supposed to have been concealed by the Kane police after the 19th of April. They are all new weapons.

☞ A foolish rumor that Gen. Scott had resigned, found believers in Washington on Sunday.

☞ It is said Government is now employing seventy mills in New England on Government work.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for October has "the White Lady of Avenel" for a frontispiece,—and a good table of literary contents.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In the office of the Register of Deeds for Belknap county, are deeds executed Aug. 20, 1810, Feb. 10, 1816, Jan. 28, 1826, and Dec. 24, 1826, which were presented to be recorded June 8, 1861.

—— A long, low building at Sanbornton Bridge, known as the "Seven Nations," and occupied by several poor families, was destroyed by fire last Wednesday night.—It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

—— The New Hampshire company of sharpshooters gave a public exhibition of skill at Weehawken, on Saturday afternoon, showing an admirable degree of efficiency. After they had ceased firing, a lady, who had witnessed the trial, stepped forward, and with a telescopic-sighted rifle succeeded in striking the bull's eye at the distance of 500 feet. The company left for Washington in the evening.

—— To avoid the difficulties which arise in the selection of officers, Col. Cross of the Fifth Regiment, we understand, has decided to name in advance a captain from each county, who shall be commissioned and assigned to companies according to the necessities of the case.

—— The members of the Fourth Regiment at Manchester were largely increased on Saturday by the arrival of several companies from other towns. One from Nashua numbering about 70 men, Capt. Greenleaf; 90 from Laconia, Capt. Badger; 70 from Dover; 50 from Rochester, Capt. Sawyer; 38 from Portsmouth, Capt. Towle; and from Great Falls about 40, under Capt. Collins; in all about 350 men, whose tents, already there, give to the field a decidedly military aspect.

—— Captains Barker and Carr have enlisted 106 men to fill vacancies in the Second N. H., in addition to 88 sent on a few weeks ago. They were to leave with them Tuesday afternoon, and would probably swell the number to 125.

GEN. FREMONT.

The following letter from President Lincoln to Major General Fremont was transmitted to the latter on the 12th inst.:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11th.

MAJOR GENERAL FREMONT, — Sir: Yours of the 8th, in answer to mine of the 2nd inst. was just received. Assuming that you upon the ground could better judge of the necessities of your position than I could at this distance, on seeing your proclamation of August 30th, I perceived no general objection to it. The particular clause, however, in relation to the confiscation of property and the liberation of slaves, appeared to me to be objectionable in its nonconformity to the act of Congress passed the 6th of last August, upon the same subject, and hence I wrote to you expressing my wish that that clause should be modified. Accordingly your answer, just received, expresses the preference on your part that I should make an open order for the modification, which I very cheerfully do.

It is therefore ordered that the said clause of said proclamation be so modified, held and construed as to conform with and not to transcend the provisions on the same subject contained in the act of Congress, entitled "an act to confiscate property used for insurrection purposes," approved Aug. 6th, 1861, and that said act be published at length with this order.

Your obedient servant,

[Signed] A. LINCOLN.

NAVAL. — The vessels now at the Charlestown Navy Yard are the ship Ino, barques W. G. Anderson, Ethan Allen, Kingfisher and steamer Curlew. The first three are in about the same state of forwardness, and will be ready for sea as soon as their armaments are completed.—The greatest pressure is now brought upon the ordnance department of the Yard.

The U. S. sloop-of-war Marion arrived at Key West on the 2d inst. from a cruise, and was in port on the 8th, receiving provisions and water.

The U. S. steamship Sumter, under the command of Commander James F. Armstrong, arrived at New York on Sunday, in thirty six days from Loando, Africa.

The U. S. storeship Nightingale, Hand, from New York, with stores for the squadron, arrived at Key West on the 5th.—She was at anchor off Fort Taylor on the 8th, and would go to sea on the 9th.

The U. S. steamship Richmond, Capt. Pope, having coaled and watered at Key West, sailed on the 5th on a cruise. It is said that she is ordered to continue her search for the Sumter.

The U. S. frigate Santee, Capt. Eagle, sailed from Key West, Aug. 31, for the Mississippi.

The Navy Department has received despatches from the Pacific Squadron to September 2d. The malignant fever, which suddenly appeared, and proved fatal to several on the flagship Lancaster, as suddenly disappeared, and the health of the ship is now good.

☞ A letter from Surinam dated Aug. 21, received in Boston, states that the privateer Sumter was then in port and was entirely destitute of coal and provisions. The letter also states that Captain Semmes had threatened to fire on the town unless furnished with supplies, and that he would remain until he received them, or as long as he pleased.

☞ The steamship Kangaroo, from Liverpool 4th and Queenstown 5th, arrived off Cape Race Saturday afternoon. The political news is unimportant. England is about to send three more regiments to Canada. Spies, in the employment of the Government at Washington, were reported to be on board of all the transatlantic steamers. Another terrible railway accident had occurred near London, by which 13 persons were killed and 50 wounded. The sales of cotton in the Liverpool market for two days were 28,000 bales. The market closing unchanged.

It is the vice of the unlearned to suppose that the knowledge of books is of no account, and the vice of scholars to think there is no other knowledge worth having.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much general suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Rheumatism, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved fruitless, merely removing the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is internal, an enemy to all sickness, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, unrivaled by the usual popular remedies, and I here recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that comes before the public, inasmuch as there have been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and persevering, thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the indisputable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Boonsboro', Md., Mch. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN,

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is in power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston.—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more entered my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

Local.

☞ While walking in the suburbs a day or two since, we spent a pleasant hour at the City Farm; and though our visit was not "official" we saw enough to interest us and to assure any one that the premises are in charge of active and efficient hands.—Superintendent Norton, under direction of the city government, has m de great alterations and improvements, out doors and in. Besides the large addition to the barn, other much needed buildings and rooms have been put up or altered, the yards graded, &c. The stock and crops look finely, and although it has cost something to do all these things, yet what would be deemed good economy in private hands, ought not to be objected to in public cases like this. The City Farm is an ornament and benefit to the city.

☞ The flag on the Arsenal at the South End is in a sad state of dilapidation. Broad stripes of the red and the white have seceded entirely, and some of the stars have forsaken their field of blue. And now its long streamers flutter in the breeze, and the whole galaxy threatens soon to be among the things that were.

☞ The U. S. sloops-of-war Constellation, Flag Officer Inman, and the Portsmouth, Commander Calboun, are both on their way to this naval station, from the coast of Africa. The latter was to sail from Loando, Aug. 8, and the former Aug. 14.

☞ The brothers Marcy, one residing in Portsmouth, and the other in New Orleans, owned jointly four ships. The Southern brother hoisted the secession flag on two, and the old stars and stripes floated over two. The fortunes of war have so turned that the two secession crafts have been seized by the United States authorities, while the Confederates have captured the two belonging to the loyal Northerner.

☞ Lieut. G. H. Cooper, Ordnance Officer at this Navy Yard, has been detached and ordered to Boston, to take command of the steame Curlew.

☞ The Boston Transcript says:—

The U. S. ship Santee has been many times reported all ready for sea at Portsmouth Navy Yard, but recently there has been entire silence with regard to her. Why does she not go?

The Santee sailed from this port on the 20th of last June! "What is in the wind?"

☞ The Boston Courier "believes" our Second Regiment, "which behaved well at Bull Run," has returned home. For the enlightenment of the Courier we would say that the Second Regiment is a portion of Gen. Hooker's brigade, and intends to remain at the seat of war "for three years, or for the war." Its record thus far is good, and it intends to keep it so. New Hampshire may be slow, but she is sure. The Courier, when it bewails the "draft on Massachusetts" should not "blow" her sister States. Parlicularly, do we trust, the Courier will not magnify its own State by dis paraging the achievements of others.

The Tribune's Washington despatch states that the rebels approached our left wing in force Monday evening and destroyed several grain ricks and other property, and poisoned a number of cattle belonging to Union farmers.

A farmer named Henderson is on trial in Alexandria for leading our men into rebel ambuscades.

Garibaldi disavows any intention of coming to this country.

The Times dispatch says that a Mr. Corbett made a reconnoissance near Munson's Hill on Monday. The rebel force there has been increased five-fold since Sunday. The fort there is very weak, and only defended by small field pieces, but a mile beyond are strong works, with heavy siege guns commanding Munson's Hill and the surrounding country. This is hid by their "bell woods," which could be removed in ten minutes; but our troops will probably not be caught in that trap.

No visitors are allowed in the Washington Navy Yard under any circumstances.

A government official on Tuesday called on F. W. Walker, the New York reporter, at Washington, and obtained the important information he had gathered up to the time he was stabbed by the secessianist whom he had aided in arresting. That part of Maryland, where he was wounded, is the hot bed of secession. He will probably recover.

☞ A dispatch from Frederick, Md., Sept. 16, says the Legislature meets tomorrow. There will not be a quorum. No secession ordinance is prepared, nor will one be passed. The Maryland secessionists have nothing to expect or hope for from the Legislature.

Not more than 25 members of the two Houses of the Maryland Legislature were at Frederick on Tuesday, the day for the assembling of the Legislature.

☞ We received last evening a long and interesting letter from our correspondent Ion, at New Orleans, under date of Sept. 5th, but it was impossible for us to publish it this morning.

☞ Mr. Wm. P. Welch, who was a quarterman and a pattern maker under Mr. Wilmarth, at a salary of $1000 per annum at the Charlestown, Mass., Navy Yard, has received the appointment of Superintendent of Ordinance at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, with a salary of $2000 per annum.

Mr. Seth Wilmarth, formerly Superintendent of Machinery in the Charlestown Navy Yard, from which position he was removed by the present administration, has been appointed Superintendent of Ordnance at that station. Both the gentlemen alluded to have been long identified with the Democratic party.

☞ Tuesday was celebrated in Philadelphia as the day of the adoption of the Constitution. There was a great parade, altho' a heavy rain storm was prevailing. Over 3000 Home Guards escorted the orator, Hon. George M. Dallas, to Independence Hall.

The Treasury Notes issued upon such certificates by the Treasury will be sent to the subscribers by mail, or such other mode as may be indicated by them when they transmit their original certificates. The duplicate certificates may be retained by them for their own security.

JOHN B. GIVENS, No. 94 Elm Street.
HOUSEKEEPERS troubled with vermin, need be so no longer, if they use "Costar's" Exterminators. We have used them to our satisfaction, and if a box cost $5, we would have it. We had tried poisons, but they afforded nothing; but COSTAR'S article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—Medina (O.) Gazette.
MORE GRAIN and provisions are annually destroyed in Grant County, by vermin, than would pay for tons of this Rat and Insect Killer.—Lancaster (Wis.) Herald.
HENRY R. COSTAR:—Your Exterminator is received, used, and pronounced a decided success. We used a box of it, and the way the Rats and Mice "raised Nell" that night, was a caution to sleepers. Since then, not a Rat or Mouse has been heard in kitchen or cellar.—Magrath (Iowa) Times.
I HAVE BEEN SELLING your Exterminator for the last year, and have found it a sure shot every time. I have not known it to fail in a single instance.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Scaly Scrofula, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OXLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. Ayer & Co. Gentlemen: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from its various ways for years, sometimes in form of Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward, and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any source. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses at a time, and only a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can not believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully. Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Stone of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me of the worst Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. R. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous uterine tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physicians thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remains."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: Sir, I shoulcheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic sores in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain if not stopped. He yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the sores healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. Another lady I had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from the poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its effects, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results will have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. A bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. FRIAR.

Jules Y. Gotchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a miserable man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Hayt, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because it was the best medicine, and say thing you make was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I know it is cured, for I feel so. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but the vast space this will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates old vital functions into vigorous action, and thus expunges diseases which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medicine of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is now to publish the fact of its superiority of its virtues. Its unrivaled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, among them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy to their subject of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the efficacy of this remedy, we need not to show them to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

HAIR RESTORATIVE

Is convinced of the fact that

It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,

Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.

"ANYBODY"

Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.,—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I was induced by Mr. Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were totally different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. ROSENHALL.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. VOLUNTEERS FOR SIX MONTHS.—We have seen a suggestion which we think worthy of attention, viz., for the President to call out a large number, say 100,000 men, for six months. Let this be in addition to the three years men.

It is said that a large number of men would join this force, who would not enlist for three years—but would be the best of men for a winter campaign.

All the forts on our sea coast might be garrisoned with such men; and they might be detailed for a great many pieces of service.

☞ The United States engineer corps is engaged in strengthening the water approaches of New York. Two hundred and sixty-two guns are being added to the number which already defend that city. The existing armament guarding the approaches to New York, make collectively a greater number of guns for the defence of the city than exists in most of the fortified harbors of Europe. Casemated water batteries and land defences are also to be erected in addition to these forts, so that New York will be very safe under any category.

SOLDIER'S BIBLE. — The American Tract Society, 150 Nassau street, New York, have published 20,000 copies of the Soldier's Pocket-Bible, first issued for the English army in the time of Oliver Cromwell, A. D. 1643. Price in paper covers, 3 cents single, $2.50 per hundred, $20 per thousand; in cloth, 5 cents single, $4 per hundred, $35 per thousand.

This is a compilation from the holy Scriptures especially adapted to Soldiers. Why should not every soldier in the army of the United States have a copy? Will not those who love the Soldier and the Country furnish the means?

GRAPE-VINE WINE.—From Mr. Foster Smith, of Newburyport, we have received a bottle of delicious, pure wine, made by himself entirely of grape leaves and shoots, after the new French process, without grapes and without alcohol. There are vine clippings in this city annually thrown away sufficient to make hundreds of gallons of good wine, whose medicinal properties may be relied on with more certainty than that of any foreign manufacture.—Herald.

A young girl was introduced to James I., who excelled even learned men in classical acquirements. "Well," said the monarch, "now tell me what this prodigy can do."—He was informed that she could read and write Latin, Greek and Hebrew. "Ah!" replied the king, "these are rare attainments for a maid—can she spin also?"—The same question propounded to-day, would have been answered, "Yes, sire—street yarn."

"May I have the pleasure of dancing the next set with you?" asked a young gentleman of a pretty, but not well-educated young lady, at a ball. "What is to be the dance, sir?" "Ditto," said the young man, referring to his programme. "Oh, you must excuse me, then," said she, "I can't dance Ditto."

Gen. McClellan having asked one of the soldiers at Washington it he remembered the Sabbath day, the lad replied that he remembered one at Bull Run very well, and thought he should never forget it. The General went home and wrote his "Special Order."

The last new thing in England is crinoline sleeves. Thus they go on. By and by we shall see women enclosed in an armor complete, with fortified breastworks and barbette guns on their bonnets. Then talk about the weaker sex!

GARDINER'S
RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIA
COMPOUND

Is a certain, safe and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Salt Rheum. It is an internal remedy, driving out and entirely eradicating the disease, requiring no change in diet or business, and may be taken by children and persons of the most delicate constitutions with perfect safety.

TESTIMONIALS.

Having been a constant sufferer from Neuralgia for eighteen months, and been driven by excruciating pain to the trial of numberless remedies without obtaining relief, I was induced to try "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound." I have taken but one bottle, and am entirely well.—D. B. BAXTER, Dry Goods Dealer, No. 5 Appleton Block, Lowell, Mass.

I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form for a long time, and suffered more than can be imagined, except by those similarly afflicted. I tried one bottle of your Compound, and can honestly say that I believe myself entire ly cured.—JOHN A. MORRO, Pearl St. House, Boston, Mass.

TESTIMONY OF JUDGE KITTREDGE OF VERMONT.—Charles F. Gardiner, Esq.—Dear Sir,—I beg leave to add my testimony in favor of "Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound."—After suffering twenty years with Rheumatism, more or less, and last year with a very severe attack, I took one bottle of your Compound, which afforded decided relief. I think it the best and most efficacious medicine for that disease I ever used.—WM. C. KITTREDGE, Fair Haven, Vt., Dec. 1st, 1859.

Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has entirely relieved me from sufferings of several years' standing.—W. E. HODGKINS, No. 1 Old State House, Boston.

My son, ten years of age, has been for three years a great sufferer from Salt Rheum, his hands covered with sores, and in constant pain. One bottle of your Compound cured him.—J. W. HAMMOND, 99 Milk street, Boston.

I certify that my friend, Wm. T. Glidden, Esq., presented me with a bottle of "Gardiner's Rheumatic Compound," in 1856, when I was suffering, with a painful attack of Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and that it proved to be of decided benefit.—ALBERT SMITH, Ex Member of Congress from Maine.

The Rheumatic and Neuralgia Compound has been taken by hundreds of persons for Scrofulous Humors with great benefit.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1861.

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., C. S. A., AUGUST 27, 1861.

Thirty years ago this month a terrific storm swept over this city, blowing many ships ashore and otherwise causing them immense damage, so that it will long be remembered as "the August gale of '31" by those at that time engaged in commercial pursuits in the Crescent City. Of course, it became necessary to repair these ships, and for that purpose twenty-five or thirty of them were taken across the river to a yard where such work had previously been done to a limited extent. The men who were employed in these repairs formed an organization, (without a name,) of which they chose Mr. James Marks president, the chief object being to collect of each visitor to the yard a "bit" (12 1-2 cents) to be applied to furnishing this model society with liquor and cigars, and there being so many ships and captains, the black mail was quite an item.

Among others, J. W. Zacharie, Esq., had two or three ships at the yard, and crossing the river to visit them was met at the yard gate by the sentinel and a demand for a bit. This he refused to pay, and was then informed he must otherwise have a permit from the president, or he could not be admitted. Mr. Marks was sent for, but proved inexorable, and Mr. Z. consented to pay, provided he might have a receipt. "Certainly!" said the obliging president, immediately writing one in due form on a piece of live oak timber, about four feet long, with a lump of chalk, "here it is Mr. Zacharie." The latter was forced to laugh, and passed over his bit with the remark that they were a d—d sight worse than the Algerines!"—"That's just it," said Mr. Marks, "we'll call ourselves the Algerines." They did so, and from this circumstance the busy settlement on the other bank of the Mississippi received its name—Algiers.

I hope we of the South will bear no more on the matter of free speech and free press, for while we hear of the suppression of newspapers in the land of Fowle,—glorious old Fowle! whose name

"———bespoke no foul servility;
His paper bore no stamp but that of liberty"— and the imprisonment, en secret, of the son of the hero of Cowpens and Eutaw, in a prison bearing the name of his father's old companion in arms—the first republican in France. Ever since the cessation of the mail service we have been obliged to express our sentiments when we wrote North.

The Marshal of this district on the 27th of July sold the schooner Mermaid for $8,300; bark Ocean Eagle for $6,800; ship Milan for $9,000, schooner Ella for $1,050; schooner John Adams, $1,150; brig Panama, $1,400; and 1,500 bags of salt at $1.56.

These were all prizes. 2890 sacks of salt, the prize cargo of the ship John H. Jarvis, sold by the C. S. Marshal, on Tuesday last, at $2.30 for coarse. The Indianola Courier says that enough salt can be gathered upon the coast marshes of Texas to supply the whole Confederacy, and the business will soon become very profitable.

Col. Geo. H. Giddings has effected a new arrangement and contract with the Confederate Government for the transportation of the mails from New Orleans to Texas, and for the continuing of his mail service on the overland route from San Antonio to El Paso, and from thence to California, by which a weekly mail communication will be secured to us with California.

The blockading squadron at this port is composed of the Niagara, Colorado, Powhattan, Mississippi and St. Louis, and appears to be somewhat more effective than that of Apalachicola, Fla.

The first bale of new cotton arrived in this city on the 10th inst., from Yazoo River; but up to the 24th, only 11 bales had been received, against 27,850 to same date last year. By the advice and request of the leading cotton factors, the planters have determined to keep their cotton at home this fall until the blockade of the Southern ports is raised.

Among other branches of industry fast being developed by the present war is that of shoemaking. Fifty-three miles from the city, on the Jackson R. R., Mr. Charles E. Cate (formerly of Gilmanton, N. H.,) has an extensive steam shoe manufactory. In connection with this he is also to have an immense tannery, making a market for hides all through this part of the country.

The manufacture of lime, a great deal of which is used in sugar-making, is actively going on.

Several persons, stimulated by the recent proclamation of President Davis, which notifies alien residents touching the necessity of removal or the announcement of their intention to become citizens of the Confederate States, have taken up their beds and walked. One is a prominent physician who, for years, has had a lucrative practice in this city.

Notwithstanding the fact that we have had rain on every day of this month, the health of the city continues excellent.—There have been one or two homicides, but the police have nearly a sinecure at present.

The Free Market is the great enterprise of the day. Held in the new iron building of the Water Works, at the foot of Canal street, it is supported by voluntary contributions, and gives relief to a large number of persons. It is open two days in the week; last Wednesday there were distributed to 1017 families, containing 2970 persons, 10 barrels mess beef, two beeves amounting to 2100 pounds, 300 pounds of codfish, 4 barrels of molasses, 30 barrels sweet and Irish potatoes, 3 tierces of rice, 20 barrels of cornmeal, 5 barrels of dried apples and peaches, 2 hogsheads of green corn, 100 pumpkins, 5 barrels of sugar, 5 barrels of onions, 4 barrels of okra, and a large quantity of beans; besides vinegar, salt, &c. Immense quantities of vegetables are furnished by planters, and transported without charge by the steamboats. A concert in its aid was given last week under the auspices of the Washington Artillery, which netted $1281, and a company of amateurs will to-morrow evening perform "London Assurance" for the same object, which from present sales of tickets will add at least $5000 more to the fund. As a gratuitous, impromptu institution, this market reflects high credit on the generosity and patriotism of the gentlemen who established it, and the planters who contribute to its support.

On the last Sabbath in July, the most imposing ceremony ever witnessed in this city, on the occasion of the presentation and consecration of flags, took place on the event of the reception of a magnificent banner by the French Legion, and its consecration in Jackson Square.

A few weeks since, the Watson Artillery, entirely fitted out at the expense of Mr. A. C. Watson, a planter of Tensas parish, who goes himself as a private, left this city for Mr. Watson's plantation, in Tensas. There they will receive their equipments, uniforms, horses, battery, &c. It is a battery of six brass rifled guns, cast in this city, and four of which are 6-pounders and two 12-pounders. All the members are creoles, and some of them belong to the first families of the French districts.

The Algiers Newsboy learns that a planter of ample means, inspired by the example of Private Watson, has written to the President, offering to raise and equip a legion of 1500 men, to be furnished with a whole park of artillery, and to be mounted as light artillery.

The Picayune thinks Barnum a mad wag for advertising a negro as "the greatest hero of this war."

Last Saturday morning a fire broke out near St. Patrick's Church, between Camp and Magazine streets, and in three or four hours burned about $40,000 worth of property—mostly rosin, glass, tar, and goods usually stored in a paint warehouse. The church was in great danger, and though the engines were called out three different times, it was not conquered until Monday morning, and I can look from the door of my room as I write and see the smoke still rising. ION.

GEN. FREMONT.—The New York Commercial Advertiser thinks that Gen. Fremont has been acting too independently of the General Government.

The Chicago Tribune fears that the military service in the Western Department is suffering from the extreme exclusiveness of Gen. Fremont.

The New York Evening Post arrays itself on the side of Gen. Fremont, in the matter of Emancipation. "No more retreats," says the editor; and the President's letter to Fremont, he considers a retreat

The time seems to be rapidly approaching, when the government must crush the slave power, or that power will crush the government.

☞ A large concourse of citizens from all parts of the State assembled at Hartford, Conn., Tuesday, to listen to Mr. Dickinson and others. Major General James T. Pratt presided, assisted by 130 Vice Presidents, representing all the political parties of the State, and the various interests and professions of the people.

Mr. Dickinson's speech was one of his best efforts, and had a powerful effect upon his audience. Senator Latham of California sent a letter of apology for his absence, which was filled with the spirit of determined patriotism. Thomas Francis Meagher, who was also expected, sent the following dispatch: "I cannot go to Hartford to day; I go to the war. Talking is over with me—fight is the word."

The Christian duty of military blunderers—Resignation.

THE REBELLION.—It is rumored that a secret military and naval expedition has left New York within two or three days past.—"It had been stated," says the Herald, "that those monster steamships— the Atlantic, the Baltic and the Vanderbilt—had been chartered by the Government for some secret naval service, at the same time that other transports had come to New York for the same purpose. The transports have suddenly disappeared, and with them as suddenly several regiments. The N. H. regiment, which was missed from its camp on Sunday, was seen to take the cars of the Long Island Railroad early in the morning, and proceeded to the terminus of the road, at the other end of the island. Everybody who witnessed this movement felt astonished. But the appearance of the Atlantic off Greenport soon solved the mystery. The troops were taken on board, and the ship steered southward. The precise destination of these regiments—in all from six to ten thousand men—is a government secret."

Thereis authority for stating that the reported proclamation of the Governor General of Cuba, recognizing the rebel flag, is spurious.

The Navy Department has cause for congratulation in the promptness and efficiency of the commandants of the several Navy Yards, all orders being obeyed with remarkable precision and expedition on each occasion.

The commanding officer of the U. S. forces at Hatteras Inlet is authorized to accept the services of such North Carolinians, not to exceed one regiment, as in his neighborhood may volunteer to take up arms for the United States, and to designate a regular officer to muster them into the service.

Prince Salam-Salm of Prussia is to be a Colonel of cavalry. He was a cavalry officer in the Schleswig-Holstein war, and made some of the most brilliant charges ever recorded.

Gen. Sturgis of the U. S. army, with one regiment of infantry and two companies of cavalry, took possession of St. Joseph, Mo. last Friday. Before the arrival of the federal troops over 5000 mounted rebels rode out of town, bound South to join Gen. Price. Gen. Pope has sent a column of 1000 men and 3 pieces of artillery, under Col. Smith, after them. There is little doubt their large train of baggage will be captured, although, being mounted, the men will escape, unless Col. Smith should surprise them.

It is reported that a battle took place at Lexington, Mo., on Monday, between the Federal forces there and Green's rebels, in which the latter were captured. This needs confirmation.

Another bridge was burned on the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, a few days since, precipitating the locomotive into the stream and killing the engineer. The Home Guards are scouring the country on all sides.

A man named Griffith, arrived at Jefferson City, Mo., states that on Saturday last, Gen. Price, with 17,000 men, had surrounded Lexington, and had sent a summons to Col. Mulligan to surrender. Col. Mulligan refused, when Price is reported to have sent back word that he would give him until Monday, at 4 o'clock, to surrender, and if he did not he would march on him with a black flag. It is confidently thought in military quarters here, that Gen. Sturgis has reached Lexington from St. Joseph, and that Gen. Price will be cut off or forced to retreat.

That portion of Kentucky lying west of the Cumberland river, has been declared under insurrectionary control. Sec. Chase has instructed the surveyor to prevent all commercial intercourse with that section, and to search all baggage and persons going thither.

Hon. G. P. Walker, the rebel Sec. of War, has resigned in consequence of bad health. His successor has not yet been appointed.

All the banks of New Orleans suspended specie payment Monday, and the Treasury notes are at par.

Only eleven members of the Maryland House answered the roll call on Tuesday. They, therefore, adjourned to the next day. Not a single member of the Senate made his appearance in the chamber.

The rebels refuse to withdraw from Kentucky, until the Federal camps are broken up.

It is reported that 6000 rebels, under Zollicoffer, went to Cumberland Ford, Knox county, Ky., on Saturday, and captured a company of Home Guards.

☞ The dress of one of the ballet girls caught fire in the dressing room at Wheatley's Theatre, in Philadelphia, on Saturday evening. Others, in attempting to extinguish the flames, were also badly burned. Five died on Sunday, and it was thought three others would.

☞ The N. Y. Day Book has suspended, and merged itself into a weekly, to be called the Weekly Caucassian.

☞ Abbe McMasters, late editor of the N.Y. Freeman's Journal, was arrested Monday, and sent to Fort Lafayette.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Dr. Luther M. Knight, of Franklin, has been designated as Surgeon of the N. H. Fifth.

—— The Manchester Light Battery, the first one in New Hampshire, is now in camp in Manchester, and will be ready for marching by the 10th of October. It was started by Capt. Samuel Webber. He has contracted with Alger's Foundry, South Boston, for the guns, four rifled 6 pounders and two 12-pound howitzers, six ammunition wagons, 1 travelling forge, one battery wagon carrying spare tools and materials for repairs, and a complete outfit of things needed, tarpaulins, saddlers' and wheelwrights' tools, leather buckets, &c.

—— Patrick Lee, an inmate of the State Prison at Concord, committed suicide by hanging, in his cell, Saturday morning, at 5 o'clock. He adjusted his pocket handkerchief about his neck, stood upon a spittoon, fastened the handkerchief to his cane, (he being lame,) which was supported by the combination of his Bible and a piece of iron he had driven into the wall, pinned his hands before him, kicked the spittoon from under him and swung, and "his soul went marching on." Warden Foss cut him down, but life was extinct. He was serving a sentence of three years for stealing, and went there last March, from Concord. He was 30 years of age.

—— The Manchester mills have a large quantity of cotton on hand which has advanced in price since it was bought, about one million dollars. That owned by the Amoskeag Co. would sell for $480,000 more than it cost; that owned by the Stark Mills $350,000, and that owned by the Manchester Mills $165,000. Sum total, $995,000. It would be a handsome profit enough if they would sell it, but they will not sell a single pound, though the advance of goods does not correspond at all with the advance on cotton. The Mirror says "they will keep it and manufacture it at a loss, compared with the sale of the raw material, for the benefit of the operatives and the people of the city depending upon the running of our mills for a support. Truly, it cannot be said of our Manchester Corporations that they 'have no souls.'"

THE FOURTH REGIMENT is about full, and will leave Manchester about the 20th inst. Gen. Sherman has telegraphed that he wishes for the men at the earliest possible moment. The regiment has Sibley's Improved Tents, said to be decidedly superior to the others in use.

—— The Fifth Regiment now has some six or seven hundred men enlisted, and will soon be full, it is said.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely removing the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can safely recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the subscriber is hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,
N. E. cor. Fine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

"Combination and a form indeed"

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

FROM BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston,—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

CONGRESS, when it meets, will probably appropriate a moderate sum for larger mechanics' shops on the Navy Yard at this station.

Probably there will also be orders for launching the Franklin, as the carpenters need that ship house, and as the Navy would like to have the Franklin afloat and at sea.

The Alabama will have to wait longer—but with some expense she would make a noble razee.

THE CENSUS.—The Exeter News Letter complains, and we repeat the complaint, that we are not able, to-day, to say how many persons there were in Portsmouth, or in Exeter, in 1860, though the census was then taken.

For the first time, the officers who took that census were instructed to keep it secret;—and they have done so.

In due time, we suppose the census, or some abstract thereof, will be published at Washington—though the rebellion and the traitors hinder almost every good thing.

☞ The prompt and efficient Quartermaster, Lieut. E. M. Webber, has resigned his position at Fort Constitution, and has been succeeded by Mr. Durkee of Croydon. Lieut. Webber, by his prompt attention to the wants of the soldiers, has won their highest regards, and carries with him their best wishes for his future success, which he is sure to merit.

LATEST.

Garibaldi's Adjutant has arrived at New York.

Companies of Wilson's reg't, on Tuesday P. M., completely shut up all outlets from Frederick, Md. No one is allowed to leave without a pass from the Provost Marshal.—Officers and members of the Maryland Legislature were arrested. The Union members met and resolved that the action of the Senators present in not assembling had virtually brought the Legislature to an end, and that they would return to their homes, and not attempt to re-assemble.

The official account of the battle at Boonville, Mo., 18th, says the federal commander dictated terms to the rebels: that they withdraw two miles from the city, and not molest any Union people, and that they leave the arms of the killed and wounded where they fell; while he promised to set their prisoners free, except one, whom he would shoot in case they failed to keep their promise for seven days. They agreed.—He had only 150 men; they had 600.—Their officers bravely led the way, but the men absolutely refused to follow. Only six of the 600 could be found to storm our works; four of these were killed. The rebels were retreating towards Price's command.

Thursday evening, a train containing Illinois soldiers, while passing over the bridge at Huron, Ind., 143 miles west of Cincinnati, fell through. There were about 100 wounded and 40 or 50 killed. It is thought the bridge was weakened by malicious scoundrels, probably rebels, as it was inspected only a short time since.

Lexington, Mo., still held out on Monday, and had been reinforced.

Great military activity prevails at Louisville, Ky. The Home Guards were out in uniform, Tuesday evening. Their destination is supposed to be Southward. Gen. Rosean's brigade had been ordered over from the Indiana side, and it was understood they were to proceed Southward.

Gen. Sickles on Tuesday night captured a rebel mail wagon.

Gen. Reynolds telegraphs that the rebels have retreated from Cheat Mountain and Elkwater. It is supposed they have joined the forces opposite Washington.

The rebels say they have 200,000 men on the Potomac.

Rebel prisoners assert that Beauregard promised the Southern and coast troops that if they would not go home, he would make a forward movement before the 20th, assuring them he would take Washington.

A deserter from the rebels states that the recent skirmishing is intended to divert attention, while Johnston crosses the Potomac above. They feared little resistance from Banks, as they have a poor opinion of his generalship.

News from Lexington, Mo., up to Saturday, shows that there had been no battle, though the federal troops had been summoned to surrender by Gen. Price, whose army is 14,000 strong. Gen. Pope would reinforce Lexington by the 18th, with 4000 men.

The Fire Zouaves have been ordered to Fortress Monroe.

REV. DR. ORIS A. SKINNER.—A letter was received in Boston on Saturday, from the son of Rev. Dr. O. A. Skinner, dated Joliet, Ill., stating that his father was very sick with typhoid dysentery, and that there was but slight prospect of his recovery.

☞ Senator Wilson's regiment, which he was to raise in Massachusetts, turns out to have twenty-three companies in it now,—and will be a Brigade in a few days.

The Levi Woodbury is owned chiefly in this city, and the captain reports that the ship "had her starboard tacks aboard" at the time, both vessels being in stays—and he does not consider the ship liable for the accident. The schooner in crossing the ship's bows carried away the ship's jib-boom and headgear. And both masts of the schooner were carried away, and she was towed into port by the ship.

On payment of each deferred instalment, the subscriber will pay, in addition thereto, a sum equal to the interest accrued thereon from the 19th August to the date of payment, and on final payment like interest on the amount paid on subscription, which payments of interest will be reimbursed to the subscriber in the payment of the first coupon.

The Treasury Notes issued upon such certificates by the Treasury will be sent to the subscribers by mail, or such other mode as may be indicated by them when they transmit their original certificates. The duplicate certificates may be retained by them for their own security.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY
THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,
Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately (for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom; every part of which will bake evenly at the same time. The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove; while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz.:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, tends also to the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience, when a quick fire is wanted.

5th. The movable ash pan, which, tho' it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added, if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

JOHN TRUNDY, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Reference can also be made to Messrs. J. M Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C. H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Cate, Nathaniel Dennett, John Harrett, Phineas Nichols, Thomas E. Call, Portsmouth; Stephen M. Weeks, Geo. W Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nahl F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite every one to examine the Stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

☞ We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the Medal Range,

Of which very many are being sold. It works well and comes cheap, and is well suited for a small family.

NEWSPAPER PAYMENTS.—Not a solitary subscriber owes us a dollar; on the contrary, we owe them four more Journals; but we are urging a plea for our exchanges, some of which have stopped, others are in a deadly drag, and many more must fall into the same condemnation, some of them losing the products of the labor of a lifetime: and all this because the men whom they have done so much to amuse and instruct and gratify, withhold the pittance of a dollar or two or three, which they could certainly pay, if they had but the will.—Hall's Journal of Health.

PARTIES.—It has been said that parties often forget their country. At the present time, this country is forgetting its parties.—It never will forgive them if they shall not be equally ready to do their duty. Parties become factions of the most odious description when they are maintained under circumstances like those that now trouble the United States. Wholesome things in prosperous times, parties ought not to bore nations when they are in for a large allowance of adversity.—Traveller.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

And for the speedy cure of the following complaints:

Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. AYER & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that anything you made must be good. I went to Vincennes and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has been driven from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully,

AL FRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Scaly Eruptions.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Erysipelas, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a long-standing Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre—a hideous swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhea or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulceration, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alternative in the numerous complaints for which we employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhea by it, and, when the disease has complicated was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female derangements."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbury, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor on one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could procure, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptoms of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

NEW ORLEANS, 25th August, 1859.

DR. J. C. AYER: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his throat, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his mouth and the ulceration had eaten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the Chancre would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla, the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfigurement in his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disease by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She, too, was cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its Mercurial wounds, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results will it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston Co., Va., 6th July, 1859.

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in the main, and restored my poor health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine. J. REAM.

Jesse Y. Gotshall, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with a pain in my side, which has almost destroyed my health. I tried every thing, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for years from no other cause than a Disease of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Popp, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and any thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best thing can be said of you is to tell poor people what it has done for me."

Scirrhous Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A variety of cases have been reported to us where cures of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy or Nervous Debility, Neuralgia.

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vital functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be scouged beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medical men of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so invariably known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unsurpassed efficacy for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the families, or even neighborhoods, in any place, who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtile and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have led to so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

HAIR RESTORATIVE

Is convinced of the fact that

It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,

Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.

"ANYBODY"

Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and with as much safety—is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. W. K. Hagan & Co.,—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought of Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bit bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will prefer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. ROSEBYRALL.

Morning Chronicle.

For the Chronicle.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO.—The thoughts contained in the ensuing beautiful lines will often suggest themselves to strangers treading the thoroughfares of a great city; amidst the multitudes "that no man can number," the "leagues of light" at night, and the "roaring of the wheels."

Where, where are all the birds that sang,
A hundred years ago?
The flowers that all in beauty sprang,
A hundred years ago?
The lips that smiled,
The eyes that wild
In flashes shone
Soft eyes upon:
Where, O where are lips and eyes,
The maiden's smiles, the lover's sighs,
That lived so long ago?

"Who peopled all the city streets
A hundred years ago?
Who filled the church, with faces meek,
A hundred years ago?
The sneering tale,
So mean, and frail,
The plot that worked
A brother's hurt;
Where, O where are plots and sneers,
The poor man's hopes, the rich man's fears,
That lived so long ago?"

There is no answer save the foot-falls of the crowd, "like the low murmuring of the sea." H.

AN OFFENSIVE CORPSE.—A soldier near Baltimore, writes to the Traveller, "A rich scene occurred a few days since. A funeral procession was passing over the Long Bridge which leads to Ann Arundel county, when the sentries became suspicious that all was not right. The procession was stopped and a demand made to see the corpse. The female mourners objected, saying that the corpse was offensive, but the solders said they were used to such sights. The coffin was open and found to contain fire-arms and ammunition. If they resort to such tricks as this, they must not object to having their houses searched.—The female mourners were found to be men in disguise."

☞ Gen. Rosencrans, in his dispatch to the War Department, states that being unable to pursue Floyd and his larcenous squadrons across the river, he sent them a few rifled cannon shot, to "produce moral effect." We know of no one more in need of having "moral effect" produced upon him than Floyd.

☞ Gen. McClellan has ordered that hot coffee be served to the troops immediately after reveille roll-call, to guard against the effects of malaria. Competent medical authorities attribute the almost universal good health of the British troops in East India to their partaking of hot coffee early in the morning, before they attend to any kind of duty.

☞ "Madame Charlotte Varian," the charming cantatrice, has returned to Boston from a tour through the British Provinces. No foreign artist has appeared for years that gave more satisfaction and delight to an audience than did Madame Varian at her concerts last season.

There is war in Kentucky, but by no fault of the Union men, and by no fault of the U. S. Government. The Union men have borne everything in their power to keep peace in this State, and the U. S. Government has done nothing to make them change their position, or to change it for them. It has respected the course adopted by them, and promised to do nothing to thwart them in it.—Louisville Journal.

☞ The extensive and numerous failures, in all the great cities, will call for a United States Bankrupt Law. Congress can easily re-enact the former act, with such variations as they see fit to make.

☞ Our columns are so entirely filled with the news of the day, that we cannot find room for many literary or miscellaneous favors sent us, by our correspondents—which under our usual circumstances, would be much valued by us.

☞ A law suit in the New Jersey Courts, known as the "Mecken Will Case," has been settled by mutual consent of the parties after paying fees to the amount of forty thousand dollars!

☞ The Philadelphia Councils have passed a resolution recommending that citizens in the future close their places of business at 4 o'clock, to enable all capable of bearing arms to drill for the defence of that city.

☞ General McClellan married Nellie, daughter of Randolph Maury, of the army, about three years since,—a lady well known in Hartford, Conn.

The principal star in the Southern constellation appears to be the loan star, but at present nothing indicates its ascendancy.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1861.

TO THE PATRONS

OF THE

GAZETTE AND THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.

Since the last issue of the Weekly Chronicle, we have united the title of the N. H. Gazette to our own,—as appears to-day; and some reasons for this are given on our first page. As to the causes for the suspension of the old Gazette as it has been, —it is easy enough to assign many; but the late publisher gives the cause in brief—lack of patronage. With that, and with the whole past, we have nothing to do—our business is with the present.

To the subscribers of the Rockingham Chronicle, we have only to say, that we do not design any material change in our paper—only to make it still more truly and really Independent of all Party bias, even than heretofore, if possible. The old name of N. H. Gazette we shall be proud to maintain; and that certainly need not be objected to.

We also send a copy of this paper to most of the subscribers of the Gazette—many of whose names have been already transferred to our list by their own order, and as many more of which we shall be happy to receive, as desire our paper. It will be seen that the late publisher of the Gazette announces that he will refund the money, or furnish any other paper desired, wherever advance payment has been made for the Gazette; and applications for the continuance of the Gazette in such cases, may be made either at the old Gazette or the Chronicle Office. We shall be pleased to furnish the Gazette to advance-paying subscribers, but don't want any others—they would kill any paper. And after this number, our paper will be sent only to those on the old Gazette list, who may notify us of their wish to receive it.

To those readers (or rather subscribers) of the old Gazette, who have been "acquainted" with the Weekly Chronicle, we have only to address ourselves as above, in common with our own subscribers. To any of them who do not personally know our paper, we ask only a fair perusal and trial. "Examine first," at any rate, for yourselves; "and then condemn" and refuse us, if you must.

We have also inserted to-day, most of the Advertisements for which the Gazette had unfinished contracts; and shall hope this arrangement, (whereby advertisers will receive the benefit of the united circulations of both papers, to considerable extent,) may be mutually satisfactory and beneficial. Our Weekly rates, for the balance of this year, at least, will remain the same as the Gazette's have been. In a short time, we shall enlarge our Weekly paper, and make whatever other changes we can for the joint benefit of ourselves and our patrons. Meantime, we give greetings to all readers—and let us see what we shall see.

From the Newburyport Herald.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, that has been published in Portsmouth for one hundred and six years, has connected with the Chronicle, that is ten years old, and hereafter the Gazette name will take the lead. We are glad that it is not to disappear. Somehow we come to reverence old things as we grow older ourselves. A newspaper has a sort of life, like a family, and we come so to regard it. In youth we are apt to look upon all men alike: we say a man is a man, without regard to his connections; and he is no more and no less a man whether he had any ancestry or has any descendants known to the world or not. As we grow older we see that this independent existence is a myth, that every person has connection with other men, and partakes of their nature, and is somewhat dependent upon them for the place he fills. Hence we regret to see an old family run out. The new ones, unknown to fame, may perish, but these, well established for mind and character and a long list of good acts, we desire to have remain.

The same with newspapers. We have seen those of yesterday fall as the imperfect fruit falls from the tree before its time, and mourned them no more; but when it was announced that the old Gazette was to discontinue, we felt sad, and if a paper had been passed to us to keep it moving, though we never subscribed for it, and did not even exchange, we should have contributed at once. When a newspaper has lived a century, we know there has been something in it that merited life, or it would not have been so; and that fact will induce those who have it to day to keep up its character. We think of it, too, in its record—its pages have daguerreotyped the face of the country and the life of the nation, and the history of the world, just as time left the impression in its passage; we turn back and it tells us the tale of the colonies in the French and Indian wars; of the revolution, when we sundered from the mother country; of the history of every President from Washington down.

No, no; nobody wants to see the old Gazette die; we should feel about it, as we should to see the extinction of the old families, like the Winthrops, Adamses, Saltonstalls, and the like, who have come down from early times. Though we might never agree with them, we don't want them to run out; and so we feel about such old landmarks as the Gazette.

The Louisville, Ky., Courier is excluded from the mails.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Fifth regiment is composed of one company from each county in the State. Nearly seven hundred men are enlisted and the camp will be opened at Concord in a few days The Lieut. Colonel is Edward J. Conner, of Exeter, a graduate of West Point, four years in active service, a gallant and accomplished officer. He is lately from Washington Territory, where he has been stationed. Major, William W. Cook, of Derry. Maj. Cook was seven years a commissioned officer in the Boston Light Infantry, has been a Lieut. Col. in the Volunteers, and has the reputation of being one of the best military men of the State. The Adjutant is not yet detailed, but will probably be Lieut. Richard E. Cross, brother of the Colonel, who is now in the U. S. Engineers, at Fort Pickens.—The Quartermaster is Lieut. Webber, late of Fort Constitution. Surgeon Dr. Luther M. Knight, of Franklin. Asst. Surgeon, John Buckman of Lancaster. Chaplain, Rev. Mr. Wilkins, of Lisbon. Mr. Wilkins has served in the U. S. Army. The Captains are nearly all of considerable military experience. Richard Welch has been appointed for this county. Nearly all the Lieutenants are selected.

—— The Governor and Council have appointed as Field Officers of the 6th regiment, the following gentlemen: Oscar A. Mack, Colonel; Nelson Converse of Marlborough, Lieut. Col.; Tilsston A. Barker of Westmorland, Major. Colonel Mack is a graduate of West Point, and is, at present, in command of Artillery, in Gen. Rosecrans' Division. Lieut. Col. Converse is a man of decided military tastes. Major Barker has seen service with the 2d Regt, as Captain of the Cheshire Guards. It has also been determined to raise an Eighth Regiment, and J. Hawkes Fearing, Jr., of Manchester, has been appointed its Colonel. Voted to purchase three thousand rifles, if they can be obtained. The Sixth Regiment will rendezvous at Keene; Abbott's probably in Manchester, and the Eighth undoubtedly at Nashua or Manchester.

—— There were 1052 men in the camp of the Fourth Regiment at Manchester, Wednesday. Their uniforms are ready, and will be furnished as soon as they mustered in, which work is now in progress.

—The Governor and Council have determined to authorize the immediate raising of another company of Sharpshooters in this State. There were nearly 250 applications made for admission to the ranks of the first company, nearly all of them by men who could "pass the string test." So that the 100 taken being deducted, there is material for another company of riflemen from the Old Granite State. On the arrival of the first company at Washington the following was sent by telegraph from Washington to Governor of N. H.:—"Much pleased with your Company of Sharpshooters. Send another as soon as possible. Simon Cameron, Sec'y War."

—— The Independent Democrat says the War Department has authorized Gen. J. H. Gage to raise another Regiment in this State.

—— Capt. Ira Mc. L. Barton of Newport, has received authority from the War Department to raise another battery of Light Artillery in N. H. He has now 40 men.

☞ Two young men recently accomplished the journey on foot from Boston to the White Mountains and back. They were dressed in an easy Zouave costume, carried knapsacks, with twenty-five pounds of baggage each, were gone twenty-four days, walked four hundred and thirty-five miles, sailed thirty miles on Lake Winnipiseogee, camped out every night, lived on vegetable diet; did not ride a step, sleep in a bed, walk on a railroad, nor drink a drop of anything but water and milk. The last day, on the return route, they walked from this city to Boston, fifty-four miles. Altogether they had a good time, and suffered only from "a series of sore toes," at first.—The whole expense of the trip was $5.81,—$2.03 of which was for tolls, fare on the boat, etc. They gained much in strength and muscle,—one of them, however, losing one pound in weight, the other ten or eleven, during the trip. They bivouacked on one occasion on the top of Mt. Washington, and, while on the way, wherever night overtook them.

☞ The pony express brings advices from San Francisco to the 4th inst. $600 have been subscribed there for Parson Brownlow. The State Election, which was in progress when the express left, excited a great deal of interest. It was confidently expected that the Republican ticket would be elected. The steamer of the 31st for Panama, had $1,000,000 in treasure. Reports had been received of the massacre of an emigrant train of 100 persons, by the Indians on the Northern route. The gold mines in British Columbia are said to be yielding very richly—some claims as much as $300 to $500 per day.

☞ Ex-Gov. Baker declines to be a candidate of the Union party of Iowa for Governor, as there is a regular candidate of the Republican party in nomination, and he is unwilling to divide the vote of loyal men.

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.

This letter [published yesterday] was sent by the Adams Express, on the 27th ult., but was returned from Kentucky with all which left here after the 22d. I write now in a spirit of the blindest faith, for I am as unconcious how it will go as A. L.'s officials are supposed to be.

Since the 30th July there has been but one day without rain. Cotton and cane grow like mushrooms, and of the latter there is a promise of a large yield, but if the wet weather continues 'twill destroy much of the cotton.

Texas, Tennessee and Alabama are supplying us with large amounts of new flour, and we butter our bread with the products of Virginia dairies.

The brilliant victories of Manassas and Oak Hill have given a further quickening to the flaming enthusiasm of our people in their cause, though it was ardent enough before. The capture of Fort Hatteras is looked upon as a fortune or misfortune of war—for no side expects uniform success.

The scanty supply of ammunition (20 rounds) furnished that important post is severely censured.

There is a rumor that the Federals have landed a force at the Head of the Passes of the Mississippi and commenced to erect a fortification. If it be so it will be a more effectual blockade than their ships have been.

Five hundred Texans arrived here last week, having marched over three hundred miles through a country destitute of roads, bridges and settlements. They say there was "no chance for a fight there," so they came in search of one.

Business is improving slightly, so that others beside military tailors and gunsmiths can get work. The paper mills run night and day, yet still the supply is scant. Up to the 31st August there had been received in this city 57 bales of new cotton against 36,670 at the same time last year.

The last thing in the fruit line here is a supply of splendid pine-apples grown at Biloxi, Miss. We have also the blooming pomegranates, which are said to be as fine in this city as they are in the Spanish province of Andalusia, which was at all times so much renowned for its groves of pomegranate trees, that the magnificent city which was its capital received the name Granada from the Moors.

The good people of Cape Cod will no more fear the "pirate" Jeff. Davis, as that staunch little craft was lost on San Augustine bar on the 18th ult. All her guns but two small ones were saved, and a new privateer will be immediately sent out with the same officers and crew.

I would like to know whether you are all dead or alive down there, or in Fort Lafayette, as I have heard nothing since May 31st.

21-32 of ship S. E. Pettigrew were sold for $13,500 (she cost $82,000); Capt. Burdick has beaten the man in two courts and has a trial in a third court next Saturday, he contending 'twas no sale. ION.

HON. CALEB CUSHING has made a speech at Salisbury, Mass., in which he goes in favor of the Union, of the war, and of the government and administration. He says:

Would to God that all would feel it their duty to support the administration in this hour of trial. Much as I resisted the present administration as it was coming into power, I here declare, that I have from the 4th of March, 1861, sunk all opposition.—And let me tell you but one thing remains to the United States, and that is to conquer victory. In such a time as this to talk of political parties is not the thing. Party now is but the dust in the balance, the foam on the wave, in comparison with Union and victory.

☞ Col. Jameson, of Maine, the Democratic Union and War candidate for Governor, is on his way to Washington, to be a Brigadier General. His party will now hold the Democratic organization in the State of Maine, if they please, as they are the largest half of it.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press defies the editor to "point to an illustration of a 'Douglas man' and a traitor beneath the same skin."

☞ Boatswain Wm. Black, of this city, who was obliged by ill-health to leave the U. S. ship Santee, has so far recovered as to report for shore duty, and has been ordered to New York; as has also Carpenter Jenkins, of this city, who recently came home in the Sabine.

☞ Among the Volunteer Naval Officers who have passed examination before the Board at New York, are Acting Master G. D. Lester, and Acting Lieut. G. A. Trundy, both of Portsmouth, N. H.

☞ Rev. Dr. Burroughs will officiate at the State street Methodist church on Sunday next.

☞ Rev. Mr. Eddy is to preach at Newington next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

☞ The U. S. District Court held a routine session of a few hours in this city on Tuesday, Judge Harvey presiding.

THE MASSACHUSETTS CONVENTION of the Democratic party, met at Worcester on Wednesday. The attendance was much smaller than usual, (128 towns only being represented,) the western part of the State sending very few delegrates.

The delegates from Boston and vicinity were generally in favor of making party nominations, and, being in the majority, carried the day. An informal ballot for Governor gave Isaac Davis of Worcester 479 votes to 340 for Edwin C. Bailey of Boston. Mr. Davis was then nominated by acclamation, and Mr. Bailey was nominated for Lieutenant Governor in the same way. A "peace" motion, introduced by Hon. Samuel Wells of Boston, was indefinitely postponed by the close vote of 134 to 126.

The Boston Post approves the resolutions, and speaks well of the nominees as reliable democrats, but thinks the nominations will not benefit the party, and wishes they never had been made.

THE U. S. SHIP "SANTEE" is named by mistake, instead of the "Sabine" on our second page to night. We learn that some movements of two of the officers of the vessel last named, occasioned much comment in Portsmouth a few days ago, and it is reported that their indiscretion delayed the ship. The Santee is now doing good service at the South, and we hope soon to hear that the officers of the Sabine are equally efficient.

The Boston Transcript, from which we take the above, must have been misinformed. There is but one opinion expressed in this city in regard to the officers of the Sabine, so far as we have been enabled to ascertain—and that is exceedingly complimentary. The Sabine sailed as soon as wind and weather permitted—one day after she was ready.

☞ Steamship Europa, bringing two days later European intelligence, arrived at Halifax Wednesday. There is but little news. Affidavits have been sent to America, proving that Serrill had no political mission from England. The money found on him was intended only for business purposes. The sales of cotton at Liverpool were 78,000 bales for the week, the market closing firm at an advance of 1-3d. Breadstuffs had also advanced in price. Consols were one-eighth higher.

THE CLAM BAKE at the Sagamore House, Wednesday afternoon, was a new, novel thing to most people in this vicinity; and a large crowd of gentlemen enjoyed the occasion greatly. In a huge hole between two boulders, at Frost's Point, a smart fire was kept up for hours; and when the rocks were hot as—could be, a heap of rockweed, wet from the shores, was thrown on the coals; and bushels of green corn, clams and oysters, (all unshelled, of course, —and by the way, what a difference there was between shelling the bivalves and the grain!) were thrown in, and the whole covered with seaweed, on top of which another fire was built. In one hour or so, the whole was done, and being undone from the steaming pit, was distributed among the eager crowd, by the shovel-full, being thrown upon the grass! A nice tent stood near, at which was furnished to each comer, a mug containing a hot and decidedly palatable mixture of melted butter, vinegar and pepper, into which were dipped the fish as opened by each. A barrel of crackers also stood at the door; and as the jovial company, seated or standing round upon the grass or ledges, cracked jokes, fish and biscuit alternately, we thought we never witnessed a better illustration of "Clam Shell Corner" than this.

Besides the feast, there was plenty of rolling ten-pins in the allies, pitching quoits, boat-sailing, &c.; and as the party dispersed, the setting sun presented a splendid appearance, and the beautiful yacht Viking lying at anchor near, with several vessels passing in and out the harbor, made up a delightful scene.

Everybody enjoyed themselves, and when Mr. Merrill has another Clam-Bake, and a Barbecue, both of which we learn he will do soon, all the knowing ones will want to be there. We shouldn't want to miss it—although we did singe our fingers and mouth a little in eating those piping hot clams.—And who wouldn't eat such clams, and such oysters, and such corn—why, despite the charcoal all over them, there wasn't a bit of dirt or grit in the whole batch; and the flavor was delicious, cooked in this salt steam; and everything was tender as could be.

A mutiny in one of the Maine regiments, originating in the idea that they enlisted only for three months, was quelled by a detachment of the New York 38th regiment. Some hundred refused to do duty, but were arrested.

The Tribune's dispatch says that the Cabinet session, Wednesday, was on the report from St. Louis by Gen. Meigs and Postmaster Blair.

The World's dispatch says there is a strong pressure on the government for the removal of Gen. Fremont.

It is announced that General Braxton Bragg has been appointed Confederate Sec. of War, vice J. R. Walker, resigned.

THE REBELLION.—After 54 hours confinement, the officers of the Maryland Legislature were allowed their liberty on taking the oath of allegiance. All accepted except John A. Brewer, the Reading Clerk, who refused, and was sent off with nine members to Annapolis. At 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon there was not a member of the Legislature in the city, all having left for home. The great body of secession members did not make their appearance in the Legislature.

Hereafter communications between the British Government and its Consuls in ports of the insurrectionary States, will, with the consent of our government, be carried on by means of British vessels of war.

The Kentucky Legislature has passed a vote calling upon Gen. Anderson to take the load in expelling the confederates from the State.

The Committee of a Philadelphia Hose Company have arrived at Washington, to tender the use of their steam engine to the Government.

A dispatch from Darnestown, Md., 16th, a scouting party on Saturday saw three regiments of rebel infantry drilling on the spot where the Rhode Island battery, a few days ago, shelled out a rebel encampment, in the direction of Leesburg. A negro informed the scouts they were Mississippians, while a fourth regiment had mutinied and disbanded. There are no other bodies of rebels in that section, and great distress would soon ensue to both their army and familier, unless a supply of salt, coffee, &c., was obtained. These scouts saw not a living being except the negro. The wheat had been harvested, but cornfields were drying up and overgrown with weeds.

It was thought highly probable that Johnston would endeavor to cross the Potomac in the neighborhood of the mouth of the Monocacy, with the expectation that the rebels in Baltimore and the lower part of Maryland would raise the rebellion flag, and divide and weaken the Union army. Either this movement or the abrupt abandonment of the whole line of the Potomac, appears inevitable from causes well known to military authorities.

GEN. PRICE REPULSED.

Gen. Price maintained a severe attack on the federal forces under Col. Mulligan, at Lexington, Mo., throughout Monday. He assaulted the works, and was repulsed, with great loss to himself. He renewed the fight on Tuesday, but feebly.

When the courier who brought the news left, Gen. Lane was at Johnstown, Bates Co, with 2000 to 3000 federal troops, marching to the relief of Lexington. The rebel loss on Monday is reported to be 4000; the Federal, 800. Probably exaggerated.

Other federal troops were being rapidly conveyed from St. Joseph and other points to re-inforce Lexington; they number about 6000 troops, and would reach L. on the morning of the 18th. Every confidence was felt that Col. Mulligan would be able to hold Lexington until they arrived.

Osage Bridge, 11 miles east of Jefferson City, Mo, on the Pacific Railroad, is said to be the point threatened by the rebel forces, under McCulloch, which were believed to be advancing rapidly from the South.

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 6, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston.—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, so had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

WAR.—WAR on Rats, Roaches, and on all kinds of Vermin.

Boonsboro', Md., Mch. 21, '61.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, which has ever been brought before the public. Yours truly, F. H. IRWIN.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as remedies.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decidedly inflammatory nature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in more cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every recent case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist, N. E. cor. Fine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons, and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

U. S. LOAN NOTICE.

Pursuant to instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, a book will be opened on the SIXTEENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER,

At the Piscataqua Exchange Bank,
IN THIS CITY

For subscriptions under my superintendence for Treasury Notes, to be issued under the act of July 17, 1861. These notes will be issued in sums of fifty dollars, one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, one thousand dollars, and five thousand dollars each, dated 19th August, 1861, payable three years after date to the order of the subscriber or as directed, and bearing interest at the rate of 7 3-10 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually; such interest being at the rate of two cents for each day on every hundred dollars. For the convenience of the holder, each note will have coupons attached expressing the several amounts of semi-annual interest, which coupons may be detached and presented for payment separately from the notes.

Subscriptions for such Treasury Notes will be received during fifteen days from the day of opening the books as aforesaid. No subscription for less than fifty dollars nor for any fraction of that sum can be received. Subscriptions of fifty dollars or one hundred dollars must be paid in full in coin of the United States at the time of subscribing. Subscriptions of more than one hundred dollars may be paid at once; or, if preferred, one hundred at the time of subscribing and one-third of the whole amount on every twentieth day thereafter until the whole shall be paid. No payment of less than fifty dollars can be accepted, that being the smallest sum for which Treasury notes can be issued.

Certificates will be granted in duplicate to subscribers for the amounts so paid, the original of which the subscriber will transmit by mail to the Secretary of the Treasury, when Treasury Notes, as aforesaid, will be issued thereon to such subscriber or his order, carrying interest as stated in such certificate; but in cases where only a part of the amount is paid for at the time of subscribing, Treasury Notes will be issued only for the payments made subsequently to the first, which will remain until the whole amount subscribed by such person shall be paid, when Treasury Notes will be issued for such first payment also. On payment of each deferred instalment, the subscriber will pay, in addition thereto, a sum equal to the interest accrued thereon from the 19th August to the last payment, and on the last payments like interest on the amount paid on subscription, which payments of interest will be reimbursed to the subscriber in the payment of the first coupon.

The Treasury Notes issued upon such certificates by the Treasury will be sent to the subscribers by mail, or such other mode as may be indicated by them when they transmit their original certificates; duplicate certificates may be retained by them for their own security.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

In introducing a new Cook Stove, of singularly novel construction and arrangement, it is proper that we speak of its merits.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven which is the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or by the removal of a simple plate; in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 2 ft. long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. The permanent extension of the stove cost no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and evenly heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves, but will barely allude to them, viz.:

1st. The double plates each side of the fire prevent any leak of ashes into the oven and make the stove more durable.

2d. The admission of external air between these plates, for the ventilation of the roasting oven, makes a sort of the preservation of the plates most exposed to destruction.

3d. The durable dump grate, with the ash box of ample size to receive the ashes and coals, is an attractive feature of the stove.

4th. The draft door, at each end of the fire box, is a great convenience, when a quick fire is wanted.

5th. The movable ash pan, which, tho' it forms a hearth to the stove, need not be used except once or twice a day for taking up and carrying away the ashes.

6th. The stove has but one damper, and but one division of flues on the back of and under the oven, ensuring a very quick bake.

7th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added, if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

JOHN TRENDY, Esq., one of our most practical and scientific mechanics, who has had large experience in the construction of stove patterns in years past, and has for many years been using one of the Stewart Stoves, has purchased one of the MODEL COOKS, and after a fair trial pronounces it far superior to the Stewart or any stove he has ever seen, for economy, convenience and dispatch.

Reference can also be made to Messrs. J. M. Mather, N. N. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C. H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Cate, Nathaniel Dennett, John Harrett, Phinehas Nichols, Thomas E. Call, Portsmouth; Stephen M. Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We have nought to say against any other stove, believing that a man can sell his own goods without depreciating his neighbor's; but this we do say, that we honestly believe this is the best stove that can be found in the world; and what is more, we think others will agree with us after a trial of it. We invite every one to examine the Stove, whether they wish to purchase or not.

HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE

HAIR RESTORATIVE

Is convinced of the fact that

It Will Restore the Natural Color of the Hair,

Where age or sickness has turned it gray, and that it will render it soft and glossy.

"ANYBODY"

Who may try it, will find that it does not color the skin, but by stimulating the natural secretions at the roots, gives new life and strength to the Hair, and thus restores its color and freshness. It can be used as freely as water upon the scalp, and with as much safety—it is composed of oil and stimulating spirits, and as an article of the toilet has no equal.

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 1, 1859.

Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co.—I hereby certify that my hair having become gray, and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bit bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use, my hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling, and gave it a healthy, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any hair preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends, who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the very best and cheapest hair preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WM. BOSSHALL.

THE SEIZED VESSELS.—The New York World reports that Hon S. P. Chase, Secretary of the Treasury, has addressed a letter to Collector Barney, directing him to permit the rebel interest in vessels loading or loaded to be bonded and the vessels to depart on their respective voyages. The World adds, ship owners will be thankful for this favor, but it would appear there is no good reason why this rule should not apply to all vessels in which known loyal owners have a majority in interest.

When the traitor Magoffin by his wiles caused the Kentucky legislature to hesitate in its loyal course, Kentucky stocks fell to 74. When the legislature proved its indomitable loyalty by calling upon the government to defend the state against the attacks of the insurgents, Kentucky stocks rose at once to 78 a 79. The people have confidence in Kentucky in the Union. They grow suspicious of her when she stands on the verge of disunion. They would not trust her for a cent out of the Union.—American.

☞ All the tribes in the Indian Territory have "seceded." They number about 140,000. They will henceforth receive no more annuities from the government, nor receive their lost trust fund, nor obtain the payment of any more treaty debts. Congress, at the next session, will repeal all the acts by which they hold lands. So much for the Indians.

Of the Government loan not less than thirty-five millions of dollars in gold have been already paid in by the people. Our latest accounts from Richmond, which are to the 11th inst., tell us that six hogsheads of tobacco have been paid in on account of the Confederate loan, but that more was expected.

WARRANTED SAFE IN ANY CLIMATE. "I have joined the Home Guard," said Mr. F. "What for?" said Mrs. F. "When so many of our soldiers are away, madame," said Mr. F., "our country needs some safe guard." "Well," said Mrs. F., "you have joined the safest Guard I know of!"

IN a conversation with a military friend, Dr. Tyng lately repeated the statement made in his sermon, that the battle had been lost because it was fought on Sunday. "But," said the Colonel, "it was won by the rebels. Wasn't it just as wrong for them as for us?" "Hm," said the divine, "I didn't think of that."

☞ Richard Shay was killed in Boston after midnight, Tuesday night, in a barroom fight in the groggery of one Joseph Bolles, at the North End. Nine men went into Bolles' den at 1 o'clock at night, drank, and refused to pay: fight ensued, and Bolles used a club, which probably broke Shay's head.

☞ Parson Brownlow, in his Whig, of the 7th, says though obliged to give news hereafter instead of opinions, his principles are unchanged, and he holds Secession to be as great a heresy as ever. His position is a forced neutrality.

☞ A few days since Gen. Johnston came to Munson's Hill, and with a powerful glass, looked at one of our new works near Alexandria. He left, shaking his head, which was regarded among the troops as indicating no desire to make an attack there.

☞ Not having received our copy of the Marblehead Ledger for a few weeks, we wrote to ask the editor if it was dead; and we are glad to be assured that it is "not dead yet." It never ought to die—and we hope it will live till it catches up with the N. H. Gazette in years.

☞ Gilmore's celebrated band has been engaged to accompany Col. Stephenson's Mass. Regiment to the war. The band will consist of sixty-eight pieces, including twenty drummers and twelve buglers.

☞ Enlistment is growing brisker daily in New York. Twenty regiments forming in the State have an aggregate of 9000 men.

☞ The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows met on Monday, in Baltimore. No seceded States were represented; but a quorum was in attendance.

☞ John Ross, the veteran and wise Chief of the Cherokees, refuses all alliances and affiliations with the Rebels.—Most of the Indians have joined him.

☞ Within about a year and a half the Mechanicks Bank in Newburyport has lost four directors and a clerk by death.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1861.

FROM N. H. 2d REGIMENT.

HOOKER'S BRIGADE, CAMP UNION, Near Bladensburg, Sept. 14th.

Messrs. Editors:—In your paper of the 12th you notice the promotion of Lieut. Sayles of Co. D, to a Captaincy in Co. K. The statement is correct, but Capt. Sayles is in command of Co. D, and Lieut. Sides in command of Co. K.

Our Regiment has been paid off. We were the last company and received our pay this morning, and, as would be supposed after being without money for some time, the Gold and Treasury notes circulate freely. Our camp being situated close to the road from Washington, we have plenty of opportunities to spend our money, as the road is full of pedlers selling everything from revolvers down to pea-nuts. It looks like Portsmouth Plains in time of the old musters.

There is but little drunkenness in the Brigade, considering the number of men and the facilities the men have for procuring liquor. It can be had by the quantity of the pedlers that are all the time in and around the camp.

There are but three Regiments of our Brigade left; the 1st Massachusetts left their camp last Monday, with five days rations, and marched for the shores of the Potomac. But their destination and object I have not been able to find out.

Our Regiment has been furnished with rifle muskets, which are a great advantage over the old smooth bores, we left Portsmouth with. We have shot them at a target at three hundred yards and are perfectly satisfied with them. They are sighted for five hundred yards, but will throw much further. And the next time we meet the rebels, I hope we shall be able to prove the difference between the two kinds of arms.

Our Regiment has sent home about $7000 in drafts and by express,—about eight hundred of which was sent by company K.—Our wants here are but few, and if we are called into action it will be much more satisfactory to know that our money is at home safe, than it would be to have it with us on the battle-field. We are under marching orders, with two days' rations cooked, and likely to be ordered off at any moment.

Since I wrote you last, about eighty recruits for our Regiment have arrived. We have eight for our share, and under the instructions of Lieut. Sides, they are progressing finely and promise to make good soldiers. Our company numbers now 81, rank and file, including four prisoners of war at Richmond, who are still retained on our roll, with the expectation that they will some day return to their company; or, if not, to their friends,—for if they are released on parole not to take up arms against the Southern Confederacy, they will be discharged. Yours, C. E. F., Co. K.

NAVAL. The Navy Department has accepted propositions for the construction of iron-clad vessels.

Within a few days the Navy Department has made some changes in the officers of the squadron. Capt. Wm. W. McKean, of the Niagara, has been appointed Flag Officer of the Gulf, in place of Capt. Mervine. Flag Officer Stringham having asked to be relieved from the command of the Atlantic squadron, Capt. D. M. Goldsborough has been appointed to succeed him. The squadron has been divided, and Capt. Goldsborough assumes command of the northern division, embracing the coasts of Virginia and North Carolina. Capt. S. F. Dupont has been appointed Flag Officer of the Southern Atlantic Squadron.

The new Flag Officers being juniors to some of the captains now on duty, other changes are rendered necessary. Com. Missroon has been ordered to the Savannah, vice Capt. Hull, detached. Capt. Marston has been detached from the Cumberland and ordered to the steam frigate Roanoke, vice Capt. Nicholson, detached. Capt. Chauncy has been detached from the Susquehanna, and Capt. Lardner appointed to that ship. Com. Chas. H. Davis, has been detached from special duty at the Navy Department and appointed Captain of the fleet of the Southern Atlantic Squadron.—Com. Percival Drayton has been ordered to special duty in the Southern Atlantic Squadron; Lieut. C. R. P. Rogers to the steam frigate Wabash, flag-ship of Southern Atlantic Squadron; Com. W. Livingston has been ordered to the Cumberland, vice Capt. Marston transferred; Com. Wm. Smith has been ordered to the frigate Congress; Com. Pendergast has been appointed Commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard; Com. A. S. Baldwin to the Receiving Ship at Boston; Com. J. M. Frailey to the Philadelphia rendezvous; Com. Thomas Turner has been detached from the Philadelphia rendezvous and ordered to the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The early part of the night of the 17th inst., Samuel Ham of Alton sent his son away on an errand, and soon after, all his buildings were discovered to be in flames. They were good farm buildings, and were completely consumed, with their contents, consisting of 25 tons of hay, a horse, wagon, and farming utensils. On a rock a little way from the house were some clothes and a written scrap, saying that the clothes were for his youngest son, and that he had long meditated his present action. It appears that he had sold all his property for some three thousand dollars, and had the money with him in bank bills, and which it is supposed he burned. His body has been found with the throat cut. No one was with him at the house save the boy mentioned.

—— On Saturday evening the 7th inst., George P. Whidden, a lad of sixteen, son of Dr. Whidden of Sanbornton Bridge, was returning alone from Sanbornton Square, after dark; and while he was passing thro' a piece of the woods, a man came out of the bushes and took his horse by the bridle, and demanded his money. Whidden told him he had any quantity of that, and asked how much he should lend him. The robber replied, "O a little," and thinking, perhaps, he had made an easy conquest, loosened his grip upon the bridle; at the same time, Whidden struck his horse a severe blow with his whip. The horse reared and plunged forward, breaking the robber's hold upon the bridle, and as he passed, the young man gave the robber the full force of a powerful blow on the head, with the butt of his loaded whip, the effect of which he does not know, but he feels quite sure he was not pursued.

—— Two of the new recruits sent on from New Hampshire for the Second Regiment, refused to take the oath, on their arrival at the camp. Their clothes were taken from them, and they were marched around the camp to the "Rogue's March," and finally whipped out of the camp by one of the "contrabands," amid the hoots and jeers of the soldiers. The last seen of them "they were marching down the railroad, towards Bladensburg, looking as forlorn as a hippopotamus in the desert of Sahara."

—— The Third Regiment N. H. V. was landed by the Kill von Kull at Jersey City, about midnight (Saturday night,) and proceeding by rail arrived at the Capital between 1 and 2 o'clock Monday morning.—So it cannot have gone on that "secret naval expedition."

—— The following agents for the National Loan have been designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, in this State:—Hall Roberts, Concord; Joseph H. Smith, Dover; T. H. Leverett, Keene; John S. Kidder, Manchester; Isaac Spaulding, Nashua; Samuel Lord, Portsmouth.

—— On Saturday night last, at the winding up of a dance, at one of the houses on the Dover Landing, a fight occurred between some of the parties, in the course of which, John Cassidy struck Andrew Scanlan on the head with a beer bottle, which fractured his skull and caused his death on Sunday evening. Cassidy fled and has not yet been arrested.

—— On Monday last, one of the workmen in the Printery, at Dover, named Thomas Agnew, jr., had his arm caught in a machine used in the Dye House for washing cloth, while it was in operation, by which it was badly lacerated and nearly torn from his shoulder. He was also injured internally, and little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

—— The Carroll County Fair will be held at Ossipee on the 2d and 3d of October. Ample arrangements have been made for a full exhibition of the products and agricultural capacities of the county, and it will doubtless be one which will do credit to her good farmers.

☞ Rev. Otis A. Skinner, D. D., formerly of Boston, whose illness was announced a day or two since, died Friday morning, fully conscious of his condition. He resided at Joliet, Ill., but was taken ill while on an exchange at Napierville, at which place he died. His death was very peaceful. Mr. S. was very widely known and highly esteemed, and had accomplished a great deal in the ministry. He was one of the active founders of Tufts College, collecting a large portion of the subscription to set it in motion. He was well known here, having married Angela, daughter of Rev. Sebastian Streeter.

☞ George Hartwell, living in Winchendon, Mass., poisoned his mother, wife, and sister, on Saturday of last week, with arsenic, and then took a dose himself, but did not take enough to do much harm. His mother died the same day. His wife and sister are dangerously sick, but will probably recover. He acknowledged the deed.

☞ Garibaldi's Adjutant, who arrived in this country a few days since, for the purpose of offering his services to the government, is authorized to offer, in addition, upwards of two thousand veteran Italian soldiers, with their officers.

THE REBELLION.—The War Department has issued an order to carry into effect the law of Congress by which soldiers may assign portions of their pay for the benefit of their families; the assignment to be entered upon a separate roll, according to a prescribed form, under the supervision of their immediate commanders, at the time of enlistment. The roll is to be transmitted to the Paymaster General, who will make the deductions on each pay-roll, and the paymaster of the regiment will transmit the money for distribution to those in whose favor the assignment is executed.

A proprietor of a fashionable drinking saloon was fined $25 for selling liquor to the soldiers in Washington.

Five steam revenue cutters have been contracted for by the Treasury Department.

The crew of the Harriet Lane have been discharged, and the vessel handed over to the Navy Department.

The publication of the Louisville, Ky., Courier was suspended on account of its seizure by the government. Efforts are now making to renew its publication on a different basis.

The departure of steamboats down the river is interdicted, unless a government officer accompanies them.

Cannon and other arms have been received at Louisville from the State Arsenal.

Enthusiastic Union meetings were held on Thursday in Bangor, Me., and New London, Conn.

Gen. Pope was at Hunneywe l, Mo., on Saturday 11th with 800 men. Green was encamped in the neighborhood of Florida; he determined to make a night march and surprise him; but learning that the latter had 3500 men, he sent an engine at noon to Shelbina, eight miles west, with orders to Gen. Hurlbut to send down immediately five hundred men to reinforce him, but in consequence of gross mismanagement the troops which should have reached Hunney well at 3 o'clock, did not arrive until 11 P. M., when it was too late to start that night. Another attack was planned for the next night, however, and Gen. Pope marched with his fourteen hundred men six miles over an almost roadless country, and reached Williams' Camp early on Monday morning, to find it deserted. Green having been apprised of Gen. Pope's designs, fled; his men being mounted they could not be overtaken by infantry. Gen. Pope had no cavalry. There are now no bands of rebels in the counties north of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, and but few between it and the Missouri river. About five hundred Home Guards are in the northern part of the State, and it is understood Gen. Pope had effected an arrangement for a thorough organization of the Union men of that region. In addition to putting Gen. Hurlbut and Col. Williamson under arrest for drunkenness, Gen. Pope has ordered the arrest of Lieut. Col. Blair of the 2d Kansas regiment for mutinous conduct at Shelbina, in threatening to withdraw his command if Colonel Williamson persisted in fighting when attacked at that place by Martin Green.—Col. Blair states that he never asked the favor of a contract or appointment from Gen. Fremont which was not granted.—Their difficulties are not of a private nature, but relate to charges against General Fremont for his conduct in the campaign.

The Kentucky Senate resolution was passed placing the arms and ammunition of the State under the commander of the Federal forces of Kentucky. The House passed the Senate bill to enlarge the powers of the Military Board.

A dispatch from Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 19, says, "we have no definite intelligence from Lexington to-day. Dispatches were received this afternoon from Boonville, saying it was reported and currently believed there that Lexington had been taken on Tuesday.

Two gentlemen who arrived here this evening, having left Boonville at seven o'clock this morning, entirely discredit the report. There were 4500 Federal troops at Boonville beside the Home Guards."

It is generally believed that the Government for the last two days has had under consideration the subject of Gen. Fremont's administration of affairs in Missouri.—Whatever may be the merits of the question involved, they have no reference to his proclamation, the differences concerning which were disposed of by the President's recently published letter.

It is reported that 19,000 rebels had taken possession of Nayfield, Ky., and are fortifying that place. Jeff. Thompson's force of 2300 men have moved to New Madrid.

A NEW MUSIC BOOK,

Or the New York Musical Review,

FOR NOTHING!

We have in press, and shall publish in October, "ASAPH, or THE CHOIR BOOK;" a new collection of Church Music for Singing Schools and Choirs, by Dr. LOWELL MASON. Dr. MASON'S last similar work, published in 1854, reached the enormous sale, in the first year, of over 54,000 copies, which is, we are confident, the largest sale ever enjoyed, in its first season, by any Church Music Book by a single author. The work now in press will embrace nearly all new matter, culled with great care from numerous sources, such, as it is believed, will be of the highest interest to Choirs and Singing Schools. Its Singing School Department is more extensive and complete than in any previous work, being, indeed, a complete work in itself, and forming an extensive collection of secular music, the words, as well as music, to which, are nearly all quite new. Retail price, one dollar.

We publish, also, THE NEW YORK MUSICAL REVIEW, a fortnightly journal of 16 quarto pages, including 4 pages of choice music in each number, with 12 pages of reading matter, including frequent articles from the leading musicians of the country, with all the musical news, &c., &c. Subscription, $1 per annum

In view of the present hard times, and with the purpose of obtaining a wide circulation for specimen copies of Dr. MASON'S new work, we are induced to make the following liberal offer, viz.: To every one sending us, before 1st November, one dollar, (the price of subscription to the REVIEW,) we will furnish the paper for a year, and also, as soon as issued, a copy of Dr. MASON'S new work above announced, thus giving two dollars' worth for one. Those desiring the book sent by mail, must inclose twenty-four cents, to pay postage in advance.

Mr. Henry R. Costar—Dear Sir,—Having occasion to visit a friend in Virginia, whose premises were so badly infested with Rats, that nothing could be kept out of their reach—he was, after trying various other preparations, persuaded to try your Exterminator.

The first test he gave it was in his barn; and to the astonishment of all, in the morning the floor was almost covered with dead rats. After seeing such a destruction of these horrid creatures, I have ever since recommended your invaluable preparation—and must, undoubtedly, pronounce your exterminator the most effective preparation for the destruction of Rats, Mice, Roaches, and such vermin, that has ever been offered before the public. Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combinations with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

of medicine, known as

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption, is inestimable.

Strong Testimony

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston, Mass:

SOUTH ROYALSTON, Jan. 4, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co., Boston,—Gentlemen:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, though with no belief whatever in its wonderful curative properties; and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours, BENJ WHEELER.

☞ The activity at Portsmouth and Charlestown Navy Yards is on the increase. John Tricky, Esq., of Dover, and Elisha D. Jewett, Esq., of South Berwick, Me., have received the entire lumber contracts for those yards, and are busy getting out the required stock. The lumber already delivered is said to be of a superior quality, and the railroads and steamboats are daily sending great quantities to their destination.

The Boston Post says:—"When the defection of officers of the army and navy, natives of the Confederate States, has been so large, it is gratifying to see in exceptions, cases of devoted allegiance to the Flag.—This is the case of several who are stationed here and at Portsmouth, of whom this may be justly said."

WORTHLESS BILLS.—Look out for bills on the Wolfboro' Bank, New Hampshire, which have been put in circulation in Portland within a day or two. They are worthless, the bank having failed.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says that while Gen. McClellan was examining the earthworks of Franklin's Brigade, he discovered some 500 rebels approaching, about two miles distant. Several rifled cannon were put in position, and Gen. McClellan, sighting them himself, sent about twenty shells in their midst, killing, it is supposed, a large number. Gen. McClellan then threw several shells into a new battery on Mason's Hill, surprising and causing the rebels to disappear from thence.

A deserter from Munson's Hill states that Beauregard and Johnston were both at Munson's Hill Thursday, and made a thorough reconnoisance. There are only about 1000 men at Munson's Hill, the main body being at Fairfax and Centreville. Jeff. Davis reviewed the rebel troops in person last Tuesday. He was at Munson's Hill yesterday, examining the Federal works with a glass. It is reported that 15,000 rebels had been sent to Northwestern Virginia. The rebels are expecting an attack daily by the Federals.

Col. McCunn was arrested at Willard's yesterday, his bill paid, and with his baggage sent to New York and forbidden by the commanding General from entering this military department again. Since his reprimand he has done nothing but foment discontent, hence his expulsion.

A letter from Fortress Monroe, dated the 17th, states that the frigate Roanoke and several other naval vessels were under sailing orders for the 18th, destined for the Southern coast. Another letter, dated the 18th, states that the fleet sailed that morning.

The rebels near Chain Bridge have been strengthened.

The proprietors of the National Hotel at Washington, have been fined for selling liquors to soldiers.

The Speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates was arrested on Thursday.

A recent order of Gen. McClellan declares that firing on the enemy's pickets is contrary to the usages of civilized warfare. He, therefore, orders that there shall be none hereafter, unless necessary to resist their advance or to return a fire commenced by them.

A company of infantry has been tendered the Government from the Hawaiian Islands, and accepted. It consists of American emigrants and native Islanders.

Thursday was fixed by the Richmond papers for an advance by Beauregard on Washington, but up to noon there were no signs of such a movement. The position of the two armies remained unchanged.

☞ The Navy Department has despatches from flag officer Stribling, of the East India squadron, stating that Cochin China is at war with the French, who have possession of a considerable portion of the country, and are preparing for a vigorous campaign.

They also state that Com. Schenck had fully vindicated the insult of the Chinese of firing on the Saginaw, and no further action was required.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL

A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF

INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.

Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.

Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in acute pains, lameness, and lumbago, and other forms of this character.

Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.

The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever.

It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.

It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits to be derived from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.

The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist, N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.

This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

On payment of each deferred instalment, the subscriber will pay, in addition thereto, a sum equal to the interest accrued thereon from the 19th August to the date of payment, and on final payment the interest on the amount paid on subscription, which payments of interest will be reimbursed to the subscriber in the payment of the first coupon.

The Treasury Notes issued upon such certificates by the Treasury will be sent to the subscribers by mail, or such other mode as may be indicated by them when they transmit their original certificates. The duplicate certificates may be retained by them for their own security.

PORTSMOUTH ATHENÆUM.

This institution, which has been incorporated forty-five years, has been in gradual upward progress from its commencement to the present time. The first few years of its existence its few books were kept in the room over Mr. J. H. Bailey's store, now occupied by Dr. Baker. They were afterwards removed to what was then called the Fire and Marine Insurance Office, the building which the Athenæum proprietors then purchased, and it is now occupied by them; the lower room for Newspapers, and the second story for a Library room. The third story has been used for a Museum of such natural and artificial curiosities as might be contributed. For many years past no pains have been taken with this department, and the room, being rarely visited, was of little use.

The increase of Books to nearly 10,000 volumes, rendering the room in the Library inadequate for their proper reception, the Directors the present season have been making important alterations, which are decided improvements. The front half of the second and third stories has been thrown into one room, by a balustraded opening of eleven by twenty-two feet in the floor,—and a gallery extended around, displaying a new set of book shelves on every side, in the upper division, which will give room for at least five thousand more volumes. This opening adds much to the beauty of the library room, which is also made more open by the removal of the cases for books which formerly stood in the middle of the room.

In the improvement, Rev. Dr. Burroughs, who has been President of the institution for a third of a century, and a Director from its commencement, has taken much interest; and that the Proprietors to all future time may know to whom they are indebted for the source of light which is to illume that pleasant room hereafter we give the following correspondence,—intimating at the same time that this is but a small item of the benefits the Doctor has bestowed upon this institution, which is an ornament to our city and State.

To the Directors of the Portsmouth Athenæum:

GENTLEMEN,—I have taken the liberty to cause a chandelier to be suspended in the Library room of the Athenæum. Should you approve it, and be willing to let it remain in its present position, as the property of our Institution, it will be truly flattering and gratifying to me. Should it not be approved, I shall be very glad to obtain some other that may be preferred.

With great respect, I am, gentlemen, your friend and obedient servant. CHARLES BURROUGHS.

Portsmouth, N. H., Pleasant st., Sept. 4, 1861.

Portsmouth, Sept. 9th, 1861.

REV. AND DEAR SIR,—Upon the receipt of your letter this day, announcing your donation of a beautiful chandelier for the use of the Library of the Portsmouth Athenæum, the Directors instructed me to communicate to you their grateful sense of the liberality which has prompted this donation, and their appreciation for the various exertions and generosity which have from the beginning so greatly distinguished your connection with the Institution; and they have requested me to present to you the following vote, which they have unanimously adopted:—

"Resolved, That the elegant chandelier presented by the Rev. Charles Burroughs, for the use of the Library of the Athenæum, be accepted; and that the sincere thanks of the Directors be presented to him for this new proof of his interest in this institution, the success of which is in so great a measure due to his exertions."

In behalf of the Committee, W. H. ROLLINS, Sec.

To Rev. C. Burroughs, D. D.

The books are being newly arranged, in preparation for a new catalogue, and will be again ready for the use of the proprietors in about three weeks.

CULPABLE NEGLIGENCE SOMEWHERE.—The Census was taken more than a year ago, but not a town in this section of the State yet knows the number of inhabitants it contains. We have made application to the one who took the census, we have applied to the Census department at Washington, and by direction of that department applied to the Clerk of the Court at Exeter—but without any reply to the simple question, What is the population of Portsmouth? The returns are in the hands of the clerk in Exeter, but he says that he has not had time to add the separate returns together. Tired by waiting, some of our citizens are talking of having a city census taken on private account. It is certainly of more consequence for each town to know its own population, on which many matters of public interest are based, than for the nation to know the general aggregate.

If the Clerk needs aid in this matter, our city had better send a delegation to Exeter forthwith.

THE NAVY YARD.—The number of men employed in this Navy Yard at the present time is about 1700. In Charleston Navy Yard, 2000. This force exceeds by 800 men the largest number ever before employed there, and exceeds the force in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

The keels for the two new side-wheel Steamers are laid at our Navy Yard; the one east of the boat-house near the landing, and the other on the ways lately occupied by the Kearsarge, back of the floating dock. They will both be completed in sixty days.

The corvettes Constellation and Portsmouth, and sloop-of-war Saratoga, from the coast of Africa, and the sloop-of-war John Adams, from the East Indies, now on their way home, are reported to have been ordered here. The Constellation is hourly expected.

ELLIOT COUES, son of Samuel E. Coues, Esq. now a resident of Washington, D. C, but still to be considered of this city, we are informed, has recently been elected a corresponding member of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia.—This, at the early age of eighteen years; and on account of contributions to the publications of a Scientific institution second to none in the United States.

This is noted as another instance out of the many, of the successful enterprise of the boys whom old Portsmouth has sent out into the world. We congratulate young Coues and his large circle of friends residing with us. The foundation of Mr. Coues' education was laid at the Haven school of the South end, under Mr. A. M. Hoyt, and at the High school of this city, under Mr. Ismel Kimball.

National Loan!

WE have on hand,

25,000 yds. UNBLEACHED SHEETING, which were bought and paid for before the advance in Cotton. We propose to sell them to our customers, for cash, at from 1 3 to 1 cent per yard LESS than the goods can be bought in New York or Boston at wholesale at the present time.

One-half the proceeds of the sale we will LOAN to the UNITED STATES to help put down rebellion.

500 yards Plain and Fig'd all-wool DELAINES we shall sell at 25 cents.

300 yards Plain THIBETS, at 65c, worth $1.

Other goods in proportion. Call and see.

CASE OF CONSCIENCE.—On the 10th of February last, H. C. Barnes, Esq., had his watch stolen from his office in the Portland Custom House, he having left it in his pocket, on a change of clothes while hurrying to a fire. Every effort to recover it failed, and he never expected to see it again. Monday morning, however, the watch was found appended to the handle of the front door of Mr. James S. Staples, (son-in-law to Mr. B.)

The thief was in an epistolary mood, and accompanied the return of his booty with a note, name up of painted letters, of various sizes, pasted on a sheet of paper—in which he acknowledged the crime, and asked pardon for its commission.—Portland Argus.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you troubled with aches and pains? Have you lost appetite, strength, and energy? Are your spirits depressed? Do you feel that life is a burden? These things may arise from the purest blood in your veins. Your stomach may be out of order, your liver may be torpid, your bowels may be costive, your kidneys may be deranged, and you may be suffering pain in every nerve and fiber of your frame, and still be ignorant that these symptoms do not indicate disease, but only that your blood is impure, and should be purified by a cathartic. Such is the fact with many persons, who, however, may be free from any disease, and who would be astonished to learn that a cathartic would do them good. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the functions move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from all impurities which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is equally true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Corbertight, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR SIR, AYER: I cannot answer you about your complaint. I have cured with your Pills better than to say all their over trust with a purgative medicine. I place great depends done on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with diseases, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 7, 1853.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREDEN, Clerk of Steamer Clarion

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their operating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Diarrhea, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhoea. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among my people. I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Constipation, Costiveness, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, etc.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

The much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the propositor of others that are worse. I believe on frequent investigation in the liver, but your Pills effect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent preventives of the natural sorrow when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the disease and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawks, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be unpardonable for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

PRAIRIE CHAPPEL, Baton Rouge, La., 5 To—, 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SKIDELL.
